MANY UNUSUAL FEATURES

Military Mass on South Common Monday Morning Outstanding Feature

Traditional Memorial Day Parade by War Veterans In Afternoon

Annual Memorial Services at First Congregational Church Sunday Afternoon

Lowell will pause in her busy career tomorrow and Monday to pay tribute to her heroes of the various wars in which this country has participated. Her 1921 Memorial day program will be one of the most elaborate and impressive in years and unless all indications fail the various exercises will be attended by thousands.

Standing out prominently above the various features arranged for the observance will be the military mass for deceased veterans to be held on the South common on Memorial day morning and the traditional Memorial day parade in the afternoon. The military mass will be an innovation in local Memorial day observances, while the parade of G.A.R. veterans with their escort of other military and semi-military organizations is an event which

ANNUAL TITLE GAMES TODAY

East vs. West in Championship Track and Field Events at Cambridge

California Athletes Compete Against All Eastern College Stars

CAMBRIDGE, May 28.—East or West—that was the broad question of the destination of the championship track and field trophy of the Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. that overhung today the final events of the annual title games, and the athletic efforts of a score or more of colleges and several hundred men.

It was California against all the colleges of the east, with the west well entrenched by qualification in the trials of yesterday for assault on the championship title that has not left the east in the 45 years history of the games. Whether any of the eastern colleges could marshal enough points to exceed the

First "Poppy" Day Is Big Success; Lowell People Give Generously In Aid of War Heroes

MISS DOROTHY ALLEN SELLING A POPPY TO MAYOR THOMPSON IN MERRIMACK SQ.

The most striking success in the history of Lowell.

This was the verdict given out this afternoon from the Poppy day headquarters, at the office of Dr. J. T. Donehue, in the Runcles building. Other astounding features of the drive being conducted today and Monday for ill and wounded war veterans, by the local American Legion post and its ladies' auxiliary, included: provided by the committees during the early hours of the day.

The sale of the entire 20,000 poppies

The hurried securing of 20,000 more, which were rushed to the branch headquarters of the campaign, at the office of Joseph M. Dineen in the Bradley building.

The disposal by little Dorothy Allen, of Durant street, of 345 poppies, prior to the noon hour.

"The most wonderful spirit on the part of the Lowell public that has been witnessed here since the days of the great war," according to Mrs. Charles Young, director general of the drive.

One of the first to purchase a scarlet flower was His Honor, Mayor Percy D. Thompson, whose poppy was handed him by little Miss Dorothy Allen directly in front of The Sun building in Merrimack square. Not only did the little girl have the honor of receiving the contribution of the city's

43 VESSELS AND 12 AIR-CRAFT SEEK TUG

WASHINGTON, May 28.—A report from Admiral Rodman, commanding the Pacific fleet of the finding of a pair of navy blue trousers in what appeared to be an abandoned camp near the old Mexican barracks on Guadalupe island, and which, it was thought, might have belonged to one of the men on the missing naval tug Conestoga, was received at the navy department today. The report said the trousers were marked: "H. J. Patterson" but that fleet files failed to show trace of a man by that name.

The search for the Conestoga, which sailed from Mare Island for Pearl Harbor, March 28, and which has not since been heard from, is being carried on by 43 vessels and 12 aircraft.

CURT REPLY TO SUPT. MOLLOY

Charter Commission Defends Its Attitude on School Inspection Methods

Holds Safeguards Against Communicable Diseases Are Wholly Inadequate

A day or two ago Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, took the charter commission to task for the alleged unfairness of an article appearing in the local daily papers in which the medical inspection in the public schools was attacked. Mr. Molloy's statement in criticism of the commission's attitude has been met with the following rebuttal:

The statement of the superintendent of schools taking exception to the viewpoint of the charter commission, relative to the position of director of school hygiene as provided for in the new charter, is interesting and permits a more elaborate explanation on the part of the commission. The imputation of a lack of "fairness and truth" is, however, a little unwarranted. The assertion that the article as presented by the commission is an "imaginary composition" and "absurd" is the characteristic reference usually supplied by the trained educator, to the judgment of the ordinary layman who

"Pipe" Beats Cigaret in Golf

NEW YORK, May 28.—When the pipe is pitted against the cigaret in golf, the pipe wins. This explanation for the defeat of the American amateurs in the British title tournament this week, was offered by a veteran Scotch professional. "The temperament that goes with the pipe will always win over the cigaret of the average young American golfer. Let our boys cultivate the pipe and there will be a different story the next time the Americans cross the water," he declared.

Delivers U. S. Note To Mexico

MEXICO CITY, May 28.—George T. Summerlin, American charge d'affaires in this city, had a conference with President Obregon last night and it is said he handed to the president a memorandum from the state department in Washington. No official statement was made regarding the meeting which was described as "extremely cordial." The memorandum brought to this city by Mr. Summerlin upon his return from Washington was said to be in no sense an ultimatum which called upon Mexico to sign a treaty or protocol, as a condition to recognition. It was also asserted that it was not an embodiment of the report on Mexico submitted by Albert B. Fall, present secretary of the interior, which was submitted to the United States senate while Mr. Fall was a member of that body.

Bishop Lawrence to Take Complete Rest

BOSTON, May 28.—Bishop William Lawrence of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts announced today his withdrawal from official duties until the last of October. Failure to fully recover his strength after two major operations about two years ago and his need for a complete rest, were given as the reason in a letter sent to all the clergy in the diocese. Bishop Lawrence will be 71 years of age on Memorial Day. For the next few weeks, the affairs of the church will be conducted by Suffragan Bishop Samuel G. Babcock. He will sail for Europe on June 20 and thereafter the office will be taken over by the Rev. John McG. Foster, rector of the Church of the Messiah and president of the standing committee of the diocese.

Local Wrestler Stages Wrestling Bouts in C. M. A. C. Hall—Big Crowd

Some of the best local wrestlers gathered at the C. M. A. C. hall last evening for a wrestling bout for the benefit of the new St. Joseph's chapel in Pawtucketville. The affair had been organized by Fred Beauchamp, a local wrestler of wide reputation, who spared neither time nor effort to make the event a successful one, and the result obtained was very commendable for the exhibition was one of the best given in this city in a long time, while the receipts of the evening were very substantial. There were over 400 people present. Referee Gullbault, who also acted the part of announcer, addressed the gathering briefly in the early evening, thanking the wrestlers for their co-operation and those present for their encouragement.

The first match was between Gagne and Letourneau, and a draw was declared after fifteen minutes. Then Beauchamp and Etienne made their appearance and they were given a great reception. This match was to be the best two out of three falls in 30 minutes. The result was but one fall and that was credited to Beauchamp after 23 minutes of hard work. Johnson and Chakonian were next on the program and they wrestled 30 minutes without securing a fall. Harrel and Lavasseur, who were also booked for a 20-minute match, failed to put in an appearance.

Between the events Edward Ayotta gave an exhibition of clog dancing, while other entertainment numbers were given by local talent. The time for the wrestling was M. Ledoux.

drills. Co. E, commanded by Capt. Allan McKenzie, a picture of which appeared in last evening's Sun, won the blue pennant, signifying first prize.

In the company competition, Co. A, Capt. Ernest T. Anderson, commanding, took the second prize, or red pennant, and the purple pennant for the best appearing company on parade was won by Co. D, Capt. George E. Gagan.

Capt. Raymond E. Donovan was awarded a sword for the appearance of his unit, Co. E, in the Butts' manual drill.

The afternoon's program at Spalding park opened with the salute to the colors, always a pretty and impressive feature. The Lowell Cadet band played "The Star Spangled Banner," while a color guard raised the American flag and everybody stood at attention. The various companies of the boys' regiment and the girls' battalions, together with the freshman boys, were arranged about the field in a most symmetrical manner. Great applause followed the completion of this opening number.

Then came the company competitive drill which was followed by the sophomore girls in their pretty willow wand drill. Accompanied by the band, this feature was exceptionally pretty.

The freshman boys then demonstrated a series of physical culture features in which spectacular pyramid building stood out prominently. Their formation of the words: "Lowell high school" was most efficiently executed and brought forth an ovation.

The competitive drill brought out a field of 15 contestants but this was gradually narrowed down until the two prize winners were finally chosen.

An aesthetic dance by the freshman girls was another pretty number and the freshman boys in their gymnastic marching number presented a decided novelty. Next came Butts' manual by the boys' regiment and this time hoared number was gone through with snap and precision. The junior girls in their Indian club number also indicated military discipline by their perfect execution of their exercises.

This was followed by the exhibition march of the girl officers in which floral bouquets were presented to practically every young woman in uniform.

Association Stands Pat on Position That Wages Must Be Cut 15 P. C.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The American Steamship Owners' association stands pat on its position that marine wages must be cut 15 per cent and that it will sign no agreements with sea-going unions.

This statement was made today by officials of the association after it had been announced in Washington that Chairman Benson of the shipping board and representatives of the marine engineers had reached an agreement over the reduction of wages involved in the nation-wide strike and that Secretary of Labor Davis was hoping to get the owners to participate in the agreement.

Winthrop L. Marvin, general manager of the association, withheld detailed comment, pending receipt of the actual terms of the proposed settlement.

"There will be no change in the attitude of the association as to the termination of the strike," he declared.

A general meeting of the membership has been called for Tuesday afternoon.

At the office of the Atlantic coast conference of the Engineers' association it was said the committee which conferred with Admiral Benson had no authority to effect a final settlement.

"This committee can only report back to the unions at a meeting called for tomorrow afternoon," one of the union leaders said. "A settlement if any, is effected, must come from a vote of the men."

RECEPTION TO LADIES' BURNSIDE CLUB

The home of Mrs. Harriet Ready in Lilley avenue was last evening the scene of a pretty gathering, the occasion being a reception to the members of the Ladies' Burnside club given by Mrs. Ready. Most of the members of the organization were in attendance and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

The house, which had been prettily decorated by Mrs. Mary Smith, presented a very attractive appearance, the predominant colors being green and white. In the early part of the evening a buffet luncheon was served and later pleasing entertainment numbers were given, those participating being Mrs. Winnie Ready, Miss Marquis, Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Harriet Ready. Assisting the hostess in receiving the guests was Miss Margaret Ready.

NO ARREST YET IN RUM-RUNNING CASE

The arrest prophesied for yesterday by members of the police department, in connection with the locally famed rum-running case, had failed to materialize up to noon today, although it had been confidently predicted that a culprit would be taken into custody yesterday. Federal Officer McCarthy had to have visited Lowell recently in connection with the mysterious circumstances of the affair, which included the strange disappearance of a cousin on Willow street while hotly chased by liquor officers, has not seen any action in the matter as far as is known.

Word has been received to the effect that the body of the John H. Baker of Battery B, who died in France, is on its way and is expected to arrive in New York this week. BURGLAR ALARM IN ROLE OF JOKER

Burglars! The evening promenaders on Merrimack street last night stopped and gave an excited ear, as the clang of a burglar alarm came from the rear of the Merrimack store, about 8 o'clock. Lowellites, already fed up with reports of hold-ups and breaks, exclaimed "Another one!" and waited to see whether the culprits would get away, as they have done before. But it was all a practical joke, not of an individual, but of a burglar alarm. For burglar alarms are the greatest little practical jokes on earth. Their delicate mechanical adjustment has before now created scares in crowded business sections. It turned out that what was needed was not the police themselves, laden with officers armed to the teeth with shooting-irons, but a good electrician armed with—well, whatever a good electrician is armed with. One was secured, and the sinister clanging ceased.

CARUSO SAILS FOR HOMELAND

NEW YORK, May 28.—Enrico Caruso, showing traces of his long and serious illness, today boarded the steamer Presidents Wilson, bound for Italy, his homeland.

Extra guards were thrown about the pier to prevent the thousands of his admirers from delaying his party in going aboard. Flowers, sent by hundreds of friends, adorned the seven rooms that make up his suite aboard the vessel, and many telegrams and messages, wishing him a speedy return to health, were received.

First Poppy Day

chief executive, but it was reported by Mrs. Young that up to a late hour this afternoon she had gained the laurel for the greatest number of sales and contributions. She turned in her first donation being a box of silver poppies, an early hour of 8.45 a. m. Her return to her self-imposed task, she visited the Runda building headquarters again at 10.30 a. m., her supply of poppies exhausted, and another box filled to overflowing with poppies, was brought to the drive committee her third full contribution box, and had made a record of 345 poppies sold, or in other words, one-fifth of the entire 20,000 blossoms being sold by 250 young girls of the city.

"The attitude of the people of this city is wonderful," declared Mrs. Young, pausing from her fevered activities of the headquarters corps this afternoon. "I was able to get out on the streets for a few moments this morning, and I have never seen so many poppies, and I have never been so well received by the public in the eagerness with which they bought poppies and presented their contributions."

"I haven't been trying to sell poppies today," said one worker trying to provide poppies for the people who are trying to buy them. "The same story was on the lips of every 'poppy girl' interviewed during the day. As fast as the workers could obtain fresh baskets of the flowers, they were kept busy passing them out to those who wished to purchase. It was no unusual sight to see several people waiting on the street at the side of some little white-clad flower girl, watching for their turn to buy."

Police headquarters were visited before the opening of the police court session by a fair-haired little lass, who had disposed of her stock within the space of a few minutes. The office of Deputy Downey was visited, and the deputy was one of the first to pin a poppy to his blue uniform coat. Chief of Police Welch, together with Lieut. Ward, the sergeants, inspectors, and officers, received poppies, and bought poppies. The clerk of court's office welcomed the little girl as an honored guest, and every member of the police court staff, together with all the lawyers who were present for the trial of cases, were eager customers, as were those who occupied the spectators and witnesses benches in the courtroom. At each hall every public official and all the municipal employees were wearing the red flowers at an early hour, while the dresses of women, and the coat lapels of men exhibited the blossoms on the streets. But one was not enough for most people. They bought again and again.

The First Donation

The honor of coming across with the first donation towards the success of the "Poppy Days" went to the B. F. Butler relief corps, when that body earlier in the week forwarded to the committee a preliminary contribution of $5. The spirit of this gift, with its desire to hold the premier place in aiding the worthy cause of the war veterans, is noted.

SPEED

Automobiles nowadays are not built for speed. Service is what the manufacturer seeks to sell in his products, and service is what the automobile owner wants. Speed, above the normal rate, puts a strain on the car that lowers its efficiency and reduces its serviceability. The car that is run in spurts of excessive speed spends about as much time in repair as in service. To keep in service an even, reasonable rate of speed must be maintained. Time may be gained by "stepping on her" on long, straight stretches, but the danger of being stopped by some accident is increased so that the fellow going at an even rate of speed may get there first.

Now that they got pretty near enough these-ates I suppose they'll go to build in some homes. It's as hard to make an old dog forget old tricks as it is to teach him new ones.

TEST TUNNEL FOR AIR

Ventilation is the big problem of engineers planning the Hudson river vehicular tunnel at New York. They are making tests on a model at the University of Illinois, to learn how best to draw out the exhaust gases and pump in fresh air.

STRICT AGAINST GLARE

New York motorists driving into Connecticut are turned back if they have not the proper devices against glaring headlights. Inspectors are on duty every night on the Boston post road, not far from the New York line.

Boy Scouts recently governed the city of Chicago for one hour, every city official being replaced by a scout. The arrangement was made as part of a membership and financial campaign for the scouts.

FIRE WARNINGS

Play Safe to Keep the Car in Service

Fire hydrants and clanging firebells should be safety warnings to cautious motorists.

Keep away from fire hydrants. Not only because it's against the law to park close to them. In case of fire nearby, a car too near a hydrant must be moved and the firemen are not slow or careful about it either. Locked cars, pushed away in a hurry, are in danger of injury.

Firebells heard while driving are a warning to move to the right immediately and stop. Never look to see which way the fire trucks are coming. Stop immediately and there will be no accident.

Even when there is no ordinance against parking in narrow streets, it would be safer for auto drivers not to park there. Fire routes are usually not through narrow streets but anything might happen to force fire trucks to take such streets. And a fast moving engine in a narrow street puts the cars curbed alongside in danger of destruction.

A wrestler on the Pacific coast recently killed with his bare hands a man he found riding a bureau drawer in his San Francisco home.

ROAD CONDITIONS

Reports for Tourists On Lincoln Highway Stretch

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., May 28.—Tourists driving along the Lincoln highway between North Platte and Omaha, Neb., will learn beforehand whether the road is safe to travel. The Grand Island automobile club will furnish them with reports of weather and other conditions along the highway.

At various points along the 233-mile stretch between Omaha and North Platte reports will be turned in to the local telephone exchanges. They will report weather and road conditions and information on detours along the way. The reports will be made before 8 o'clock each morning.

Each of these Lincoln highway centres will convey the information to Grand Island. From there all the collected material will be sent east and west along the highway so that tourists at every point will know road conditions before they start in the morning.

WEEKLY MOTOR NOTES

Gasoline is Getting Better—Supply Greater and Prices Are Lower

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Gasoline is better this year than it was last, and there's more of it, in spite of the fact that its price has been going down and its use has been increasing.

These facts have been brought out by the investigations made by the United States bureau of mines.

From samples of gasoline in Pittsburgh, San Francisco, New York and Washington, the bureau found that fuel was more volatile this year than it was last July. The average boiling point last summer was between 270 and 275 degrees. Now, the bureau finds, it is between 245 and 270 degrees.

Greater Supply While consumption of gasoline increased 450,000,000 gallons last year over that of 1919, production of this fuel was 626,000,000 gallons above that of the year before.

There is no fear of shortage either, says the bureau of mines. In fact, the United States geological survey comes along with the report that, at present rate of consumption, the world's supply of crude oil could supply the United States market for 144 years. The world's deposits of oil are more than 65,000,000,000 barrels. Consumption in the United States in 1920 was 437,570,000 barrels.

No Higher Prices Seen No increase of prices in the fuel field is likely, say officials of the national automobile chamber of commerce. The supply has so far exceeded the demand that many refineries have had to shut down for lack of business.

In spite of this, gasoline supply continues far ahead of last year's. Latest figures for this year show 10,073,609 gallons of gasoline were produced last February as against a production in February, 1920, of 9,726,935 gallons.

How Gas Supply Exceeds Demand

How the production of gasoline in the United States has been keeping ahead of its consumption, is shown as follows:

1917—Gal. supplied, 2,350,546,423; gal. used, 2,624,701,251; excess supply over demand, 144,157,823.

1918—Gal. supplied, 3,370,312,352; gal. used, 3,635,242,813; excess supply over demand, 114,929,459.

1919—Gal. supplied 3,657,357,097; gal. used, 3,808,390,640; excess supply over demand, 149,066,448.

1920—Gal. supplied, 4,852,546,639; gal. used, 4,256,428,095; excess supply over demand, 626,118,544.

Here Comes the Bride! Suggestions for Girl Planning Her Wedding

WHITE SATIN FOR THE ONE GOWN

Sometimes if her veil and train are especially long and there is dignity about the line of her gown, she carries a white leather prayer book and affects the coronet type of headdress.

RIBBON-FLOWERS FOR HER HAT

There must be at least one small, smart hat adorned with bits from the ribbon-flower garden. This is a Peggy Hoyt.

NOVEL HEADDRESS FOR BRIDE

Sprays of flowers loosely twined in the hair with the veil held at the back is an effective fancy of the moment.

LITTLE LIGHTHOUSES FOR THE BLIND

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 23.—When the little bride tucks away her honeymoon memories with her wedding clothes and gets down to the serious business of housekeeping, she finds herself confronted with a real job. She's got to keep her eyes open every minute, as the saying is, in order to keep the wheels of her ménage running smoothly.

But suppose she didn't have any eyes—suppose she were totally blind—what sort of a housekeeper do you think she would make?

"Just as good as if she could see," says Mrs. Charles Lyons of 611 Tenth avenue, New York city. Mrs. Lyons has been blind since infancy, but no one could find any fault with her housekeeping. In fact, she is known as a perfect housekeeper and the sighted folk of the neighborhood often come to her to find out sundry little household secrets.

The little hat where she and her blind husband live, is always in apple-pie order. Not only does Mrs. Lyons do her marketing, but the meals she prepares are gastronomic joys. She does all the washing and ironing and mending.

"I used to give out my husband's shirts," she will tell you, "but the laundry didn't do them to suit me, and so I do them myself. I like things just so."

Mrs. Lyons is a modern woman in every respect. Her mornings are devoted to her home, but in the afternoon she helps her husband sell papers on a street corner in New York which has known them every day, rain or shine, for the past two years. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons, although both totally blind, are completely self-supporting and almost independent of the aid of sighted people.

It isn't difficult to get along without eyes, Mr. and Mrs. Lyons have found out. "It doesn't bother me at all. I know where everything is in my home and I have my household work so systematized that it has become purely

What Miss Marion Tiffany Will Wear at Her June Wedding

MISS MARION TIFFANY (ABOVE), AND BELOW, HER CALLOT WEDDING GOWN AND THE BENDED MODEL USED FOR THE GOWNS OF HER SIX BRIDESMAIDS. MISS TIFFANY'S WEDDING TO MARTIN SAPOORTAS WILL TAKE PLACE IN JUNE.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Miss Marion Tiffany will become the bride of Martin B. Saportas, at half after four o'clock on the afternoon of June the first. The wedding will take place at the home of Mrs. Louis Noel, New York city.

Miss Tiffany, who is the daughter of Perry Tiffany and whose mother is Mrs. Henry Fletcher Godfrey, will wear a Callot gown, done in satin with embroidered net and pearls. Her veil, which will sweep the floor full six feet, is of tulle. Her flowers will be a shower bouquet of orange blossoms and lilacs of the valley.

Mrs. George Tilton, only sister of the bride, will be the matron of honor, the six bridesmaids will be Mrs. Shanna Neary, Mrs. S. Stokes, Jr., Miss A. Hoffman, Miss G. Glendon, Miss F. Alexandre and Miss M. Shroter.

The six maids will wear Bended gowns simply cut and of similar material. Their color scheme will be pink and yellow and their medium taffeta and lace.

The intimate garments of the bride's trousseau are of the sheerest handkerchief linen and it is said that for her traveling gown she has selected one of her favorites which she has worn for a season.

Saportas is the son of Mrs. R. Brown Saportas.

SUIT IS PLAIN

Her suit must be plain and depend upon line and material for its elegance as does this designed for Sally Stegman. Paramount star.

"I use the gas stove with as much ease as any sighted person," Mrs. Lyons has made a success not only of housekeeping, but of matrimony also.

"I had several chances to marry sighted men," she remarked, "but I chose Charlie because I felt there would be a deeper understanding between us. And then—and she smiled, "he won't be able to see me get old and wrinkled. And I've never regretted my choice either."

Mr. and Mrs. Lyons were "set up" in business through the New York Association for the Blind which has come into contact with many thousands of blind persons since its organization 15 years ago. Through its four colonies, The Lighthouse, an industrial school for the adult blind, the Bourne workshop for men, the boarding house for shop men and the River Light-house, the playground of the blind at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, the New York association has broadened the lives of thousands of blind.

To extend its work in America, France and Italy, the committee on Lighthouses for the Blind, formed by Miss Winifred Holt, who is also the founder of the entire work among the blind, is now engaged in a campaign to raise $2,000,000. President Harding is honorary treasurer. Franklin D. Roosevelt is chairman. Checks should be sent to Lewis L. Clarke, treasurer of the committee, at the Lighthouse, 111 East Fifty-ninth st., New York.

OLD GLOVES

If you have a bent for making things out of your old kid gloves you can fashion some of the most up-to-date trimming. Take the parts which are not worn and cut them in the desired shape to use as applique on either dress or hat.

THIS GIRL WILL NOT BE BLUFFED

MISS NELLIE T. HOLT

SQUARE BUTTE, Mont., May 23.—"Quit? Not I," declares Miss Nellie T. Holt.

She filed a claim last year and built a two room house. Only the well was left on the place when she returned this spring after spending the winter here, editing her paper.

Neighbors could not explain the disappearance of the house. Miss Holt believes cattle interests opposed to her encroaching on grazing land removed it.

"I'll show 'em," she said, as she started to build another house.

GIRLS' CLUB NEW HOME

Beautifully appointed rooms have been secured as the new home of the Girls' City club, at the Merrimack gardens, and these will be ready for occupancy June 1. "Moving day" is every day at present at the old headquarters on the top floor of the Bunels building. The new quarters, which have been elaborately decorated, will remain as the permanent local home of the organization.

BEADING

TAM-O-SHANTER

With the flapper, tam-o-shanter are again finding favor. They are of wool, oil cloth, taffia and occasionally of straw or leather.

TROUSERS ARE NEW AND SMART

The velvet jacket with puffy silken trousers is clever. And for the girl who loves the subtle draperies, there is georgette made with a square overdrape. Martha Mansfield, Solznick, originated the fashion; Leatrice Joy, Goldwyn, posed for the gown.

SIMPLE LINGERIE

Her lingerie should be simply itself, if she would achieve that sought-for air of elegance.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

The White-Topped Egg Secret—Menus By Sister Mary

Mary

To make white-topped poached eggs is a simple trick. Just put a cover on the pan:

The steam cooks the film of white over the yolk and makes the eggs most attractive to look at as well as eat.

The cover should fit tightly enough to prevent escape of the steam.

Menu for Tomorrow

BREAKFAST—Strawberries with uncooked oatmeal, poached eggs, hot buttered toast, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Fried potatoes, creamed tuna fish, ginger bread, sandwiches, tea.

My Own Recipes

Old-fashioned fried potatoes make a welcome change in the luncheon menu. Plain boiled potatoes sliced into thin fryings, salt and pepper are the ingredients required. But stirring them so the potatoes won't be burned, but will be nicely browned is the secret of the popularity of the dish.

Ginger Bread Sandwiches
One-half cup sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 cup boiling water, 2 eggs.

Soften butter. Mix sugar, molasses and butter. Add flour and spices. Mix thoroughly. Add boiling water with soda dissolved in it. Add eggs well beaten. Bake in a loaf.

Filling
Two packages Neufchatel cheese 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts, 1/4 cup chopped dates, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon cream, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Mix ingredients to a smooth paste. More cream may be needed. Cut cool ginger bread into slices, 1/4 inch thick. Spread with filling and cover with another slice of ginger bread.

PROCEDURE
For the home wedding the party must be small, but the order of procedure is the same whether the party be one of few or many people.

The flower girl, if there is one, comes first, then the bridesmaids in pairs, the maid of honor alone and then the bride on the arm of her father or her nearest relative.

The bridegroom with the best man should have entered from the side and should be waiting at the altar for the bride and her party.

The father waits to give the bride away, and then returns to his place beside his wife, which will be in a section near the front which has been ribboned off for the families. The bride should be at the right of the bridegroom so the matter of slipping the wedding ring on will not be difficult.

When the ceremony is over, if the wedding is a home affair, the bridal couple will turn toward the guests and congratulations will begin.

ORNAMENTATION

Tunics and panels are found in great numbers on the new fall suits and they are following any line they fancy for the moment.

GREEN

In London there is a vogue for green for street and evening wear. For dress one invariably finds net with chantilly tied to match and put over a base of pink or ivory satin. Bodices which cross from the shoulders are worn most.

USE BRUSH

A small stiff brush is a good thing for the woman who travels or lives where she must use wash bowls and bath tubs which other folks use. With it the inside of the bowl or tub can be washed out before using.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Signor Frisco's Phenomenal Demonstration at Keith's Next Week—Two Performances Tomorrow
Margaret Young, the Intimable Detroitian, will be retained for the two performances at the B. F. Keith theatre tomorrow, and she will give some new song numbers which have never been sung outside of New York. Sully & Houghton will also be on the bill with new comedy and music. Others for the day will be Marshall Montgomery, ventriloquist; Shriner & Fitzsimmons, in comedy, and Frank & Mill Britton in their new musical act. Other acts for the day are Mack & James, and Douglas & Leary.
Signor Frisco, who will be next week's headliner, announces that he will entertain a bit. As a matter of fact he is a xylophonist, and the first player on this instrument to use four hammers, which is very much the same as if he were a violinist and used two bows. The xylophone to Signor Frisco is a very important instrument and he has made its study a life work with him. He has an engaging personality, a sense of humor and undoubted musical genius.
Emmet Gilfoil and Elsie Lange in a potpourri of unique specialties are comedies in the theatrical world. Until Anna Held inherited her mother's fortune and retired from the stage, Emmet Gilfoil was her partner. Then he became a second Paris and went in quest of a beautiful woman for his new partner, and he found her in Elsie Lange. The setting of their act is quite the most pretentious seen in a long time. In addition Gilfoil and Lange are really very clever performers. "Why Be Serious?" is Will Mahoney's act for the week. Mahoney is a monologist and each word of his patter is a stepping stone to laughter. Mahoney has a slogan to the effect that first come the smiles, then the chuckles and after them the laughter. He works progressively.

Will Holmes and Iva Holliston engage in town and country repartee. Holliston is the countryman, and Miss Holmes is the woman from the city. They produce some sizzling talk, that is alive with laughter. Bobby Adams and Jewell Barnett are girls who sing and play and have some sprightly chatter. Their act is called "Personality Plus." The Three Kervilles, who are labelled as trick billiardists, really do a lot more. They juggle, cyn and skate. A man and two pleasing women constitute the trio. A dancing act that is a whirl from start to finish is given by George and May Lafevre, and they call their offering "At the Bal Masque."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Dorothy Dalton in "The Idol of the North," Big Feature For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.
The best productions, featuring the best stars and presented at merely nominal prices, have long been the chief ingredients in the success of the Merrimack Square theatre as a playhouse. Thousands of Lowell people have become accustomed to expecting the best at all times at this theatre and rarely have they been disappointed.

The Sunday features will include House Peters in "Silk Husbands and Calico Wives," and Mary MacLaren in "Her Five Foot Highness." The usual excellent surrounding program will also be carried out.
For the holiday program on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the outstanding attractions will be "The Idol of the North," starring capable Dorothy Dalton and Lois Weber in "Too Wise Wives." A third feature will be Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck," one of his most successful comedies.
Dorothy Dalton is back again in the role of a daughter of the great Canadian northwest, a similar character to that in which she made such a success in "The Flame of the Yukon" several years ago. It was in such a role as Siee in "The Idol of the North," J. Clarkson Miller's story that Miss Dalton gained her reputation as a screen star.
Miss Dalton plays Colette Brissac, daughter of a French Canadian miner, who fled to the wilderness to escape arrest for having killed a man. She is left without father and mother, in a mining town built up over night and obtains a position in the Aurora Hotel, a saloon and dance hall of the town. She soon becomes one of the biggest drawing cards of the saloon and plays unerringly with the miners, "trimming" them for all they are worth, but still remaining the most desired of all the girls.

In the dance hall she meets Martin Bates, a young engineer who has come from New York after a series of financial difficulties, and who fast becomes a worthless drunkard. In order to get even with the way she has treated Bates, the miners force her to marry him. After the first shock Colette decides to make the best of it and determines to make a man of him. After many incidents of dramatic interest she succeeds not only in regenerating Bates but also in winning his love.
"Too Wise Wives," the Lois Weber production, which is the second feature of the bill, will surely create a highly favorable impression. The story treats of a woman who marries because of her need of money. Her old sweetheart wed because he is plucked at her desertion. His old flame, after her marriage, makes covert advances to her former sweetheart and the latter, although happily married, narrowly misses being caught in the trap she sets for him.
The play is staged in superb settings. The marble home of a New York millionaire on the Pacific coast was used, and gowns direct from the best Parisian modistes are worn by the stars.
"Hard Luck," the Buster Keaton comedy, is the third and most amusing feature of the bill. There's no use attempting to describe the antics of the inimitable Buster here; you'll have to see him to appreciate him. The Inter-national News will round out the bill.

THE RIALTO THEATRE

"Straight From Paris" With Clara Kimball Young Starring Opens Engagement at The Rialto
That Clara Kimball Young is a screen actress whose art attains new heights with each successive vehicle, instead of exhausting her versatility—a fact that is sadly true of so many motion picture stars—is brought home with telling force in her latest six-reel production, "Straight From Paris," which opens a three day engagement at the Rialto theatre next Monday afternoon. The story, one of a double feature program, is from the pen of Sada Cowan and is directed by Harry S. Cowan, both of whom take their stories out of real flesh and blood experience of married life. This production is reported to be among the best of the present season and will undoubtedly draw hundreds of admirers of Clara Kimball Young to witness its release here.
The second feature on the Rialto program for the three opening days of the week is the Buster Keaton comedy, "Hard Luck." Enough is known of this well known comedian to warrant a first class production, and suffice it to say that "Hard Luck" takes no second place in his series of comedies. The week opening program includes a continuation of "The Son of Tarzan" and the Fox news. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Rialto has Ward Hawley in "Her First Elopement," also a five-reel western picture, "Fighting Bill," with William Fairbanks in the leading role, a comedy "Torchy's Knees," and the latest episode of "Fighting Fate."
As the title indicates "Straight From Paris" presents Parisian life in all its splendor and gaiety. Naturally the scenes in which the action is laid, must smack of the native soil, and to give the spectator an idea of French life the director had to go to the French capital for his "local color." How a working girl marries a millionaire and gets away with it is the theme of the story and Clara Kimball Young lives up to the part in true style.
For Sunday the Rialto has Shirley

OPERA HOUSE

"Honors Are Even"—New Rot Cooper Megruo comedy at the Opera House. Last Three Days of Coming Week. Coming to the Opera House next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the

a war play by the same author. After that he formed a partnership with Thomas Wise and the two were extremely popular and successful in "Honor's First," "General Post" and "Cap by Hike." In "Honors Are Even" Mr. Courtenay takes the part of a play-wright who is a confirmed bachelor and glories in it. He meets a pretty, pampered daughter of a very rich steel man. She fancies him and despite his protestations to the contrary, he, too, is a bit touched. The two have many a battle of wits and strategy and in the end, as the author says, honors are even. The suave, polished manner of William Courtenay is admirably suited to the role and his warm, lovable personality adds much to the author's conception. Mr. Megruo, the author, and Mr. Courtenay are close personal friends, and many claim that the role is based on Megruo's own life story. Whether that be true or not, Mr. Courtenay has a wonderful conception of the part and makes it extremely live and interesting. Courtenay was born in Worcester, Mass., was educated at Holy Cross college, and ran away to join a Portland, Me., stock company. His success on the stage was remarkable from the beginning. After a very short experience he was engaged by Richard Mansfield and was for many seasons a member of that famous actor's organization. From him Courtenay acquired the poise and polish which has been the secret of his success. He has been, probably, the most sought after leading man on the American stage, having supported, prior to his own stellar days, such stars as Doris Keane, Virginia Harned, Clara Bloodgood and others.

THE STRAND

Wonderful Pictures and Interesting Stories at The Strand Next Week—Special Attractions for Sunday

A genuine motion picture treat is in store for the patrons of The Strand for the coming week. Film offerings of big size, magnitude, and stories that have made striking successes on all sides, are included in the programs which General Manager Soriero has arranged for this week. During the first three days of the week the big Metro special, "Coincidence," with the late Robert Harrow, the one-time Griffith star, in the leading role, and Pauline Frederick, the emotional queen of the screen, in "The Mistress of Shenstone," will head the bill, beginning with a matinee on Monday afternoon. To say nothing of the added attraction of Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck." For the last three days, starting with the matinee performance on Thursday, Alice Joyce, in the big Frohman stage success, "Cousin Kate," in which Richard Barrymore starred, and Harry Carey in "If Only Jim" will be featured. As a special attraction at the Sunday concert, Charles Barton, who played a successful stock season at the Opera House, will give one of his entertaining offerings. He will be assisted by Paul Angelo, pianist. The other usual big time vaudeville acts and an entire change of motion pictures will also be offered on the bill.

The showing in "Coincidence," with Robert Harrow as the star, recalls to mind the tragic death of this popular and clever screen favorite, one whom Griffith selected from many as a star in some of his big productions. His death was said to be the result of an accidental shooting, at the time "Coincidence" was in the making. It was the last picture in which this film star appeared. The picture story is a live, real, and thrilling tale of a young man through "on high" from beginning to end. June Walker assisted Mr. Harrow in the leading female role. Friday, the story of "The Mistress of Shenstone," Miss Pauline Frederick's newest screen creation, the star engaged in her third matrimonial venture, so it is said. Barely, indeed, does the public have an opportunity of witnessing a screen production for removed from all that is sordid and repulsive, and yet one which touches upon every shade of human emotion. In "The Mistress of Shenstone" such a production is presented. The star with all the art at her command, invests the character of Lady Ingelby, with sympathy, strength, and character and humaneness, which even the power of the written word failed to convey. Her work is said to be a revelation and a masterpiece. Don't miss seeing the play and the player.

The third feature on the bill for the bill for the first week of the week is one of those delightful and happy Buster Keaton comedies, called "Hard Luck" in which the star is seen in some of his funniest stunts.

MCDONALD ESTATE VALUED AT $102,341

It is announced that the estate of Thomas J. McDonald has been appraised in New York city as being worth $102,341. The estate is left to Mary E. McDonald, widow of the deceased.

Mr. McDonald had been identified with the grain business in Lowell for many years previous to his death. He had been a director of the Western National bank and also a member of the Highland club. His residence was at 520 Broadway.

CHARLES BARTON AT STRAND
The feature number on the bill at The Strand for Sunday will be Charles Barton, recently with the Lowell Players, and one of Lowell's biggest favorites. In a novelty of his own, he will be assisted by Paul Angelo, pianist. The rest of the program will be made up with big-time vaudeville acts and entire change of motion pictures.

DIEMORIAL DAY IN TYNGSBORO

encouraged the workers, and it was requested that publicity be accorded the incident. The Sun was able, on the same day, to announce that Dr. John T. Donohue had turned over the use of his private office in the Runkels building as a general headquarters for the drive, during the three days from May 23 to May 26. The committee voted to accept Dr. Donohue's offer, and sent their thanks to him. The Runkels building was decided upon as the center of activities, although through the generosity of other local men branch headquarters were secured in various parts of the business section.

It was announced that Flanders poppies would be planted around city hall and at Fort Hill park, by the park department. But it was found impossible to carry this design into effect during the drive, and at Fort Hill the usual bedding plants are replacing the tulip bulbs, and at city hall, although no poppies have been put in place, the building is elaborately decorated with flags and bunting of the national colors, which cover the entire front of the structure, and make an effective vista from Merrimack street.

The formalities of the affair, which municipal ordinances require, were quickly transacted several days ago, when Mayor Perry D. Thompson announced that the official permit to sell the poppies on the streets of Lowell today and Monday would be granted. A conference at city hall preceded this statement of his honor, and it was agreed that a flower day enterprise was nothing less than a vital duty. In order that Lowell veterans in hospitals or with families in needy circumstances due to economic stress and abnormal employment situation might receive at least a small part of the aid which their country owes them for their self-sacrifice and patriotism. The local post was represented by John J. Walsh, Charles Devno, Stephen C. Garrity, Arthur Turcotte, and Joseph M. Dineen. The ladies auxiliary had as its representatives Mrs. Charles Young, chairman of the Poppy Day committee; Mrs. Edward M. McDermott; Mrs. T. Brick; Mrs. W. H. Merrill; Mrs. George Robbins; Mrs. Thomas Lee, and Mrs. Paul T. Kirtledge.

The Purpose of Drive

The purpose of the drive was stated as follows: "The Lowell public has been asked very often to aid people who do not live here, and who will never live here. The objects in the past have all been very worthy, but let us do something for once, for the boys who went out of this city and who are now in hospitals, or who are ill, or whose families need attention. It is a poor kind of charity that doesn't look after the home folks once in a while, and we have not right to the point where we must do something for them. The money that will be collected from the sale of poppies on Saturday, May 28, and Monday, May 30, will all go to the treasurer of a local bank, and from time to time as we need it, it will be used to help the boys in hospitals, who need help. They are in local hospitals; they are at Groton, they are in other places. We need the money very badly, for our funds are wholly depleted, and it will be impossible to help the veterans unless something is done."

Twenty thousand of the red flowers, manufactured in French factories, and exact replicas of the actual blossoms which grow over the graves of dead American heroes in Flanders, were received at the Bradley Building office of Joseph M. Dineen, of the committee, and arrangements for distribution to the 250 young women volunteers at once got under way.

Several meetings of the committee of both legion and auxiliary were held, at which plans were perfected, boxes for the reception of donations were secured, and team captains were appointed.

Contract Street Work

placed in circulation. Up to noon today about 50 of these had been returned, more or less completely filled with names. Each petition contains blanks for 50 signatures. If every blank on the returned petitions has been filled a total of 5500 signatures has been accumulated. About 3000 signatures are necessary to compel the council to act on the order forbidding the construction or reconstruction of streets otherwise than by contractors.

Not All Filled

It is stated, however, that not all of the blanks are completely filled, and it is expected that some of the names will fail to pass muster when they get before the election board. The work of comparing the signatures with corresponding names on the voting lists was going on in the chamber's rooms today. The latest voting list available is that for 1920. As this does not contain a complete roster of voters for the present year it is impossible to ascertain definitely whether the names of some of the signers can be counted as part of the required 3000.

It is announced that the number of names found thus far of voters who have failed to sign their names exactly as they are carried on the voting lists has been comparatively small. No attempt is to be made at the present time to have those who have signed incorrectly furnish proper signatures, as it is believed that an abundance of correct names will be attached to the petitions to get the measure before the council.

No Letting-up

The officials of the chamber are anxious that the impression should not get abroad that the time has yet come for letting-up in the drive for petition signatures. They feel that it is desirable to have an ample reserve of names to allow for any possible action of the election commissioners in throwing out signatures. It is also believed that the moral effect of widely signed petitions is worth considering.

When the drive for names will end is uncertain. The board of directors of the chamber is to meet next Wednesday at noon. It is thought probable that at that time action will be taken to call in all petitions, and announce the campaign ended. It is said to be probable that next Saturday night will end the time in which petitions may be filed.

Ready for City Work

If the signature-gathering campaign ends the last of next week it is probable that the petitions will be ready for presentation to the city clerk, as required by the city charter, by the middle of the following week, or about June 5. Ten days are allowed for the election commission to canvass the signatures and in the event that a number of names less than the 20 per cent. required by law to bring the matter before the voters at a special election is found thereon, another ten days may be allowed for filing additional signatures. At the expiration of the 10 or 20 days, the city clerk must place the petitions before the municipal council.

The council must either pass the order as requested exactly as submitted within 20 days or submit the question to the voters at a special election which must be held within not less than 10 nor more than 50 days from the filing of the date on which the petitions are submitted to the council by the city clerk.

The Longest Time

The longest time that can elapse between the filing of the petition with the clerk and its submission to the voters, if the order is not adopted by the council, is, therefore, 70 days. The shortest possible time in which the proposition could get before the voters is about 41 days. By speeding-up all along the line the election, if there is one, might come as early as July 19, while the most snail-like pace could not defer it much after Aug. 18.

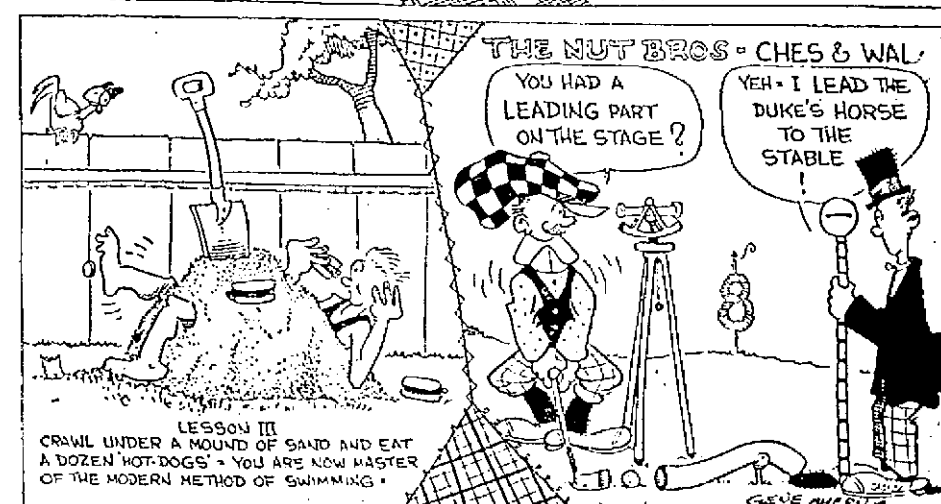

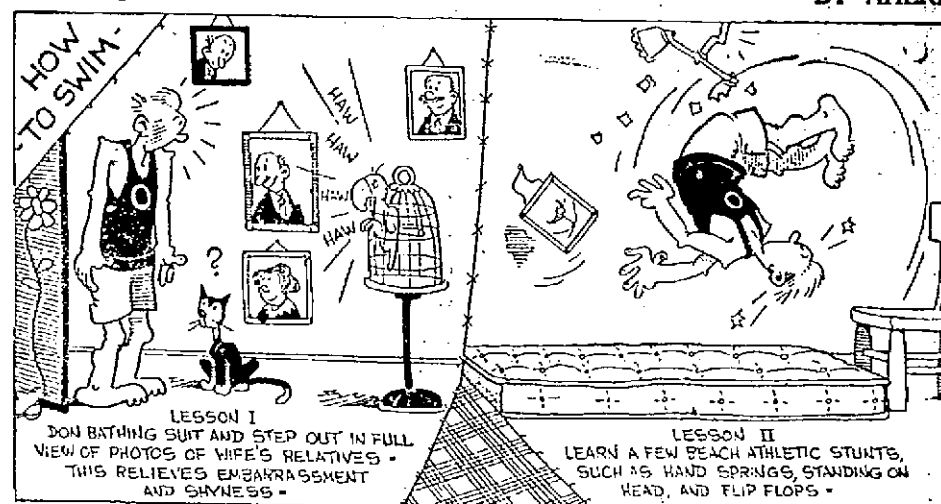

The horrors of signed petitions made a more or less continuous procession into the chamber's rooms this morning. Among the number were several women who have been enthusiastic workers in gathering names. All of these presenting petitions were greeted by Notary Public Joseph L. Flagon, who administered an oath that the city charter requiring shall be attached to each separate sheet of initiative petitions.

Visit of School Children

The exhibit of the products of the textile industries of the city, now open in the chamber of commerce rooms, continues to attract the attention of visitors. Yesterday afternoon it was inspected by a number of school children who were accompanied by their teachers.

SEC. WEEKS FAVORS AN ARMY OF 175,000 AS MINIMUM

Would Have But 20,000 Men to Defend

United States if Army Bill Passes---

Troops Scattered at Many Points

(Special to The Sun.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—"We shall have only about 20,000 men for a fighting force in the United States," said Secretary of War John W. Weeks to the Sun correspondent. "If the 100,000 army bill becomes a law. That is not sufficient protection." Secretary Weeks made this clear to the senate military affairs committee at a recent hearing and gave details as to how the proposed reduction of the army to that number would have to be brought about under the proposed law. The committee was tremendously impressed by the strength of the secretary's position and immediately reported out the army bill with the changes he recommended, raising its number to 175,000 and making other changes to meet the arguments so clearly set forth by the secretary of war. It is now certain that the house will adopt all the proposed changes, but there is a strong hope that an agreement satisfactory to congress and the war department will be quickly reached when the bill goes to conference at an early date.

First of all Secretary Weeks called attention to the fact that at this moment there are approximately 50,000 troops abroad. More than 12,000 are now on the Rhine; 15,000 are in the Philippines, 10,000 in Hawaii, 7,000 at Panama, 10,000 in China and a regiment at Porto Rico. No troops are now in Russia. Mr. Weeks urged that instead of an average of 150,000 troops as the House bill provides, there shall be a minimum of 175,000 troops. He explains that to get an average of 150,000 in the short time allotted the number must first be reduced to 120,000 then built up to the required force by recruiting, and that by so doing the government would lose more than one million dollars and would thus lose the service of trained men, only to replace them shortly thereafter by raw recruits. "The government would have better protection at less money to do away with the proposed average and make a minimum instead," said Mr. Weeks. "It costs like everything to abandon camps and move troops from place to place, add to recruit new men. It costs at least $100 applied to recruit a man in the army," said Gen. March who was present, and responded to a question referred to him by Secretary Weeks. "But few persons appreciate the fact that although the present army numbers 14,000 officers and 230,000 men, the United States would have the smallest fighting force of any great nation in the world if it were reduced to 150,000," said Secretary Weeks.

Noted Horsewoman, Wood En Route to Horse Show, Finds Hubby "Love Pirate"

Mrs. Bertha Wilcox was quite particular about the pedigree of horses, for she is a horsewoman of national reputation. But she wasn't quite so careful in the matter of husbands and so her amazing romance has made her a victim of the alleged "love pirate," E. E. Grossett. She was on her way from San Francisco to ride in the International Horse Show at Chicago when she met Grossett. During the three day trip overland she consented to marriage. Now she is seeking an annulment in Los Angeles because, she declares, she finds her husband had too many other wives and sweethearts. Grossett is under arrest and awaits trial. According to the charges she is wife No. 4. The picture shows her with one of her thoroughbred horses and, she declares, she will hereafter continue to train them in preference to husbands.

branches after the house had voted reconsideration of its previous action last night, rejecting the order. A special message from Governor Cox urging reconsideration paved the way for its final acceptance and prorogation. Prorogation this morning marked the close of the 122nd legislature of Massachusetts. This session and that of 1905 were the shortest in its history. Both lasted 113 days.

Three hundred measures were referred to the next session. The longest numbered 159 less than last year.

Among the principal bills passed were:

Shortening of the state daylight saving period to five months; a "blue sky" law for state control of the marketing of stocks and bonds to protect investors; state ownership of motion pictures; establishment of a state constabulary, to be organized on the basis of the constabulary of the state of New York.

STOMACH TROUBLE CAUSED DIZZINESS

"I had been in poor health for nearly two years," said Mrs. Charles Cota, of No. 4 Martin street, Hartford, Conn. "After eating I had severe pains in my stomach and sometimes at my work I had such sudden dizzy spells that I would have to sit down until the trouble passed away. I also had headaches a great deal and sometimes became so weak that I could almost faint over. There were pains in my back and limbs."

"I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and made up my mind to try them. Two weeks after I began the treatment I began to gain strength. My digestion improved in a very short time and it was long before the 'dizziness' left my back and limbs. I am no longer subject to dizzy spells or headaches. I strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for they are the only medicine that gave me lasting relief."

The legislature defeated bills for all highway improvements and for changes in the laws relating to state primaries.

Expenditures authorized this year totaled $10,000,000, or about $1,000,000 less than at the last session. The amount of state taxes to be levied was unchanged, remaining at $14,000,000.

FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Through a Neighbor's Advice This Woman Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kenosha, Wis.—"I suffered with a female trouble and at last was in bed for six weeks with what the doctors called inflammation of the bowels. Four of them said I could not live. A neighbor told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the start. When the doctor came I told him what I had taken and he said, 'Throw my medicine away and keep on with the Pinkham medicine.' I did and it cured me. If more women would take your medicine they would not suffer so. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to lots of people and they have been satisfied."—Mrs. MARY RHAFSTOCK, 2704 Wisconsin St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

When a woman is beset with such symptoms as irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, a displacement, backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or the "blues" she should treat the cause of such conditions by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the standard remedy for women's ills.

presumes to invade by suggestion or recommendation this highly specialized field of activity. Let us see, however, how "absurd" the attitude of the commission really is. We will quote the superintendent's own words from his report as filed in the public documents of 1919-20, page 20—"The time has come, however, in my opinion, for a reorganization of the medical profession and management of the schools and health conditions, and that is just what the charter commission has done in creating the office of director of school hygiene."

Safeguards Against Defective

The superintendent lays much stress upon the medical supervision that insures children in the care of teeth, and supplying tooth brushes at a minimum of cost. Such service is indeed meritorious, but the charter commission is anxious to protect the child at school from communicable diseases that may be transmitted by schoolmates, who is a very important and which is not done under present conditions. It makes little difference whether there are four or nine physicians employed by the school department, or that the salary is $400 or $200 a year, the very fact that the salary is so meagre is sufficient proof that the service rendered must necessarily be inferior. Who Says War's Over? Look at These "Front Line" Pictures Just Received From Near East!

Trench fighting—barbed wire entanglements—all the tricks they learned in the world war have been employed in the war between the Greek and Turkish armies in the Near East. These pictures, taken while the fighting was at its hottest, just before the Greek retreat, have just arrived in America. On the left a Greek raiding party is approaching the Greek lines with Turkish prisoners. Center, a closeup of Greek troops lunching in a front-line trench. Right, Turkish prisoners being brought back from the front lines by Greek guards. At the moment the fighting has died down but the two armies are reorganizing to go at it again. This, like the war in Upper Silesia, is one of the aftermaths of the big war that ended two and a half years ago.

"TLL CLEAN UP IMMIGRATION EVILS" DECLARES SECRETARY DAVIS

Secretary of Labor Department Makes Thorough Study of Conditions at Ports and Makes Golden Rule Slogan of Department

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis has just completed a survey of Atlantic immigration ports investigating facilities, practices and personnel, with a view to injecting more "humanity" into the reception of aliens, and sifting the storm of complaints against men and methods.

The following article, written by Secretary Davis expressly for The Sun, embodies some of his observations, and states the policy on which he will build the program of reforms he says are imperative.

This policy stresses the golden rule, which he has made the slogan of the department of labor.

BY JAMES J. DAVIS, SECRETARY OF LABOR

In business life we are careful not to antagonize those with whom we expect to associate. Everyone appreciates the cash value of good will. Time, thought and money are wisely spent to create agreeable first impressions and to cultivate friendships.

Nationally, however, in receiving the alien newcomer who will live and deal and eventually vote with us, for better or worse, we have been curiously indifferent whether first impressions shall make for good will or ill.

That is, bad business, to say the least.

And, to the extent that we remedy this, we shall speed solution of many vital national problems closely hooked up with the important question of immigration.

Human consideration must be the watchword at our immigrant depots. A personal inspection of detention stations along the Atlantic has impressed this need most forcefully, and to the full extent of its power the department of labor will supplement the iron law with the golden rule in administrative practice.

Buffalo Officer Killed, 4 Negroes Wounded

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 28.—Edward A. Wilson, 35 years old, a sergeant of the police reserve, was killed and four negroes were wounded early today when a negro ran amuck with a pistol in a house occupied by negroes in Clinton street. The police are looking for Oscar Edwards, about 27 years old, an occupant of the house, who is said to have done the shooting and who escaped by the back door while the police were at the front. Wilson was shot in the heart and through the mouth while in pursuit of Edwards.

Spring Medicine

Now Needed by Nearly Every One to Purify the Blood and Build Up Strength.

Few come to these trying spring days without weariness, debility, that "tired feeling" caused in large part by impure, de-vitalized blood. Change of season often "takes all the strength out of me," as many people say.

The tonic and blood purifier needed is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It quickly dispels that exhausted feeling, enriches the blood and benefits the mental, muscular and nervous systems. In a word, says a druggist, "Hood's Sarsaparilla is our most dependable restorative."

Only the best tonic and purifying ingredients used—roots, herbs, barks and berries, such as physicians often prescribe. A record of 45 years successful use. It will do you good. Try it this spring.

All the Young Women Shown in the Accompanying Photograph Will Study Music This Summer

Music, the arts and crafts, and other useful and artistic pursuits are prominent in the activities of the P.A.A. Greek Girls club, a subsidiary organization of the International Institute. A group of members of the body are here shown on a recent outing.

Under the general direction of Miss Helen Houston, the club has participated in many interesting entertainments during the past winter season. The native dances of Greece have been shown for the first time to Lowell audiences, while the P. A. A. Mandolin club has brought to this city a distinctive innovation, in the playing of melodies 2000 years old, and which were performed on primitive instruments before the Delphic shrine of Apollo in the old world.

The group shown in the photograph will all study music this summer, under the direction of Miss Esther Nicholson, on a new plan known as Boston Conservatory of Music method. This system, recently inaugurated at social service institutions in Boston, is a new discovery, and is now being studied by Miss Nicholson. The girls here shown will first be taught the rudiments of technical music in a body, and will then be allowed to select some instrumental in which to specialize. Local teachers will then teach the individual girls at a nominal fee. The plan is considered by educators throughout the country as unique, and as marking an epoch in community service.

Lowell is one of the first cities in the country to introduce the method, and the international institute is the pioneer Lowell organization to bring it to this city. Within a few months, so extraordinary are said to be the fruits of the system, as already shown at the Boston music settlement, these young girls will be well advanced in the study of violin, piano, and other instrumental music, as well as vocal harmonics.

Californians Perfect Physical Specimens

PRINCETON, N. J., May 28.—Admirers of the University of California crew, in training here for the race with Princeton on June 4, have pronounced the men perfect physical specimens. Some who have watched them work declare the prophecy made some time ago by a college professor that all the country's athletes would in a few years be produced by the west is being fulfilled. They say no eastern college produces men possessing such physique. For the most part they are strapping blondes and each afternoon as their shell spurts through the water, they give an exhibition of shoulder and leg muscle work that calls for the expressions of admiration and wonder from the Princeton undergraduates.

Birds Sing and Peasants Plow Where Once The Cannon Roared

THREE years ago today the German army, advancing toward Paris, capped a series of spectacular victories by reaching the Marne on a six-mile front between Chateau Thierry and Dormans.

A week later American troops plunged into the conflict and turned the tide.

History will recognize that from then on the German cause was lost, that it reached its zenith about Memorial Day, 1918.

More than two and a half years have elapsed since the signing of the armistice.

BIRDS sing and the peasant plows where once the cannon roared.

But the world's wounds are not yet healed. The scars they leave will persist for generations.

As was the case following the Civil war, years must pass before democracy's victory in the World war bears its full fruits.

There were those who, when our Civil war ended, believed that reconstruction could never restore the ruins and purge the opposing factions of their hatreds.

Time has shown that was a fallacy.

TIME again will restore order and peace, normal conditions and happiness in the world.

Hatreds will run their course.

And future generations, because of the perspective of time, will honor America's dead in the World war as the saviors of democracy, even with a greater reverence than we on this Memorial Day.

Words are futile in paying tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The nation honors them and their Gold Star Mothers, as it honors their soldier predecessors of Abraham Lincoln's day who also died so that "government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Memorial Day, 1921

by Berton Braley

Our dead rest on the breast of France
And all around the world
Where by war's grim or splendid chance
Our banners were unfurled;
So whether here or overseas
Their bodies chance to lie.
We pay full honor unto these
Who did not fear to die.

Because they dared, because they died
We and our nation live,
Our liberty our hope, our pride
Were gifts that they could give;
And since for all these gifts the price
Was life -- they held life cheap
And blithely made the sacrifice
And laid them down to sleep.

O, dead of many wars, who fought
With spirit high and pure,
The noble structure that you wrought
Shall evermore endure!

You held your country's cause above.

All else; we, unafraid,

Will keep your country worthy of

The price you gladly paid.

No Other Nation Has Such a Glorious Memorial Day

BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

SO far as I know, no other nation has, or ever has had, just such a day as this which every spring we celebrate. It is a sacred day to holy memories that recede farther and farther into the mist of our yesterdays, yet live again with the blooming of the flowers.

No nation ever did quite what ours did a half century ago. The negro slaves did not rise up in insurrection and free themselves; not even Old John Brown was able to incite them to rise for their own freedom. The black men were freed by white men of their own land.

Nor would it be true to say that the men of the north conquered the men of the south and thus made the nation free. Southern men in great numbers fought for the Union—150,000 of them from the mountains of Kentucky, Tennessee and adjacent states.

North and south had sinned together in the establishment of slavery; and the south had a share far from negligible in its eradication. We are one nation. We were not sure about it in 1861, but we have been sure of it since 1865.

It is a blessed thing to be able to put some sorrows where we can lay flowers upon them. The memories of strife two generations ago should lie deep beneath the sod, and on the sod should bloom not thorns but flowers.

The men who fought in the World war were not the sons but the grandsons of the men who fought at Vicksburg and Gettysburg and Richmond.

Let us remember the courage and forget the bitterness. Let us remember the principles for which we fought, and never forget that those principles are established.

Two facts the Civil war settled permanently: we are one nation, and that nation is and forever is to be a free nation. Let us remember that.

"GRAND OLD LADY" TELLS HISTORY OF MEMORIAL DAY

Widow of General John A. Logan Recalls Her Part in Founding National Holiday

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The mausoleum where lies the body of Gen. John A. Logan, hero of the Civil war, will not be visited Memorial Day by his widow. It has been her custom to decorate his grave each Memorial Day.

Instead, she is to address G. A. R. veterans at Arlington National Cemetery. She will tell how Memorial Day became a permanent holiday in America.

Mrs. Logan, called "the Grand Old Lady of Washington," is 85. She married Logan, a country attorney in Illinois, when she was 17.

His dash and bravery as a Union general earned for him the sobriquet of "the Black Eagle" and the hero worship of school boys of today.

"General Logan issued the proclamation setting aside Decoration Day as a day of tribute after I returned from a trip through the historic battlegrounds of Virginia," says Mrs. Logan.

"That was in 1868. He was commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

"I told him how the grave of each Confederate soldier at Petersburg was decorated with a wreath and a Confederate flag.

"Now, that's a capital idea!" he exclaimed. "We have been neglecting our dead, while they have honored theirs.

"We have to see to it that the grave of every Union soldier is properly cared for and decorated. The Greeks and the Romans always decorated the graves of their heroes.

"I'm commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. and I'm going to issue an order setting aside a special day for that purpose and calling upon all comrades to observe it."

The eyes of the Grand Old Lady beamed as she recalled her husband's words.

MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN

"That order was issued from headquarters of the G. A. R. May 5, 1868," she said. "It was signed by General Logan as commander-in-chief and by N. P. Chipman as adjutant general.

"Chipman, as adjutant general, probably did the physical work of getting out the order. But the idea was General Logan's and the order was General Logan's. That I know."

In some posts of the G. A. R. a report has been circulated to the effect that Chipman, not Logan, was the author of the order that makes May 30 a great national holiday.

That's why the Grand Old Lady will put on the little bonnet that makes her a distinctive figure on Washington streets and go to Arlington to tell her story Memorial Day.

Plant Trees In Honor Of Fallen Heroes

BY MRS. M. A. TOY

National President, Service Star Legion

THE Service Star Legion, a nation-wide organization of grandmothers, mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of men who served in the World war, pays tribute today to the soldier dead.

We, the women of the Legion, think that no more fitting tribute to the nation's dead can be offered on Memorial Day than the planting of trees in memory of the fallen heroes.

Thus children of coming generations may know, as they walk beneath their shade, that they grew and put forth leaves in memory of those who died in the days of their own blooming, planted by the loving hands of the mothers of men.

Services this year are held in the Grove of Remembrance on Druid Hill in Baltimore. There 48 white oaks were planted in 1919, one tree for the dead of each state.

WILSON BREAKS SILENCE AND ISSUES MEMORIAL DAY LETTER

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Woodrow Wilson broke yesterday's silence, he has maintained since he retired from the White House on March 4.

In a Memorial day letter to the editor of "The Stars and Stripes," which was published yesterday in that soldier periodical, he declared that the American people "shall not be able to enjoy the full pride of the day's recollections until we have made sure that the duties that grew out of the war have been fulfilled to the utmost."

"Are we sure?" he asked. "If we are not, shall we not soon take steps to do whatever has been omitted?"

The full text of the former president's letter follows: "Memorial day has always been one of our most solemn and thoughtful anniversaries when we recalled great memories and dedicated ourselves again to the maintenance and purification of the nation, but this year it has an added and tremendous significance because the memories and sacrifices of the great world war are now among the most stimulating of the recollections of the day.

"We celebrate the immortal achievements of the men who died in France on the field and in the trenches, far away from home, in order that both our own people and the peoples across the seas might be delivered from the greatest peril of all history. It is our privilege not only to induce a high and solemn pride and grief for the heroes of that great struggle, but also to rededicate ourselves to the achievement of the great objects for which that war was fought. We shall not be happy, we shall not be able to enjoy the full pride of the day's recollections, until we have made sure that the duties that grew out of the war have been fulfilled to the utmost.

"Are we sure? If we are not, shall we not soon take steps to do whatever has been omitted?"

"Cordially yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

Permission of the New York Times

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from failing hands we throw
The Torch—be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

In round figures the yearly use of BITUMINOUS COAL for New England averages 25 MILLION TONS and of ANTHRACITE 12 MILLION TONS. Nearly all of this vast amount of coal with the exception of some six and one-half million tons used by the railroads might be eliminated through the use of

Dogdom is not to be outdone by catdom—and, so "Collie," a wonder dog, has made his appearance to challenge the record set by Thomas Cadillac.

Thomas Cadillac is the alley cat that was named in an automobile crash, travelled to Australia and went for 49 days without food.

"Collie's" story is a bit different but every bit as remarkable for "Collie" is the only "stowaway dog" on record.
He refused to be left behind by his owners, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Hopkirk, who live in South Winchester street, Chicago.

"Collie" was the pet of eight-year-old Corinne Hopkirk. When the family started for San Francisco, to continue.

met with a Korean-bound liner, they left "Collie" in charge of the baggage. He disappeared at Omaha.
Every effort was made to locate him, but without success. The Hopkirks reached San Francisco, boarded the liner Nanking and prepared to sail to sea.

A few minutes before sailing time a beautiful collie dog appeared on the waterfront, trotting to the China Mail company pier and brushing past customs officers who tried to stop him, ran up the gangplank and attempted to stow away.

It was "Collie." Just how he made the trip his owners are at a loss to figure out.

"If he could only talk," "Collie" would have a great story to relate, was the comment of Dr. Hopkirk. "The last we saw of him was when we were speeding over the fields of Illinois. He probably was picked up by some baggage man and brought to San Francisco—but how the deuce he trailed us to the pier—well I guess it was chiefly luck."

Monday a picnic will be held there. Box the 7 a. m. train at the Union depot, and others of whom will take the 10 o'clock street car to Chelmsford Centre. Many sports and contests have been planned for the affair, which marks one of the first outdoor events of the year for the organization. A week from today another open-air event will take place in a tennis tournament among the club members, to be held at the grounds of the Lowell Normal school. The indoor gymnasium classes close for the season on Tuesday. On Saturday afternoon there will be a scrub baseball contest by the girls at the Normal school, while the usual Saturday night dance will be given up for the remainder of the warm weather, according to present plans.

Ex-Swimming Champ Raises
Real "Water Baby"—Gives
First Lesson at Six Weeks

A real "water baby" is Rhoda Cavill, aged 3, of San Francisco. Her father, Dick Cavill, former world's champion who has held every record from 40 yards to the mile, free style, believes in starting 'em young. So when Rhoda was six weeks old she was made acquainted with a swimming pool. Her schooling at swimming has been kept up ever since and now she is able to negotiate 400 yards in amazingly good time for a mere baby. She is now ready to meet all comers of her own age, or near it, in a 300 or 400 yard meet. She can dive from a 10-foot board, can swim under water, on her back and do stunts achieved only by experts. The Cavill family is world-famous as swimmers. Dick is one of seven brothers, every one of whom has held world's swimming records. Their father, before them was the first man to swim the English channel.

Clean Up Immigration Evils

based on the humanities, certain physical barriers must be removed, chiefly inadequate quarters with dangerous congestion, as at Ellis Island.

The present total inadequacy of admission equipment will be somewhat remedied by the temporary alien restriction act, but that is only a stopgap to permit folks generally to think seriously and straight on immigration.

The one crying need at detention stations, borne in on me during my trip of inspection, is for room—room to live like human beings; room for women and children especially to play and relax during the days and often weeks they are kept in detention.

Now they sit huddled indoors or pace a limited area under conditions far from wholesome. The children make pathetic shift at play, while the elders, disillusionment on many faces, brood and harbor thoughts which a little sunshine and a plot of grass, clean air and more friendly attention would dissipate.

Must Guard Against Infection

America can't afford to forget that these people are human beings—becoming part of the national life blood.
It must exercise every care that there is no moral and political infection at the points where this alien blood is injected.

For this reason, if for no other, it is imperative to relieve congestion and its inevitable evils. And with this in view the department has been making a survey of ports of entry to find additional housing facilities.

Aside from this need, the immigration problems confronting the department are largely those of administration. It will be the primary concern and program in this respect to eliminate so far as lies within my power both men and practices failing to conform to the slogan, "humanity first."

With Love For America

Even the alien who arrives only to find himself inadmissible should leave our shores with respect and love for America. No nation is so great and kind that it can afford to make even humble enemies, while international relations of the tight sort consist merely in being human and friendly.

Only two per cent. of immigrants have thus far proven undesirable, and even this trouble-making proportion could be further reduced, certainly in their influence upon fellow arrivals, if America more cordially extended that welcome which our alien laws imply.

Legal welcome and actual repulsion is like asking a new acquaintance to your home and then meeting him with suspicion when he rings the door bell.

The Statue of Liberty holds a beacon in one hand. We must put a friendly clasp in the other hand—as long as we say we want the properly qualified alien to become a fellow citizen!

Kilbane "Dissects" Wallops He Says Jersey Will Observe

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion
Jack Dempsey, bigger and heavier than Carpentier, undoubtedly will open his fight against the Frenchman July 2nd by driving for the body. He will try to inflict sufficient punishment there to loosen Carpentier's guard so that he can break through with the stowaway left to the chin. Georges, on the other hand, speedier and shifter than Dempsey, will lay for Jack's chin.

What will the effect be?

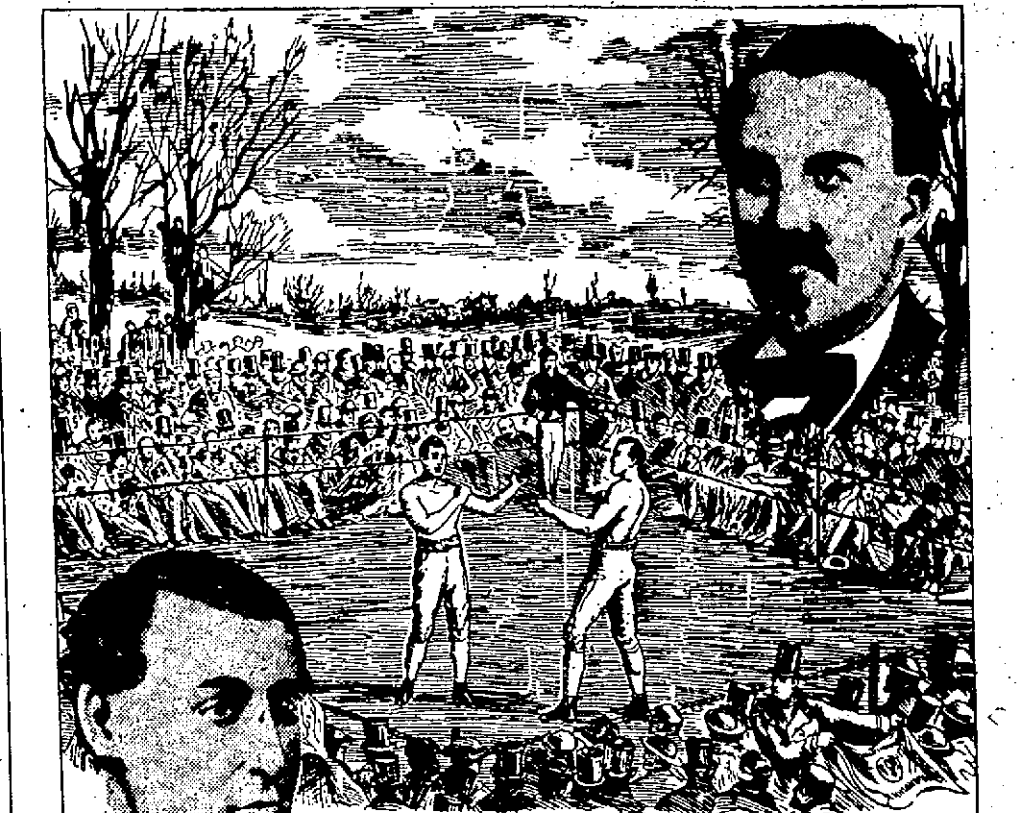

There are really only three vulnerable spots on a man's body where a blow has telling effect. These are: the jaw, the pit of the stomach and the heart.

To Reach the Jaw

Either a right cross or a left hook can be used in reaching the jaw. Properly landed the blow paralyzes the nerve centers that lead to the brain and the victim is rendered unconscious immediately. It's the best kind of a knockout punch because a man who gets it can't come back before the 10 seconds have expired.

A straight right or either a right or left uppercut are the blows used in reaching the pit of an adversary's stomach. A punch here causes the wind to stop and floors an opponent as quickly as a punch to the jaw, it is not as effective. The victim's brain is as

Spectators Got Walloped Too, in The First International Battle

So long as boxing lives, the first international battle for the world's heavyweight championship will occupy a prominent place in the record books.

John C. Heenan, known as the "Benicia Boy," represented America, and Tom Sayers, who was really little more than a welterweight, carried the British colors.

The men met at Farnborough, England, April 17, 1860, on the turf under London prize ring rules. The fight went 42 rounds, lasting two hours and 27 minutes and the referee called it a draw.

For 36 rounds each contestant took a terrific beating, with Sayers far the worse off, while Heenan was almost completely blind, but in the 37th round Sayers was pitifully weak and held his feet with difficulty. Heenan rushed him, and grabbing him around the neck, attempted to toss him. Immediately a mob of Sayers' friends, who had bet heavily on the Englishman, rushed the ring, cut the ropes and surged within, crowding the referee out, and beyond view of the fighters.

The "interned" official immediately ordered hostilities to cease, but Sayers' backers, hoping to save their money, insisted that the battle proceed, and as they were in control of the situation, the fight went on.

From the 39th round until the finish Heenan, unable to see, struck out blindly with both fists, frequently striking spectators, while Sayers was so badly spent that it was necessary at times for his henchmen to hold him on his feet.

Fight Stopped

The referee finally worked his way into the ring and once more ordered the fight stopped. As all hands were willing, the struggle ended.

In recognition of the wonderful gentleness displayed by both men, English sportsmen unanimously voted to declare them joint holders of the world's title and presented each with a belt emblematic of the championship.

Soon after the battle Sayers and Heenan, unable to see, struck out blindly with both fists, frequently striking spectators, while Sayers was so badly spent that it was necessary at times for his henchmen to hold him on his feet.

INTENSIVE TRAINING FOR MANAGER OF CHAMP DEMPSEY NEXT WEEK

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 27.—With Jack Dempsey rounding into fighting condition almost too rapidly, Manager Jack Kearns decided today to give the world's champion four days of complete rest beginning next Tuesday. After boxing tomorrow and Monday, Dempsey will lay aside his gloves, suspend his roadwork and just until called upon to begin his intensive training program a week from today.

This plan is in line with the training campaign Dempsey followed while conditioning himself for the battle with Jesse Willard in Toledo two years ago.

"Dempsey could get himself ready to defend his title within six days," Kearns said. "A layoff next week will put him on edge for the final three weeks of training. He will not do any work at all next week, with the possible exception of playing a little baseball, taking some setting up exercises and short walks."

"I want to add a little weight to him so he'll be ready for the serious business of training. He will scale around the 195 mark now and I hope he'll weigh around 200 a week from today."

APOSTOLOS WAITING WORD FROM JOHNSON

SPORTS EDITOR:

Since answering "Our local wrestling champion's" challenge, Bob Johnson, I've failed to hear any response from him as to a match for which he was so anxious, and if there is anyone in Lowell who will promote the match on a winner take all basis, with a side bet and a no time limit, I shall be right on the spot.

Now when I recalled Johnson before, the dope was that I didn't have a chance of defeating him. Well, I'll admit that Johnson is a good boy, but he failed to throw me "seven" once in an hour, as he agreed to in our two falls in an hour match, and with a no-time limit match I believe I can turn the trick on him, because I do know and have demonstrated that he can't beat me, and when I get this match with Johnson and beat him, which I'll surely do, I shall invite any and all wrestlers in this vicinity to a match.

TED APOSTOLAS.

The Boott mills won from the Merrimack Thursday night by the score of 14 to 4 on the Wakefield avenue grounds. Cox of the Boott held the upper mill boys to five hits, while the Boott boys batted three pitchers for 14 hits. The Boott mills play the Waterheads this afternoon on the Fair grounds, and Monday afternoon the Merrimack on the First street oval. Both games called at 3 o'clock.

Society Day at Races in Erie, Pa., Attracts Notable Throng

The following article is from the Erie Dispatch (Erie, Pa.):

Society day at the races yesterday was notable for the presence of many society people of Erie who are interested in the sport, adding prestige and interest to the opening day of the annual event. Practically all the boxes were filled, many persons entertaining parties which included out-of-town guests. Smart sport costumes worn by the women added to the brilliancy of the spectacle and were indicative of the first of the spring fashions.

Among those who had boxes were Mrs. and Mrs. Conrad Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dudenhofer, Mr. and Mrs. W. Downing, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, with their guest, Mrs. James E. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. George Lyne, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Balan, Walter Schy-bane, Judge and Mrs. J. R. Cosma, and Mr. and Mrs. Del Forsythe. Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzpatrick of Buffalo and Miss Ethel Spille, Mrs. J. J. Williams and Mrs. A. A. Peet, Edward F. Hall and Harold S. Hall.

COBB IS RUNNER UP

Right Behind Heilman—Speaker Third With .408

CHICAGO, May 25.—Managing a ball club seems to be conducive to heavy hitting, for Ty Cobb, pilot of the Detroit Tigers, and Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, are giving Harry Heilman of Detroit a terrific fight for the batting leadership of the American league.

Cobb boosted his mark from .395 last week to .418 for this week, according to averages released today which includes games of last Wednesday, while Speaker raised his last week's average of .38 to .409. Heilman, who has suffered a batting slump, is 10 points ahead of Cobb, with .425, as compared with .434 a week ago.

Sargeant of St. Louis also has come to the front in grand style. The slugging catcher of the Browns has attained a mark of .381 and is in fourth place.

Babe Ruth ran into a slump when the Yankees hit the western trail of the circuit. His batting averages dropped from .373 to .345. He failed to get any homers, while in Chicago but in the final game at St. Louis on Wednesday, he brought his total string of homers to 13. Shocker was pitching to him.

Harris of Washington stole two bases while the senators were touring the west and is showing the way to the base stealers with 10 more or more. Other leading leaders for 20 or more games are: Brower, Washington, .378; Stiller, St. Louis, .375; Tohin, St. Louis, .373; Stephenson, Cleveland, .368; Williams, St. Louis, .353; Ruth, New York, .345.

Grimes of the Chicago Cubs, who is filling Merkle's shoes at first base, struck his batting stride during his first invasion of the east and climbed from 15th place to fifth, in the National league race. Most of last week's leaders went into a slump. Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, dropping from .457 to .435, but is safely entrenched at the top of the batter's of the league who have participated in 20 or more games. Snyder, New York catcher is runner-up with an average of .375, while McHenry of St. Louis, who was in seventh place a week ago, is batting .360 and is in third place.

Savannah of Pittsburgh, who threatened to dethrone the St. Louis star a week ago, dropped to fourth place with .355. Grimes who last week hit .375, is pushing the "Rabbit" with .353.

George Kelly, the Giants' slugger, who is leading the National league home runners, failed to add to his total of eight, and is now five behind his American league rival, Babe Ruth. Hornsby of Cincinnati, failed to increase his stolen base record. He leads, however, with eight.

Other leading hitters: Johnston, Brooklyn, .354; Perry, Pittsburgh, .352; Kelly, New York, .347; Barber, Chicago, .342; Hargrave, Cincinnati, .345; Cuthshaw, Pittsburgh, .340.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Jim Needham's Suffolk Stars were beaten by a picked team from the Cape on the night of May 23 at the Lawrence Mfg. Co.'s grounds by the score of 12 to 5. Gagnon proved no match for the Tremont sluggers.

The Merrimack will play the Silmarocks Monday at 10 o'clock at Shedd park. All Merrimack players are requested to report at 9:30.

The Chestnut Warriors challenge any 11 or 12-year-old team in the city. The Exeter A.C. preferred. The lineup consists of Leppard, C. Pondergast, G. Kelleher, H. Dowling, D. O'Hare, B. Lafferty, G. Chiquetto, J. F. Poulis, and Burns. Answer through this paper.

The Chestnut A.A. would like a game with the Oakleaves for Monday. Tel. 4539.

DEAL'S NOSE BROKEN

CHICAGO, May 25.—Charles Deal, third baseman for the Cubs, who was hit on the nose by a batted ball in a game at New York a few days ago, has found that his nose is broken and he will be out of the game several days.

Deal's nose was broken when he was hit in the seventh place a week ago, by batting .360 and is in third place. Deal is now in the hospital, where he is being treated for a broken nose.

TUFTS' DEFENSE TO BE "POLITICAL ENMITY"

BOSTON, May 25.—District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts intends to fight Attorney Gen. Allen to the bitter end and will base his defense, not only upon an absolute denial of the allegations made in the information filed in the supreme court, asking for his removal from office of district attorney, but will contend that the proceeding is merely another incident in the political feud that has existed between them since the attorney general ran for his present office.

Melvin M. Johnson, who attained prominence in the famous case of Little Leblanc, who was charged with the murder of Clarence Glover, Waltham laundryman, will represent District Attorney Tufts.

The political aspect of the case will furnish much material for the defense. The district attorney will offer evidence to support the charge that he will make that the attorney general is inspired by personal enmity and vengeance.

Mr. Tufts received the official copy of the charges made against him in the supreme court at 6.30 last evening. The charges furnish the ground

NATHAN A. TUFTS,
District Attorney

on which Mr. Allen asks for the removal of Mr. Tufts from the office of district attorney of Middlesex county. Within 10 minutes after his receipt of the official copy of the charges, Mr. Tufts made a statement to a reporter:

"Yes, I received the copy of the attorney general's charges against me about 10 minutes ago," said Mr. Tufts. "The status of the case is different now from what it has been at any time during the past two years. It is now in the hands of the supreme court. He (referring to the attorney general) will have his say there and I will have mine. The matter will be decided there. The whole thing is a tissue of lies. I don't think I care to say anything more than that for the present."

Later Mr. Tufts made an additional statement through his attorney, Melvin M. Johnson.

Tufts Makes Statement
Dist. Atty. Nathan A. Tufts last night issued the following statement: "I have just read the charges. Naturally, when a man has such utterly unfounded allegations made against him it is difficult for him to restrain the indignation which he feels. So far as these charges allege any misconduct or impropriety on my part, official or personal, they are absolutely false from beginning to end. Owing to the fact that the charges must be tried in court, I am advised that it is improper

MELVIN M. JOHNSON,
Counsel for Tufts

for me to discuss the facts of the separate charges in detail. The day will come in court when I shall have an opportunity to deny the specific charges and let the truth be known. So far as they are concerned, all I can do now is to ask the public to wait until they have heard my story as it will be told in court.

"It seems to me that I do not violate my duty to the court, however, if I do call the public's attention to the fact that these charges against me were filed by the attorney general on the very day that the measures which he sought, and which I opposed, were overwhelmingly defeated in the legislature. The public ought to remember, too, that when Mr. Allen was a candidate for attorney general he demanded my support, but as a matter of fact, I supported another candidate. Since that time he has openly stated that he would pursue me to my destruction."

CARNIVAL RECEIPTS
The carnival held on the Lakeview avenue grounds during the past week, netted the sum of $400 for the Pawtucketville Memorial association. This amount will be added to the $200 already raised for the erection of a memorial marble tablet near the Pawtucket bridge.

BURKE OUT OF GAME
PITTSBURGH, May 25.—Carson Hickey, Pittsburgh outfielder, will be out of the game several days due to an injury to his right arm. His physician said a ligament had been displaced.

HERMAN AGAIN DEFEATED BY MONTREAL

BOSTON, May 25.—Young Montreal, the Providence hantam, won the decision over ex-Champion Pete Herman of New Orleans in their 10-round bout at the Faneuil A.C. open air show at Braves Field last night.

This is the second verdict Montreal has secured over Herman. The one last night was won by a greater margin than that at the Arena some weeks ago, over which there was much talk Herman had the better of the boxing show. Seven ringside judges, and only one in the fourth, fifth and sixth rounds. Two men at the ringside who kept tabs on the blows, said Montreal landed 363 and Herman only 191.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a boxing show outdoors in New England was present, the attendance being estimated at 15,000. The weather was ideal for such a show. Seven flood lights were used over the ring. Fans in all parts of the grand stand could see the fighters in action.

THE OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX

Many an Oakland owner tells us that he is getting regularly from 15 to 25 miles on a gallon of gasoline, and from 3000 to 12,000 miles from a set of tires. This excellent record on the mileage is due to the fact that Oakland open models could weigh nearly 500 pounds more than they do and still be within the tire maker's guarantee. The standard equipment of tires is 32x4.

The line is complete. There are four models—the five-passenger open car, the three-passenger roadster—the five-passenger, four-door sedan—and the four-passenger coupe.

A great number of possible Oakland buyers are in your territory and the possibility of converting them into actual owners presents to you a business opportunity which is not only sound from every standpoint but which is unusual.

GENERAL SERVICE MOTOR CLUB

The General Service Motor Club is coming to be the most talked of automobile service organization in the eastern states on account of the remarkable service giving facilities that it offers and for its work in preventing legislation that would increase the cost of owning an automobile. Under the capable management of Miles Irene Cote the local office of the club is growing rapidly having tied up with practically two thirds of the garages and service stations in the city and suburbs.

In today's advertisement on another page is a coupon which if sent in to the office will result in your getting a complete plan of the service and membership blank forwarded to you.

A great many doctors and lawyers have already joined as the professional man can see at once the great need that the G. S. M. C. fills and wants to benefit by it.

THE PEERLESS CAR

Every day Alger Johnson is selling a new Peerless to a Peerless owner who wishes to get a later model and it seems that once a Peerless owner, always a Peerless user. This condition is brought about by the first selling for the Peerless salesman never makes a rash or uncalled-for statement regarding the merits of the car, being always sure that the purchaser knows just what the Peerless is capable of doing and how much service it needs for the owner to get the most of its value. This action on the part of the salesman makes for application and confidence in dealer and car so that when a later model is desired they call for a Peerless.

THE DODGE CAR

One of the principal reasons why the Dodge Bros. motor car sells so well in Lowell and surrounding towns, in addition to its value as a car, is the fact that the Lowell Motor Mart insists that its salesmen know their car so well as to insure the confidence necessary to have when talking with a prospective Dodge owner. Mr. Dan O'Bea, president of the Motor Mart, makes it a point to get his salesmen together once a week for a talk in which anything that has come up in the course of the week can be talked over by all interested and a solution found. Another feature of their service is the other feature of their service is the way they give in securing licenses for new drivers under the supervision of Ted Burns, who is one of the most successful instructors in driving in Lowell.

Beard Says Making an Aquarium Is the Easiest Thing Ever

YOU CAN MAKE THIS OUT OF OLD LUMBER—A HOME FOR TURTLES AND LITTLE FISH.

BY DAN BEARD
National Boy Scout Commissioner
These are the days when all boys think of building and stocking an aquarium. To my mind there is more fun to the square inch in gathering specimens to stock an aquarium, than there is in almost any other form of collecting.
All your specimens are caught alive and kept alive, and none of them suffers if you are careful. In collecting moths and butterflies you have to kill the dainty creatures to be able to keep them, and in collecting birds you have to rob the poor mother bird of at least one of her treasures, and doubtless make her feel mighty unhappy.
Just Like a Scow
The simplest and, to my mind, best form of aquarium is the land and water aquarium, built according to the diagram above. Make a veritable scow about five or six feet long. This can be done by cutting two boards into the shape of sled runners, Fig. 1. Set these side pieces four feet apart and nail two temporary cross-pieces on to hold them in position while putting on the bottom, Fig. 2. See that the bottom boards fit snugly together and after they are all on, it is well to give the outside of the bottom a coating of hot tar.
Get the tar from the town's roofer.

GRAVES OF VETERANS OF Quarter Century Ago ALL WARS DECORATED

Deceased veterans of all the nation's wars have been remembered at the local cemeteries by decoration of their graves by their comrades, and the scrupulous care of the grounds by the cemetery authorities. During the past week, the Lowell posts of the G. A. R., the Spanish War Veterans and the American Legion, together with the Firemen's Relief association and other organizations here, have visited the last resting places of those who fought in company with them, and have placed flowers, flags and other tokens of remembrance on the mounds raised over the places where they lie. The Mexican War veterans have not been forgotten, although probably there are but a handful of survivors of that conflict alive throughout the entire nation. The local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, an organization of those who saw service abroad during various wars and minor hostilities, has made it its special province to seek out the neglected graves of Mexican war heroes, and to tend them with the same care as is accorded to their own fellows in the wars that they have participated in. It is stated by W. C. Kirk of that body that to the best of the belief of the members of the local branch there is not one neglected grave of a Mexican war veteran within the bounds of this city.

The American Legion, in honoring their dead this year, have replaced the old standards which had been placed on their graves with new ones. The standards formerly used bore the initials "W. V. V." but on those which have been substituted the words "World War Veterans" are given in full. The standards are star-shaped, and each of the five points of the stars bear the insignia of some branch of the military or naval service. There is the crossed rifles of the infantry, the crossed sabres of the cavalry, the crossed cannon of the artillery, and an anchor, symbolizing the sea fighters of the war.

At the Edison cemetery, Mr. Thomas Duckworth, superintendent, has made special efforts to have the grounds in the best possible condition for Memorial day. Many new pieces of shrubbery have been planted, and today a force of workmen completed the work of planting many new flower beds. Every inch of stretch of ground has been gone over with minute pains. The same is true at the Lowell cemetery.

Mr. Charles K. Knapp, treasurer of the Lowell Cemetery corporation, together with Superintendent H. O. Mulino, has supervised the work on the grounds. Hundreds of flower beds are in full bloom, and the cemetery is in perfect condition for the celebration to be held there Monday by the various military bodies.

At St. Patrick's cemetery there has also been a general and thorough cleaning up of the grounds. The officials of the cemetery have spared no pains to prepare for Memorial day. At all cemeteries the graves of veterans of the war have been decorated with flags, standards and wreaths. The French have placed standards upon the graves of their dead, and at the top of these are vases designed to hold flowers. Immortelles were placed in these during yesterday and today by members of the French association, who visited all the cemeteries to honor their deceased comrades.

Your Parents and Grandparents as a rule, believed in doctoring with nature's remedy, the life giving extracts of leaves, roots and herbs; and you must admit that a very large majority of them lived to a ripe old age; the same treatment that kept them so well and vigorous will keep you the same.

SEVEN BARKS is made from the extracts of several different kinds of leaves, roots and herbs, and has for nearly 60 years been recognized as the most reliable remedy for correcting and preventing disturbances of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Get the stomach and bowels working right and most other ailments will vanish.

SEVEN BARKS restores a healthy, natural bowel action. In most cases it promotes appetite, and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It also acts on the liver and kidneys, failure of these to act properly allows the whole body to be poisoned, and brings about other complications.

The principal cause of backaches is the kidneys when they don't perform their duty, and if not flushed and the poisons thrown off, serious trouble will happen. SEVEN BARKS will not only relieve kidney troubles, but keeps your stomach in good condition and your liver active.

Ask your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. If he does not have it he will get it for you.—Adv.

Architect Henry L. Rourke is entitled to $12,750 in addition to his previously prescribed fee as architect of the new high school building, according to an opinion given Mayor Perry D. Thompson today by City Solicitor William D. Ryan. The extra money is for work done by Mr. Rourke in redrafting plans in connection with a modification of the specifications for the erection of the building.

MISS KELLY HONORED

One of the prettiest showers of the season was held last evening at the home of Mrs. E. B. McNamara in Park-st. for the purpose of honoring Miss Kelly, the affair being conducted under the auspices of the band of the G. P. S. Supper was served in the dining room, which had been artistically decorated for the occasion. The table was decorated with a pink and white Maypole from which crepe paper dolls were suspended. After supper the guests repaired to the living room, where amid the green and gold decorations the guest of honor was obliged to search diligently for her gifts, which were bits of handiwork made by her friends. Entertainment numbers were given in the course of the evening and refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Faulkner, Mrs. Virginia Beale, Miss Jessie Gilman, Clara Watson, Ruth Shaw, Jessie Ashton, Emily Kershaw, May Astbury, Rose Kelly, Mabel Grace and Katherine Kelly, Margaret Hurst and Lillian Ashworth.

Nearly every workman in Japan wears an inscription on his cap stating the name of his employer and his business. It is a practice that has been followed voluntarily for centuries although it is not required by law.

Blair Takes Office As Revenue Chief

WASHINGTON, May 28.—David H. Blair took up his duties as commissioner of internal revenue today with a conference with Prohibition Commissioner Kramer at which reorganization of the prohibition force is understood to have been discussed as well as tentative regulations to govern the use of beer for medicinal purposes. Mr. Blair said that he had not read the beer regulations as yet, but indicated he would give them his earliest attention. Mr. Kramer will continue as prohibition commissioner for a time, as Mr. Blair said he had not had an opportunity as yet to decide upon his successor.

NEGLECTING HIS FAMILY FINED FOR UNLAWFULLY CARRYING PISTOL

Leo Gauvreau Gets Five Months' Term in House of Correction

Leo Gauvreau, accused by Judge Enright at a recent hearing, with "lying and misrepresenting," was today sentenced to the house of correction for a term of five months on charges of neglecting his wife and child. In addition to the defendant's other alleged misconduct, this morning the court told of being informed that Gauvreau went to city hall, representing himself as a single man and seeking state aid. Gauvreau, it was learned, has been receiving $125 from the federal government, and not contributing properly to his family's support. He appealed his sentence and was bonded in the sum of $200.

MAY NEVER RECOVER USE OF RIGHT ARM

Mrs. Stavrouas Gainrakos, whom James Ralls is alleged to have stabbed with a large knife, may never recover full use of her right arm, which is now partially paralyzed. It was testified this morning in the police court by Dr. Marshall Alling, assistant medical examiner, that Ralls was arrested February 27, after an Adams street affray in which Mrs. Gainrakos at the time was present. Ralls was arrested after a wound described by Dr. Alling as a narrow, penetrating wound of the shoulder about one and one-half inches in depth. The case was continued on numerous occasions, due to the confinement of Mrs. Gainrakos at the Lowell Corporation hospital. Today after the medical testimony, a further continuance was taken to June 2, because of the fact that there is no court sitting Saturday afternoon, and the case did not come before Judge Enright until nearly midday.

DOCTORS SAY CONSTIPATION POISONS SYSTEM

The majority of people suffer from constipation which poisons the whole system and causes coated tongues, bad headaches, foul breath, in children often results in high fever and actual illness. These conditions may be quickly relieved by Dr. Trues' Elixir—the Family Laxative that has worked wonders for men, women and children since 1851. I have great faith in your Dr. Trues' Elixir. I give it to my boy, it is doing him much good and I would not do without a bottle for anything. Mrs. Joseph Hayes (Tracey) Station, N. B. You know the symptoms of chronic constipation—sour stomach, belching, bad breath, heavy dull eyes, constant headaches, and general out-of-sorts feeling. Dr. Trues' Elixir will help you.—Adv.

Annual Memorial Services at First Congregational Church Sunday Afternoon

Lowell will pause in her busy career tomorrow and Monday to pay tribute to her heroes of the various wars in which this country has participated. Her 1921 Memorial Day program will be one of the most elaborate and impressive in years and unless all indications fail the various exercises will be attended by thousands.

Standing out prominently above the various features arranged for the observance will be the military mass for deceased veterans to be held on the South common on Memorial day morning and the traditional Memorial day parade in the afternoon. The military mass will be an innovation in local Memorial day observances, while the parade of G.A.R. veterans with their escort of other military and semi-military organizations is an event which

CLERK DILLINGHAM DEAD

Court Official, Well Known in Lowell, Died Suddenly in Malden Today

MALDEN, May 28.—William G. Dillingham, clerk of courts of Middlesex county, died suddenly at his home here today. He was at the courthouse in Cambridge yesterday in apparent good health. Mr. Dillingham was 73 years old. He had been clerk of courts 10 years.

FINED FOR UNLAWFULLY CARRYING PISTOL

When Arthur Maraganes appeared in the police court this morning, charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol, and was asked whether he wished to plead guilty or not guilty, he responded, "I had it, but I'm not guilty." He explained that he had worked four hours at the gas works and had been threatened by the strikers. So he armed himself in defence.

"This ought to be a warning to the strikers," declared Judge Enright. "This man says he armed himself with a revolver because of their threats. If they bothered him, somebody probably would have been shot. A fine of $100 was imposed and the defendant, appealing, was held in bonds of $200. Officers M. J. Connors and Hamilton made the arrest.

First "Poppy" Day Is Big Success; Lowell People Give Generously In Aid of War Heroes

MISS DOROTHY ALLEN SELLING A POPPY TO MAYOR THOMPSON IN MERRIMACK SQ.

The most striking success in the history of Lowell.

This was the verdict given out this afternoon from the Poppy day headquarters, at the office of Dr. J. T. Donahue, in the Rensselaer building. Other astounding features of the drive being conducted today and Monday for ill and wounded war veterans, by the local American Legion post and its ladies' auxiliary, included: provided by the committee during the early hours of the day.

The sale of the entire 20,000 poppies

The hurried securing of 20,000 more, which were rushed to the branch headquarters of the campaign, at the office of Joseph M. Dineen in the Bradley building.

The disposal by little Dorothy Allen, of Durant street, of 345 poppies, prior to the noon hour.

The most wonderful spirit on the part of the Lowell public that has been witnessed here since the days of the great war," according to Mrs. Charles Young, director general of the drive.

One of the first to purchase a scarlet flower was His Honor, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, whose poppy was handed him by little Miss Dorothy Allen directly in front of The Sun building in Merrimack square. Not only did the little girl have the honor of receiving the contribution of the city's

Leo Gauvreau Gets Five Months' Term in House of Correction

Leo Gauvreau, accused by Judge Enright at a recent hearing, with "lying and misrepresenting," was today sentenced to the house of correction for a term of five months on charges of neglecting his wife and child.

In addition to the defendant's other alleged misconduct, this morning the court told of being informed that Gauvreau went to city hall, representing himself as a single man and seeking state aid. Gauvreau, it was learned, has been receiving $145 from the federal government, and not contributing properly to his family's support. He appealed his sentence and was bonded in the sum of $200.

Charter Commission Defends Its Attitude on School Inspection Methods

Holds Safeguards Against Communicable Diseases Are Wholly Inadequate

A day or two ago Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, took the charter commission to task for the alleged unfairness of an article appearing in the local daily papers in which the medical inspection in the public schools was attacked. Mr. Molloy's statement in criticism of the commission's attitude has been met with the following rebuttal:

The statement of the superintendent of schools taking exception to the viewpoint of the charter commission, relative to the position of director of school hygiene, as provided for in the new charter, is interesting and permits a more elaborate explanation on the part of the commission. The imputation of a lack of "fairness and truth" is, however, a little unwarranted. The assertion that the article as presented by the commission is an "imaginative composition" and "absurd" is characteristic reference usually applied by the trained educator, to the judgment of the ordinary layman who

GRAVES OF VETERANS OF ALL WARS DECORATED

Deceased veterans of all the nation's wars have been remembered at the local cemeteries by decoration of their graves by their comrades, and the scrupulous care of the grounds by the cemetery authorities. During the past week, the Lowell posts of the G.A.R., the Spanish War Veterans and the American Legion, together with the Firemen's Relief association and other organizations here, have visited the last resting places of those who fought in company with them, and have placed flowers, flags and other tokens of remembrance on the mounds raised over the places where they lie. The Mexican War veterans have not been forgotten, although probably there are but a handful of survivors of that conflict alive throughout the entire nation. The local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, an organization of those who have served abroad during various wars and minor hostilities, has made it its special province to seek out the neglected graves of Mexican war heroes, and to tend them with the same care as is accorded to their own fellows in the wars that they have participated in. It is stated by W. C. Kirk of that body that to the best of the belief of the members of the local branch, there is not one neglected grave of a Mexican war veteran within the bounds of this city.

The American Legion, in honoring their dead this year, have replaced the old standards which had been placed on their graves with new ones. The standards formerly used bore the initials "W.V.V." but on those which have been substituted the words "World War Veteran" are given in full. The standards are star-shaped and each of the five points of the stars bear the insignia of some branch of the military or naval service. There is the castle of the engineering corps, the crossed sabres of the cavalry, the crossed rifles of the infantry, the crossed cannon of the artillery, and an anchor, symbolizing the sea fighters of the war.

At the Edison cemetery, Mr. Thomas Duckworth, superintendent, has made special efforts to have the grounds in the best possible condition for Memorial day. Many new pieces of shrubbery have been planted, and today a force of workmen completed the work of planting many new flower beds. Every path and stretch of green has been gone over with minute pains. The same is true at the Lowell cemetery. Mr. Charles K. Knapp, treasurer of the Lowell Cemetery corporation, together with Superintendent H. G. Mulino, has supervised the work on the grounds. Hundreds of flower beds are in full bloom, and the cemetery is in perfect condition for the exercises to be held there Monday by the various military bodies.

At St. Patrick's cemetery there has also been a general and thorough cleaning up of the grounds. The officials of the cemetery have spared no pains to prepare for Memorial day.

At all cemeteries the graves of veterans of the various wars have been decorated with flags, standards and wreaths. The firemen have placed standards upon the graves of their dead, and at the top of these are vases designed to hold flowers. Immortelles were placed in these during yesterday and today by members of the firemen's association, who visited all the cemeteries to honor their deceased comrades.

Quarter Century Ago

Says the old Sun: One of the prettiest and most successful affairs of the past season was held in Huntington hall last evening. It was a strawberry festival by the Y.M.C.L.I. of St. Michael's church.

Dancing was enjoyed by the guests. The Manhattan orchestra furnished delightful music. The officers were: General manager, Hugh F. Courtney; assistant, John J. Quirk; door marshal, W. H. Donehue; assistants, Hugh McNealey, R. J. McCluskey; chief aid, Charles E. Clark; aids, Thos. J. Gallagher, Thos. Heaps, Thos. Carmody, James Dwyer, Wm. Garrity, Luke Walsh, Harry Donohue, Wm. F. Saleida, Oscar Cunningham, James Conroy, John Healey, Joseph Pucell, Henry F. McClure, Dennis McCluskey, John Carriz, Clarence Cunningham, Edward Foye and James Dooley.

Origin of Memorial Day

From the old Sun I take the following extract of the report of the Memorial Sunday service: "A beautiful memorial service for dead soldiers, which is the feature of the Sunday preceding Memorial day, and which gave to that day the name Memorial Sunday, was held in Huntington hall yesterday afternoon. Old Glory waved from every portion of the stage, and the Stars and Stripes arrayed in pretty festoons and caught with shields formed a novel and effective archway over the stage. Around the platform were set potted plants, ferns and palms.

"The American orchestra rendered the opening number of the program and the First Baptist choir, directed by J. A. Baker, sang the hymn, 'Great and Glorious.' Scripture passages were read by Rev. E. J. Curran, after which Rev. O. H. Denney offered prayer."

Rev. Mr. Kennegott delivered the oration in the course of which he said: "The Grand Army of the Republic was organized for the purpose of preserving and strengthening those kind and fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors and marines, who united to suppress the late rebellion. When Gen. John A. Logan, the commander-in-chief, in May, 1863, sent out his order designating the 30th of May for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country, during the late rebellion, and whose bodies lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land, he revived in a most beautiful manner in the greatest modern republic, the custom of the ancient republic of Athens, and the order of John A. Logan, the great American citizen, for the observance of Memorial day, may well stand side by side through all the ages with the sublime eloquence and lofty patriotism of Pericles."

Children Decorated Butcher's Grace

"One of the prettiest and most appropriate features of Memorial day was the decoration of the grave of Gen. Butler by the children of the school named in his honor, the tribute of a rising generation to the valor of the past. There in the little old-fashioned cemetery of Hillside street, now crowded by the erection of buildings, marking time's great progress, lies the dust of the great hero. Alone, but by no means forgotten, for his memory and the memory of all the gallant boys of '61 will live forever in the hearts of a grateful nation."

Gargan Praised Greenhalge

Quarter of a century ago Hon. Thos. J. Gargan, an eloquent Boston lawyer, the friend of Hon. P. A. Collins and John Boyle O'Reilly, lectured before the Y.M.C.L.I. of St. Patrick's parish in Associate hall on "Men and Memorials." In the course of his remarks he referred to the desirability of a monument to the late Gen. Greenhalge, who had died a few months previous. The sentiment was applauded, but the proposition received no further backing. The following is from the report in the old Sun:

The speaker referred for the most part to his travels in Europe, describing most graphically the many grand memorials which he had seen in that world. He asked what was being done in Massachusetts to perpetuate the memory of great men. In Boston, he said, there are thirty monuments, some good, others bad. He thought that among the most beautiful would be the magnificent memorial of the late lamented John Boyle O'Reilly, which is soon to be unveiled. What more striking memorial could we have in Lowell, he asked, than a monument to celebrate the memory of the commander-in-chief, Frederick T. Greenhalge. The words of English poet, reading here a poem and underlining, and then to the highest position in the community. What a noble example for the youth of Lowell. If a statue of him were erected in one of our public squares. Such a thing helps to keep alive the glories of the past and awake in us a desire to live up to the standards of the heroes who have gone before us."

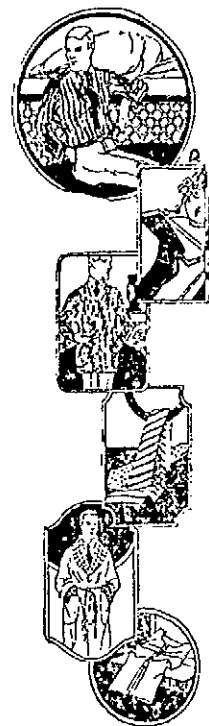

600 Killed by Cyclone

From the old Sun: "CHICAGO, May 28.—One of the greatest disasters of recent years occurred in the city of St. Louis last night in the shape of a cyclone, which began shortly after 8 o'clock and for a moment tore its awful way through the city, with a velocity of over 50 miles an hour. The number killed is estimated at between 500 and 600 and fully 1,000 have been seriously injured. The cyclone swept other towns in Missouri."

EDISON TELLS HOW WAR WAS WON

years ago, very substantial arrangements were made to our city charter in a bill signed by Gov. Wolcott. It was afterwards submitted to the people and adopted. It gave the mayor increased powers, established the police department, gave department heads power to hire and fire, and to make contracts subject to approval of the mayor when the amounts involved were over $500. It forbade members of the city council to take any part in the hiring of men or the purchase of supplies, provided that no purchase of more than $500 should be made by any officer, that all receipts except trust funds and water receipts should be turned to the treasury, that members of the city council to expend money be by year and may vote and that all claims should be passed upon by the committee on accounts.

"Who won the war?" has at last been answered by Thomas A. Edison. Just elected an enthusiastic member of the new society of quartermaster officers, of which Major General H. L. Rogers, quartermaster general of the army, is president. In his letter to General Rogers, Mr. Edison makes very apt remarks. "Industry joined hands with the armed forces of the nation and together they won the war." It will be noted that Mr. Edison makes no reference to the doughboys, but that the M.I.'s were really responsible for the victory.

Mr. Edison will be one of the guests of honor at the long-distance dinner given by the quartermaster corps of the army in June, with tables set on three continents, from Colombia to China, to say nothing of all the big cities of the United States from Boston to San Francisco, in celebration of the 140th anniversary of the birthday of the corps.

Unlike other military societies, the society of quartermaster officers included representatives of all the arms that stood behind the men behind the guns in war-time, as well as civilians who held commissions in the quartermaster corps, and it is this fact which has pleased Mr. Edison so highly. In compliment to him the society has chosen his message as its slogan.

"Pipe" Beats Cigaret in Golf

NEW YORK, May 28.—When the pipe is pitted against the cigaret in golf, the pipe wins. This explanation for the defeat of the American amateurs in the British title tournament this week, was offered by a veteran Scotch professional. "The temperament that goes with the pipe will always win over the cigaret of the average young American golfer. Let our boys cultivate the pipe and there will be a different story the next time the Americans cross the water," he declared.

Delivers U. S. Note To Mexico

MEXICO CITY, May 28.—George T. Summerlin, American charge d'affaires in this city, had a conference with President Obregon last night and it is said he handed to the president a memorandum from the state department in Washington. No official statement was made regarding the meeting which was described as "extremely cordial." The memorandum brought to this city by Mr. Summerlin upon his return from Washington was said to be in no sense an ultimatum which called upon Mexico to sign a treaty or protocol, as a condition to recognition. It was also asserted that it was not an embodiment of the report on Mexico submitted by Albert B. Fall, present secretary of the interior, which was submitted to the United States senate while Mr. Fall was a member of that body.

Bishop Lawrence to Take Complete Rest

BOSTON, May 28.—Bishop William Lawrence of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts announced today his withdrawal from official duties until the last of October. Failure to fully recover his strength after two major operations about two years ago and his need for a complete rest, were given as the reason in a letter sent to all the clergy in the diocese. Bishop Lawrence will be 71 years of age on Memorial Day. For the next few weeks, the affairs of the church will be conducted by Suffragan Bishop Samuel G. Babcock. He will sail for Europe on June 20 and thereafter the office will be taken over by the Rev. John McG. Foster, rector of the Church of the Messiah and president of the standing committee of the diocese.

HELD CHURCH BENEFIT TWO CHILDREN LOCKEDIN CLOSET FOUR DAYS*Local Wrestler Stages Wrestling Bout in C. M. A. C. Hall—Big Crowd

Some of the best local wrestlers gathered at the C. M. A. C. hall last evening and wrestled for the benefit of the new St. Jeanne d'Arc chapel in Pawtucketville. The affair had been organized by Fred Beauchamp, a local wrestler of wide reputation, who spared neither time nor effort to make the event a successful one, and the result obtained was very commendable, for the exhibition was one of the best given in this city in a long time, while the receipts of the evening were very substantial. There were over 400 people present. Referee Guilbault, who also acted the part of announcer, addressed the gathering briefly in the evening, thanking the wrestlers for their co-operation and those present for their encouragement.

The first match was between Gagne and Letourneau, and a draw was declared at the end of fifteen minutes. Then Beauchamp and Eliead, made their appearance and they were given a great reception. This match was to be the best two out of three falls in 30 minutes. The result was but one fall and that was credited to Beauchamp after 23 minutes of hard work. Johnson and Chakentian were next on the program and they wrestled for 30 minutes without securing a fall. Hamel and Levesneur, who were also booked for a 30-minute match, failed to put in an appearance.

Between the events Edward Ayotte gave an exhibition of clog dancing, while other entertainment numbers were given by local talent. The timer for the wrestling was M. Ledoux.

and without irritating delay. Fine weather conditions added not a little to the enjoyment of the 5,000 spectators who watched the students through their various evolutions.

The introduction of several pretty innovations in this year's exercises, especially the appearance in white of the boys of the freshman class and the colored willow wand drill of the sophomore girls, seemed to take from the occasion a little of the too-striking military character which dominated in previous years and amplified the opportunities for enjoyment for those who were looking on.

As usual, there was great interest in

The competitive drill brought out a field of 15 contestants but this was gradually narrowed down until the two prize winners were finally chosen.

An aesthetic dance by the freshman girls was another pretty number and the freshman boys in their gymnastic marching number presented a decided novelty. Next came Butts' manual by the boys' regiment and this time honored number was gone through with snap and precision. The junior girls in their Indian club number also indicated military discipline by their perfect execution of their exercises.

This was followed by the exhibition march of the girl officers in which floral bouquets were presented to practically every young woman in uniform.

Association Stands Pat on Position That Wages Must Be Cut 15 P. C.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The American Steamship Owners' association stands pat on its position that marine wages must be cut 15 per cent and that it will sign no agreements with sea-going unions.

This statement was made today by officials of the association after it had been announced in Washington that Chairman Benson of the shipping board and representatives of the marine engineers had reached an agreement over the reduction of wages involved in the nation-wide strike and that Secretary of Labor Davis was hoping to get the owners to participate in the agreement.

Winthrop L. Marvin, general manager of the association, withheld detailed comment, pending receipt of the actual terms of the proposed settlement.

"There will be no change in the attitude of the association as to the termination of the strike," he declared.

A general meeting of the membership has been called for Tuesday afternoon.

At the office of the Atlantic coast conference of the Engineers' Beneficial association it was said the committee which conferred with Admiral Benson had no authority to effect a final settlement.

"This committee can only report back to the unions at a meeting called for tomorrow afternoon," one of the union leaders said. "A settlement if any, is effected, must come from a vote of the men."

In the early part of the evening a buffet luncheon was served and later pleasing entertainment numbers were given, those participating being Mrs. Winnie Ready, Miss Marquita, Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Harriet Ready. NO ARREST YET IN RUM-RUNNING CASE

The arrest prophesied for yesterday by members of the police department in connection with the locally famed rum-running case, had failed to materialize up to noon today, although it had been confidently predicted that a culprit would be taken into custody yesterday.

The first official of the department to have visited Lowell recently in connection with the mysterious circumstances of the affair, which included the strange disappearance of a cousin on Willow street while hotly pursued by liquor officers, has not taken any action in the matter as far as is known.

It's Toasted

The evening promenaders on Merrimack street last night stopped and gave an excited ear, as the clang of a burglar alarm came from the rear of the Macgregory store, about 8 o'clock.

Lowellites, already fed up with reports of hold-ups and breaks, exclaimed "Another one!" and waited to see whether the culprits would get away, as they have done before. But it was all a practical joke, not of an individual, but of a burglar alarm.

For burglar alarms are the greatest little practical jokes on earth. Their delicate mechanical adjustment has before now created scares in crowded business sections. It turned out that what was needed was not the police limousine, laden with officers armed to the teeth with shooting-irons, but a good electrician armed with a well-whittled good electrician is armed with. One was secured, and the sinister clanging ceased.

CARUSO SAILS FOR HOMETOWN

NEW YORK, May 28.—Enrico Caruso, showing traces of his long and serious illness, today boarded the steamer President Wilson, bound for Italy, his hometown.

Extra guards were thrown about the pier to prevent the thousands of his admirers from delaying his party in going aboard. Flowers, sent by hundreds of friends, adorned the seven rooms that make up his suite aboard the vessel, and many telegrams and messages of the warmest and kindest return to health, were received.

First Poppy Day

chief executive, but it was reported by Mrs. Young that up to a late hour, this afternoon she had raised the total of the greatest number of sales and contributions.

She turned in her first donation box, brimming with silver, at the early hour of 3:45 a. m. Returning to her home, she found during the day the Burnsides' headquarters again at 10:30 a. m. her supply of poppies exhausted, and another box filled to overflowing with the willing gifts of the well-wishers. At noon, she brought to the drive committee her third full contribution box, and had made a record of 315 poppies sold, or in other words, nearly one-fifth of the entire 50,000 blossoms being sold by 250 young girls of the city.

"The attitude of the people of this city is wonderful," declared Mrs. Young, pausing from her feverish task of emptying her headquarters corps this afternoon. "I was able to get out on the streets for a few moments this morning, and I have never seen a more inspiring spectacle than the eagerness with which they bought poppies and presented their contributions."

"We haven't been trying to sell poppies today," said one worker of this morning. "We've been trying to provide poppies for the people who are trying to buy them." The same story was on the lips of every poppy girl interviewed during the day. As fast as the workers could obtain fresh baskets of the flowers, they were kept busy passing them out to those who wished to purchase. It was no unusual sight to see several people waiting on the street at the side of some little white-clad flower girl, watching for their turn to buy.

Before the opening of the police court session by a fair-haired little lass, who had disposed of her stock within the space of a few minutes. The office of Deputy Downey was visited, and the deputy was one of the first to pin a poppy to his blue uniform coat. Chief of police Welch, together with Lieut. Maher, all the sergeants, inspectors, and officers, received a call, and bought poppies. The clerk of court's office welcomed the little girl as an honored guest, and every member of the police court staff, together with all the lawyers who were present for the trial of cases, were eager customers as were those who occupied the spectators and witnesses' benches in the courtroom. At city hall every public official and all the municipal employees were wearing the red flowers at an early hour, while the dresses of women and the coat lapels of men exhibited the blossoms on the street. But one was not enough for most people. They bought again and again.

The first donation coming across with the first donation towards the success of the "Poppy Days" went to the B. F. Butler relief corps, when that body earlier in the week forwarded to the committee a preliminary contribution of $5. The spirit of this gift, with its desire to hold the premier place in saving the worthy cause of the war veterans, continued to race again.

and 279 degrees. Now, the bureau finds, it is between 246 and 270 degrees.

Greater Supply
While consumption of gasoline increased 450,000,000 gallons last year over that of 1919, production of this fuel was 626,000,000 gallons above that of the year before.

There is no fear of shortage either, says the bureau of mines. In fact, the United States geological survey comes along with the report that, at present rate of consumption, the world's supply of crude oil could supply the United States market for 144 years.

The world's deposits of oil are more than 15,000,000,000 barrels. Consumption in the United States in 1920 was 61,175,579 barrels.

No Higher Prices Seen
No increase of prices in the fuel field is likely, say officials of the national fuel oil chamber of commerce. The point last summer was between 241 and 279 degrees.

that many refineries have had to shut down for lack of business.

In spite of this, gasoline supply continues far ahead of last year's. Latest figures for this year show 10,079,609 gallons of gasoline were produced last February as against a production in February, 1920, of 9,726,985 gallons!

How Gas Supply Exceeds Demand

How the production of gasoline in the United States has been keeping ahead of its consumption, is shown as follows:

1917—Gal. supplied, 2,850,546,423; gal. used, 2,594,704,251; excess supply over demand, 144,157,323.
1918—Gal. supplied, 3,570,312,363; gal. used, 3,555,242,813; excess supply over demand, 14,929,550.
1919—Gal. supplied 3,957,857,097; gal. used, 3,505,320,619; excess supply over demand, 149,456,445.
1920—Gal. supplied, 4,332,546,639; gal. used, 4,236,478,004; excess supply over demand, 92,115,634.

FIRE WARNINGSPlay Safe to Keep the Car in Service

Fire hydrants and clanging firebells should be safety warnings to cautious motorists.

Keep away from fire hydrants. Not only because it's against the law to park close to them. In case of fire nearby, a car too near a hydrant must be moved and the firemen are not slow or careless about it either. Locked cars, pushed away in a hurry, are in danger of injury.

Firebells heard while driving are a warning to move to the right immediately and stop. Never look to see which way the fire trucks are coming. Stop immediately and there will be no accident.

Even where there is no ordinance against parking in narrow streets, it would be safer for auto drivers not to park there. Fire routes are usually not through narrow streets but any thing might happen to force fire trucks to take such streets. And a fast moving engine in a narrow street puts the cars curbed alongside in danger of destruction.

Automobiles nowadays are not built for speed. Service is what the manufacturer seeks to sell in his products, and service is what the automobile owner wants.

Speed, above the normal rate, puts a strain on the car that lowers its efficiency and reduces its serviceability. The car that is run in spirits of excessive speed spends about as much time in repair as in service. To keep in service an even, reasonable rate of speed must be maintained.

Time may be gained by "stepping on her" on long, straight stretches, but the danger of being stopped by some accident is increased so that the fellow going at an even rate of speed may get there first.

TEST TUNNEL FOR AIR

Ventilation is the big problem of engineers planning the Hudson river vehicular tunnel at New York. They are making tests on a model at the University of Illinois, to learn how best to draw out the exhaust gases and pump in fresh air.

STRICT AGAINST GLARE

New York motorists driving into Connecticut are turned back if they have not the proper devices against glaring headlights. Inspectors are on duty every night on the Boston post road, not far from the New York line.

LITTLE LIGHTHOUSES FOR THE BLIND

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 25.—When the little bride tucks away her honeymoon memories with her wedding clothes and gets down to the serious business of housekeeping, she finds herself confronted with a real job. She's got to keep her eyes open every minute, as the saying is, in order to keep the wheels of her menage running smoothly. But suppose she didn't have any eyes—suppose she were totally blind—what sort of a housekeeper do you think she would make? Just as good as if she could see," says Mrs. Charles Lyons of 641 Tenth avenue, New York city. Mrs. Lyons has been blind since infancy, but no one could find any fault with her housekeeping. In fact, she is known as a perfect housekeeper and the righted folk of the neighborhood often come to her to find out sundry little household secrets. The little flat where she and her blind husband live, is always in apple-pie order. Not only does Mrs. Lyons do her marketing, but the meals she prepares are gastronomic joys. She does all the washing and ironing and mending. "I used to give out my husband's shirts," she will tell you, "but the laundry didn't do them to suit me, and so I do them myself. I like things just so!" Mrs. Lyons is a modern woman in every respect. Her mornings are devoted to her home, but in the afternoon she helps her husband sell papers on a street corner in New York which has known them every day, rain or shine, for the past two years. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons, although both totally blind, are completely self-supporting and almost independent of the aid of sighted people. It isn't difficult to get along without eyes, Mr. and Mrs. Lyons have found out. "It doesn't bother me at all. I know where everything is in my home and I have my household work so systematized that it has become purely

MISS MARION TIFFANY (ABOVE), AND BELOW, HER CALLOT WEDDING GOWN AND THE BENDLE MODEL USED FOR THE GOWNS OF HER SIX BRIDESMAIDS. MISS TIFFANY'S WEDDING TO MARTIN SAPORTAS WILL TAKE PLACE IN JUNE.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Miss Marion Tiffany will become the bride of Martin E. Saportas, a half after four o'clock on the afternoon of June the first. The wedding will take place at the home of Mrs. Louis Noel, New York city.

Miss Tiffany, who is the daughter of Perry Tiffany and whose mother is Mrs. Henry Fletcher Godfrey, will wear a Callet gown, done in satin with embroidered net and pearls. Her veil, which will sweep the floor full six feet, is of tulle. Her flowers will be a shower bouquet of orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. Mrs. George Tillon, only sister of the bride, will be the matron of honor. The six bridesmaids will be Mrs. Shanna May, Mrs. S. Stokes, Jr., Miss A. Hoffman, Miss G. Glendenin, Miss P. Alexandre and Miss M. Shroder. The six maids will wear Bendle gowns sharply cut and of similar material. Their color scheme will be pink and yellow and their medium tulle and lace. The intimate garments of the bride's trousseau are of the sheerest handkerchief linen and it is said that for her traveling gown she has selected one of her favorites which she has worn for a season. Saportas is the son of Mrs. R. Brown Saportas.

SUIT IS PLAIN

Her suit must be plain and depend upon line and material for its elegance as does this designed for Sally Melgrim, Paramount star.

"mechanical. I use the gas stove with as much ease as any sighted person."

Mrs. Lyons has made a success not only of housekeeping, but of matrimony also.

"I had several chances to marry sighted men," she remarked, "but I chose Charlie because I felt there would be a deeper understanding between us. And then—and she smiled, "he won't be able to see me get old and wrinkled. And I've never regretted my choice either."

Mr. and Mrs. Lyons were "set up" in business through the New York Association for the Blind which has come into contact with many thousands of blind persons since its organization 15 years ago. Through its four corporations, The Lighthouse, an industrial school for the adult blind, the Bourns workshop for men, the hearing house for shop men and the River Light-house, the playground of the blind at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, the New York

AFTERNOON GOWN.

An afternoon frock of dark material is necessary. An original touch is the braided material such as Martha Mansfield, Selznick, wears.

Association has broadened the lives of thousands of blind.

To extend its work in America, France and Italy, the committee on Lighthouses for the Blind, formed by Miss Winifred Holt, who is also the founder of the entire work among the blind, is now engaged in a campaign to raise $2,000,000. President Harding is honorary treasurer. Franklin D. Roosevelt is chairman. Checks should be sent to Lewis L. Clarke, treasurer of the committee, at the Lighthouse, 111 East Fifty-ninth st, New York.

MISS NELLIE T. HOLT

SQUARE WHITE, Mont., May 23.—"Quit! Not I," declares Miss Nellie T. Holt.

She fled a claim last year and built a two room house. Only the well was left on the place when she returned this spring after spending the winter here, editing her paper.

Neighbors could not explain the disappearance of the house. Miss Holt believes cattle interests opposed to her encroaching on grazing land removed it.

"I'll show 'em," she said, as she started to build another house.

GIRLS' CLUB NEW HOME

Beautifully appointed rooms have been secured as the new home of the Girls' City club, at the Merrimack gardens, and these will be ready for occupancy June 1. "Moving day" is every day at present at the old headquarters on the top floor of the Runels-building. The new quarters, which have been elaborately decorated, will remain as the permanent local home of the organization.

READING

TAM-O'-SHANTER

With the flapper, tam-o'-shanter are again finding favor. They are of wool, all cloth, taffia and occasionally of straw or leather.

TROUSERS ARE NEW AND SMART

The velvet jacket with puffy silken trousers is clever. And for the girl who loves the subtle draperies, there is georgette made with a square overdrape. Martha Mansfield, Selznick, originated the fashion; Leatrice Joy, Goldwyn, posed for the gown.

SIMPLE LINGERIE

Her lingerie should be simplicity itself, if she would achieve that sought-for air of elegance.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

The White-Topped Egg Secret—Menus By Sister Mary

To make white-topped poached eggs is a simple trick. Just put a cover on the pan!

The steam cooks the film of white over the yolk and makes the eggs most attractive to look at as well as eat.

The cover should fit tightly enough to prevent escape of the steam.

Menu for Tomorrow

BREAKFAST—Strawberries with uncooked cereal, poached eggs, hot buttered toast, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Fried potatoes, creamed tuna fish, ginger bread, sandwiches, tea.

DINNER—Broiled lamb chops, new potatoes, buttered asparagus, fruit dessert, nut cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Old-fashioned fried potatoes make a welcome change in the luncheon menu.

Plain boiled potatoes sliced into hot "fryings," salt and pepper are the ingredients required. But stirring them so the potatoes won't be burned but will be nicely browned is the secret of the popularity of the dish.

Ginger Bread Sandwiches

One-half cup sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cloves, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 cup boiling water, 2 eggs.

Soften butter. Mix sugar, molasses and butter. Add flour and spices. Mix thoroughly. Add boiling water with soda dissolved in it. Add eggs well beaten. Bake in a loaf.

Filling

Two packages Neufchatel cheese, 1 cup finely chopped nuts, 1/4 cup chopped dates, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon cream, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Mix ingredients to a smooth paste. More cream may be needed. Cut cool ginger bread into slices, 1/4 inch thick. Spread with filling and cover with another slice of ginger bread.

When the ceremony is over, if the wedding is a home affair, the bride couple will turn toward the guests and congratulations will begin.

PROCEDURE

For the home wedding the party must be small, but the order of procedure is the same whether the party be one of few or many people.

The flower girl, if there is one, comes first, then the bridesmaids in pairs, the maid of honor alone and then the bride on the arm of her father or her nearest relative.

The bridegroom, with the best man should have entered from the side and stand by waiting at the altar for the bride and her party. The father waits to give the bride away, and then returns to his place beside his wife, which will be in a section near the front, which has been reserved for the families. The bride should be at the right of the bridegroom so the matter of slipping the wedding ring will not be difficult.

When the ceremony is over, if the wedding is a home affair, the bride couple will turn toward the guests and congratulations will begin.

ORNAMENTATION

Ties and panels are found in great numbers on the new fall suits and they are following any line they fancy for the moment.

GREEN

In London there is a vogue for green for street and evening wear. For dress one invariably finds net with Chantilly dyed to match and put over a basis of pink or ivory satin. Bodices which cross from the shoulders are worn most.

USE BRUSH

A small stiff brush is a good thing for the woman who travels or lives where she must use wash bowls and bath tubs which other folks use. With it the inside of the bowl or tub can be washed out before using.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Signor Frisco's Phenomenal Demonstration at Keith's Next Week—Two Performances Tomorrow

Margaret Young, the inimitable Detroitian, will be retained for the two performances at the B. F. Keith theatre tomorrow, and she will give some new song numbers which have never been sung outside of New York. Sully & Houghton will also be on the bill with new comedy and music. Other acts for the day will be Marshall Montgomery, ventriloquist; Shirner & Fitzsimmons, in comedy; and Frank & Elsie Britton in their new musical act. Other acts for the day are Mack & James, and Douglas & Leary.

Signor Frisco, who will be next week's headliner, announces that he will entertain a bit. As a matter of fact he is a xylophonist, and the first player on this instrument to use four hammers, which is very much the same as if he were a violinist and used two bows. The xylophone to Signor Frisco is a very important instrument and he has made its study a life work with him. He has an engaging personality, a sense of humor and undoubted musical genius.

Emmet Gilfoil and Elsie Lange in a potpourri of unique specialties are comedies in the theatrical world. Until Anna Held inherited her mother's fortune and retired from the stage, Emmet Gilfoil was her partner. Then he became a second Paris and went in quest of a beautiful woman for his new partner, and he found her in Elsie Lange. The setting of their act is quite the most pretentious seen in a long time. In addition Gilfoil and

Lange are really very clever performers. "Why Be Serious?" is Will Mahoney's act for the week. Mahoney is a monologist and each word of his patter is a stepping stone to laughter. Mahoney has a slogan to the effect that first come the smiles, then the chuckles and after them the laughter. He works progressively.

Will Holmes and Iva Holliston engage in town and country repartee. Holmes is the countryman, and Miss Holliston is the woman from the city. They produce some sizzling talk, that is alive with laughter. Bobby Adams and Jewell Barnett are girls who sing and play and have some sprightly chatter. Their act is called "Personality Plus." The Three Kervilles, who are labelled as trick billiardists, really do a lot more. They juggle, cycle and skate. A man and two pleasing women constitute the trio. A dancing act that is a whirl from start to finish is given by George and May LaFevre, and they call their offering "At the Bal Masque."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE:

Dorothy Dalton in "The Idol of the North," Big Feature For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

The best productions, featuring the best stars and presented at merely nominal prices, have long been the chief ingredients in the success of the Merrimack Square theatre as a playhouse. Thousands of Lowell people have become accustomed to expecting the best at all times at this theatre and rarely have they been disappointed.

The Sunday features will include House Peters in "Silk Husbands and Calico Wives," and Mary MacLaren in "Her Five Foot Highness." The usual excellent surrounding program will also be carried out.

For the holiday program on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the outstanding attractions will be "The Idol of the North," starring capable Dorothy Dalton, and Lois Weber in "Too Wise Wives." A third feature will be Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck," one of his most successful comedies.

Dorothy Dalton is back again in the role of a daughter of the great Canadian northwest, a similar character to that in which she made such a success in "The Flame of the Yukon" several years ago. It was in such a role as she has in "The Idol of the North," J. Clarkson Miller's story that Miss Dalton gained her reputation as a screen star.

Miss Dalton plays Colette Brisson, daughter of a French Canadian miner, who fled to the wilderness to escape arrest for having killed a man. She is left without father and mother in a mining town built up over night and obtains a position in the Aurora Borealis, a saloon and dance hall of the town. She soon becomes one of the biggest drawing cards of the saloon and plays unmercifully with the miners, "trimming" them for all they are worth, but still retaining the most desired of all the girls.

In the dance hall she meets Martin Bates, a young engineer who has come from New York after a series of financial difficulties, and who fast becomes a worthless drunkard. In order to get even with the way she has treated them, the miners force her to marry Bates. After the first shock Colette decides to make the best of it and determines to make a man of him. After many incidents of dramatic interest she succeeds not only in regenerating Bates but also in winning his love.

"Too Wise Wives," the Lois Weber production, which is the second feature of the bill, will surely create a highly favorable impression. The story treats of a woman who marries because of her need of money. Her old sweetheart weeds because he is piqued at her desertion. His old flame, after her marriage, makes covert advances to her former sweetheart, and the latter, although happily married, narrowly misses being caught in the trap she sets for him.

The photoplay is staged in superb settings. The marble home of a New York millionaire on the Pacific coast was used, and gowns direct from the best Parisian modistes are worn by the stars. "Hard Luck," the Buster Keaton comedy, is the third and most amusing feature of the bill. There's no use attempting to describe the antics of the inimitable Buster here; you'll have to see him to appreciate him. The International News will round out the bill.

"Honors Are Even"—New Rol Cooper Megrue Comedy at the Opera House
Last Three Days of Coming Week Coming to the Opera House next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the new Rol Cooper Megrue comedy, "Honors Are Even" which has broken the season's record for long runs in Boston, is William Courtenay. The Salome starring Mr. Courtenay in conjunction with Miss Lola Fisher. Last season we had the pleasure of seeing the famous New England actor in "Civilian Clothes" and it is said by those who have seen the play in Boston that his new role is far ahead of anything he has yet undertaken. Seven years ago Mr. Megrue wrote "Under Cover" and featured Mr. Courtenay in the popular role of "R. J." He later appeared in "Under Fire," a war play by the same author. After that he formed a partnership with Thomas Wise, and the two were extremely popular and successful in "Pala First," "General Post" and "Copy Right." In "Honors Are Even" Mr. Courtenay takes the part of a play-wright who is a confirmed bachelor and glories in it. He meets a pretty, pumpered daughter of a very rich man. She fancies him and despite his protestations to the contrary, he, too, is a bit touched. The two have many a battle of wits and strategy and in the end, as the author says, honors are even. The suave, polished manner of William Courtenay is admirably suited to the role and his warm, lovable personality adds much to the author's conception. Mr. Megrue, the author, and Mr. Courtenay are close personal friends, and many claim that the role is based on Megrue's own life story. Whether that be true or not, Mr. Courtenay has a wonderful conception of the part and makes it extremely live and interesting. Courtenay was born in Worcester, Mass., was educated at Holy Cross college, and ran away to join a Portland, Me., stock company. His success on the stage was phenomenal from the beginning. After a very short experience he was engaged by Richard Mansfield and was for many seasons a member of that famous actor's organization. From him Courtenay acquired the poise and polish which has been the secret of his success. He has been, probably, the most sought after leading man on the American stage, having supported, prior to his own stellar days, such stars as Doris Keane, Virginia Harned, Clara Bloodgood and others.

THE STRAND

Wonderful Pictures and Interesting Stories at The Strand Next Week—
Special Attractions for Sunday

A genuine motion picture treat is in store for the patrons of The Strand for the coming week. Film offerings of high magnitude, and stories which have made striking successes on all sides, are included in the program which General Manager Soriero has arranged for this week. During the first three days of the week the big Metro special, "Coincidence," with the late Robert Harron, the one-time Griffith star, in the leading role, and Pauline Frederick, the emotional queen of the screen, in "The Mistress of Shenstone," will head the bill, beginning with a matinee on Monday afternoon to give nothing of the added attraction of Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck." For the last three days, starting with the matinee performance on Thursday, Alice Joyce, in the big Frohman stage success, "Cousin Kate," in which Edith Barrymore starred, and Harry Carey in "If Only Jim" will be featured. As a special attraction at the Sunday concert, Charles Barton, who played a successful stock season at the Opera House, will give one of his entertaining offerings. He will be assisted by Paul Angelo, pianist. The chief attraction of the week is the new and entire change of motion pictures will also be offered on the bill.

The showing in "Coincidence," with Robert Harron as the star, recalls to mind the tragic death of this popular and clever screen favorite, one whom Griffith selected from many as a star in some of his big productions. His death was said to be the result of an accidental shooting, at the time "Coincidence" was in the making. It was the last picture in which this film star appeared. The picture is a lively recital of youthful mishaps that rattle through "on high" from beginning to end. June Walker assisted Mr. Harron in the leading female role. Briefly, the story is of Billy Jenkins, who comes to New York and obtains employment in a Fifth Avenue department store. Money that he is counting on to get a girl who is in love with him, but the mishaps that befall him, both as a man and a vaudeville actor, and an epidemic of coincidences finally come to an end. The story was written by Howard E. Morton and adapted for the screen by Brian Hooker.

Just before the production of "The Mistress of Shenstone," Miss Pauline Frederick's newest screen creation, she engaged in her third matrimonial venture. So it is said, briefly, indeed, does the public have an opportunity of witnessing a screen production, far removed from all that is sordid and repulsive, and yet one which touches upon every shade of human emotion. In "The Mistress of Shenstone," such a production is presented. The star with all the art at her command invests the character of Lady Ingelby, with sympathy, strength of character and humanness, which even the power of the written word failed to convey. Her time and talent, to a revelation and must need be seen to be fully appreciated. Don't miss seeing the play and the player.

The third feature on the bill for the first part of the week is one of those delightful and happy Buster Keaton comedies, called "Hard Luck" in which the star is seen in some of his funniest stunts.

McDONALD ESTATE

VALUED AT $102,341

It is announced that the estate of Thomas J. McDonald has been appraised in New York city as being worth $102,341. The estate is left to Mary E. McDonald, widow of the deceased.

Mr. McDonald had been identified with the grain business in Lowell for many years previous to his death. He had been a director of the Western National bank and also a member of the Highland club. His residence was at 820 Broadway.

CHARLES BARTON AT STRAND
The feature number on the bill at The Strand for Sunday will be Charles Barton, recently with the Lowell Players, and one of Lowell's biggest favorites, in a novelty of his own. He will be assisted by Paul Angelo, pianist. The rest of the program will be made up with big-time vaudeville acts and an entire change of superior photographs. "The Man Who Stayed at Home" will be the feature picture. It's the biggest and best picture bill in town. And this theatre is always cool and comfortable.

MEMORIAL DAY IN TYNGSBORO
Rev. E. Ambrose Jenkins, of North Chelmsford, will be the speaker at the Memorial day exercises, which will be held in the Tyngsboro town hall Monday morning at 10:45 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Adams orchestra of Chelmsford, while selections will be given by a male quartet. At noon dinner will be served by the men of the Evangelical church.

First Poppy Day

encouraged the workers, and it was requested that publicity be accorded the incident. The Sun was able, on the same day, to announce that Dr. John T. Donohue had turned over the use of his private office in the Kuneles building as a general headquarters for the drive, during the three days from May 28 to May 30. The committee voted to accept Dr. Donohue's offer, and sent their thanks to him. The Kuneles building was decided upon as the centre of activities, although through the generosity of other local men branch headquarters were secured in various parts of the business section.

It was announced that Flanders poppies would be planted around city hall and at Fort Hill park, by the park department. It was found impossible to carry this design into effect during the drive, and at Fort Hill the usual bedding plants are replacing the tulip bulbs, and at city hall, although no poppies have been put in place, the building is elaborately decorated with flags and bunting of the national colors, which cover the entire front of the structure, and make an effective vista from Merrimack street.

The formalities of the affair, which municipal ordinances require, were quickly transacted several days ago, when Mayor Henry D. Thompson announced that the official permit to sell the poppies on the streets of Lowell today and Monday would be granted. A conference at city hall preceded this statement of His Honor, and it was agreed that a flower day enterprise was nothing less than a vital duty. In order that Lowell veterans in hospitals or with families in need of circumstances due to economic stress and abnormal employment situation might receive at least a small part of the aid which their country owes them for their self-sacrifice and patriotism. The local post was represented by John J. Walsh, Charles Devno, Stephen C. Garrity, Arthur Turcotte, and Joseph M. Dineen. The ladies auxiliary had as its representatives Mrs. Charles Young, chairman of the Poppy Days committee; Mrs. Edward McDermott, Mrs. T. Reick, Mrs. W. H. Merritt, Mrs. George Robbins, Mrs. Thomas Lee, and Mrs. Paul T. Kirtledge.

The Purpose of Drive

The purpose of the drive was stated as follows: "The Lowell public has been asked very often to add people who do not live here, and who will never live here. The objects in the past have all been very worthy, but let us do something, for once, for the boys who went out of this city and who are now in hospitals, or who are ill, or whose families need attention. It is a poor kind of charity that doesn't look after the home folks once in a while, and we have got right to the point where we must do something for them. The money that will be collected from the sale of poppies on Saturday, May 29, and Monday, May 30, will all go to the treasurer of a local bank, and from time to time as we need it. It will be used to help the boys in hospitals, who need help. They are in local hospitals, they are at Groton, they are in other places. We need the money very badly, for our funds are wholly depleted, and it will be impossible to help the veterans unless something is done."

Twenty thousand of the red flowers, manufactured by French factories, and exact replicas of the actual blossoms which grew over the graves of dead American heroes in Flanders, were received at the Bradley building office of Joseph M. Dineen, of the committee, and arrangements for distribution to the 250 young women volunteers at once got under way.

Several meetings of the committee of both legion and auxiliary were held, at which plans were perfected, boxes for the reception of donations were secured, and team captains were appointed.

Contract Street Work

placed in circulation. Up to noon today about 50 of these had been returned, more or less completely filled with names. Each petition contains blanks for 52 signers. If every blank on the returned petitions has been filled a total of 6560 signatures has been accumulated. About 3000 signatures are necessary to compel the council to act on the order forbidding the construction or reconstruction of streets otherwise than by contractors.

Not All Filled

It is stated, however, that not all of the blanks are completely filled, and it is expected that some of the names will fail to pass muster when they get before the election board. The work of comparing the signatures with corresponding names on the voting lists was going on in the chamber's rooms today. The latest voting list available is that for 1920. As this does not contain a complete roster of voters for the present year it is impossible to ascertain definitely whether the names of some of the signers can be counted as part of the required 3000.

It is announced that the number of names found thus far of voters who have failed to sign their names exactly as they are carried on the voting lists has been comparatively small. No attempt is to be made at the present time to have those who have signed incorrectly furnish proper signatures, as it is believed that an abundance of correct names will be attached to the petitions before the municipal council.

the petitions to get the measure before the council.

No Letting-up

The officials of the chamber are anxious that the impression should not get abroad that the time has yet come for letting-up in the drive for petition signatures. They feel that it is desirable to have an ample reserve of names to allow for any possible action of the election commissioners in throwing out signatures. It is also believed that the moral effect of widely signed petitions is worth considering.

When the drive for names will end is uncertain. The board of directors of the chamber is to meet next Wednesday at noon. It is thought probable that at that time action will be taken to call in all petitions and announce the campaign ended. It is said to be probable that next Saturday night will end the time in which petitions may be filed.

Ready for City Work

If the signature-gathering campaign ends the last of next week it is probable that the petitions will be ready for presentation to the city clerk, as required by the city charter, by the middle of the following week, or about June 5. Ten days are allowed for the election commission to canvass the signatures and in the event that a number of names less than the 20 per cent required by law to bring the matter before the voters at a special election is found thereon, another ten days may be allowed for filing additional signatures. At the expiration of the 10 or 20 days, the city clerk must place the petitions before the municipal council.

The council must either pass the order as requested exactly as submitted within 20 days or submit the question to the voters at a special election which must be held within not less than 10 nor more than 60 days from the filing of the date on which the petitions are submitted to the council by the city clerk.

The Longest Time

The longest time that can elapse between the filing of the petition with the clerk and its submission to the voters, if the order is not adopted by the council, is, therefore, 70 days. The shortest possible time in which the proposition could get before the voters is about 41 days. By speeding-up all along the line the election, if there is one, might come as early as July 20, while the most snail-like pace could not defer it much after Aug. 18.

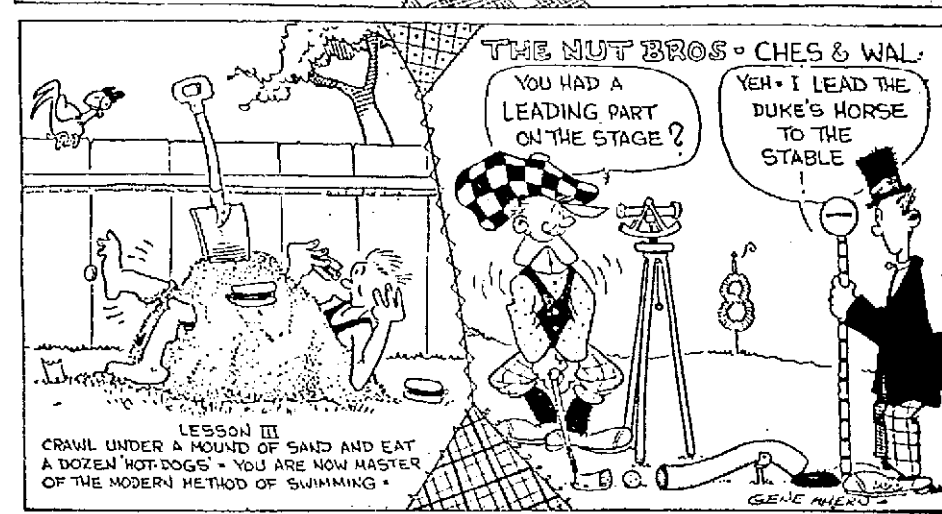

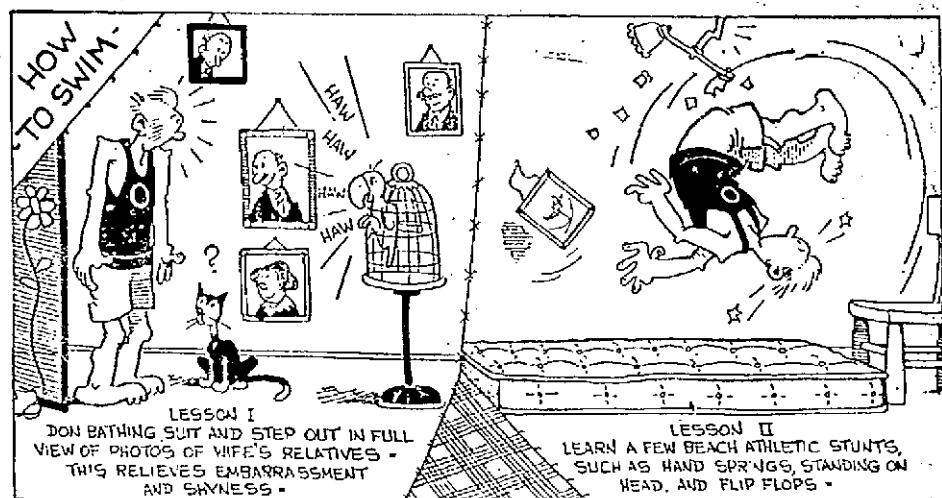

The bearers of signed petitions made a more or less continuous procession into the chamber's rooms (this morning. Among the number were several women who have been enthusiastic workers in gathering names. All of those presenting petitions were greeted by Notary Public Joseph L. Pigeon, who administered an oath that the city charter requires shall be attached to each separate sheet of initiative petitions.

Visit of School Children

The exhibit of the products of the textile industries of the city, now open in the chamber of commerce rooms, continues to attract the attention of visitors. Yesterday afternoon it was inspected by a number of school children who were accompanied by their teachers.

MEMORIAL DAY

Consider! the fact that it is just sixty years since the furies of internecine war were loosed on this broad land by the effort of the southern states to sever this Union and by the glorious struggle of the north not only to save the Union, but to give it a new meaning, a new solidarity, a new birth of freedom and to give full effect to the immortal words of Webster by having "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

The survivors of the Grand Army who with their arms on Monday to honor our fallen heroes, represent the great army of freedom who responded to the call of a President Lincoln and who fought through those four years of bloody strife from Sumner to Appomattox. It may be that the glory of their achievement as viewed in the perspective of history will be under-estimated; but let it be remembered that had the south prevailed, our freedom would have been lost, our republic dismembered and our people degraded. God willed it otherwise; and so "The Young Men of the West" emerged from the strife with many scars (as true, but with complete triumph over the spirit of rebellion. The Union was saved; the hope of humanity, the asylum of the oppressed, the new found home of freedom was saved to posterity and to the world, saved to become the beaconlight of freedom in whose lurid flames were written across the very heavens from the Atlantic to the Pacific the great truths of human liberty, the equality of all men before the law and the inalienable right of every man to the enjoyment of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

And so, on this Memorial day, consecrated to the memory of our patriot dead, as the men of the Grand Army in their narrow ranks stand by the graves of their departed comrades, a grateful nation hails them as the last remnant of a noble army that achieved one of the greatest victories in all history—the overthrow of slavery and the preservation of a glorious republic that it will be the duty of their posterity with equal patriotism and equal heroism to sustain and defend forever.

As these veterans totter along our streets or, bowed by the weight of years, occupy carriages in the procession, they will find as their escorts, the young men of today, the men who but recently responded to their country's call and who on foreign fields shed a lustre on their country and ended a world struggle that threatened to destroy civilization itself. These men are the nation's defenders, the worthy successors of the Grand Army; they are part of the American Legion, to which in the natural order will soon be assigned the great trust of our nation's defense, the guardianship of our liberties against every enemy, whether external or internal, foreign or domestic.

In this new army of liberty our young men proved worthy of their sires. They were drafted against the best trained armies of Europe and made short work of them. But many made the supreme sacrifice and hence there will be on our streets on this Memorial day, watching the procession, the mothers of the Golden Star, Spartan-like in spirit and patriotism, who, while watching the ranks of marching men in martial array, are touched with emotion and turn from the scene to shed a tear for their boys who sleep in Flanders field or mayhap in the depths of the pathless ocean.

Hail to the men of the Grand Army, hail to the boys of the American Legion, and hail to the mothers of the Golden Star! While the country has been ever ready to spring to her defense when danger threatens, as in 1781, as in 1858, and in 1917, her liberties will be secure.

On this Memorial day, the dead speak from their graves in a voice that appeals to every citizen to be true to the sacred trust of heaven-born freedom thus handed down by the heroes of one age to those of another. It is not alone on the battlefield amid the lightnings of war that these liberties are to be guarded and conserved. Patriotism demands that they be honored in the most obscure places as well as in the high positions of public trust; but in times of peace, it is to our elected officials in city, state and nation, that the masses must look for inspiration; and unless the latter show true courage and patriotism in following the path of duty as they see it, they will stand condemned as traitors to their country and their God. For no man who looks out upon this warring world today can doubt that this is the land of promise, favored by God's divine guidance and destined to bring its people to a state of peace, happiness and prosperity unequalled in all history.

Nor mighty armies' tread
Could a nation great sustain
Were civic virtue dead.

Nations cannot win success
By wickedness and fraud;
To succeed they must progress
Within the laws of God.

Religion, liberty and law
Are bulwarks of the state
That all righteous forces draw
To make a nation great.

Service to our country comes down finally to individual responsibility. However obscure a man's position may be, if he performs his duty faithfully, he is practicing patriotism as well. It is with less danger to himself, it is with more honor, that the man who led the charge at Chateau Thierry or in the swamps of the marshes in the ordinary course of events there are comparatively few opportunities for the display of heroism; but let it be remembered that—

"They also serve who only stand and wait."

Every day life is more or less common-places and monotonous; but every day brings its patriotic duties, its obligations imposed by our glorious constitution and our heritage of freedom, and it is by performing these duties in a fearless, faithful and straightforward manner that we can best serve the state and promote liberty and justice, peace and prosperity for all the people.

DROPPING A NICKEL

The jingling of the nickel, as it zig-zags its way into the fare box as the price of a ride, seems destined to soon become a pleasant sound in the ears of passengers on the street cars in most of the cities covered by the lines of the Elevated in the vicinity of Boston.

Sometime ago the trustees of the Elevated started out to find a solution of the problem which the gentlemen in charge of our own transportation system appear to have thus far ignored; namely, discovering a way to increase revenue by offering an inducement for short-haul passengers to use the cars. As is the case in Lowell, the Elevated had its quota of long-haul travelers, who were bound to use the cars in any event, unless the fare rate should be made wholly prohibitive.

The road found, however, that persons who had comparatively short distances to travel preferred walking to paying the regular high rate of fare. Clearly these short-distance travelers would prove extremely profitable to the company if they could be induced to use the cars.

As an experiment the company named a five-cent fare, without transfers on some of its shorter routes. Then it extended the concession to include the lines in Malden and Everett. This week Saturday a large part of two cars in Somerville and Medford will begin to carry short-haul passengers for a nickel.

This means, for instance, that passengers may travel between any two points on the West Medford-Sullivan square line—which is probably longer than any single route in Lowell, for a five-cent fare. That many travelers will, as a consequence, be attracted to the cars seems to be the opinion of the public trustees. That the success of the lower fares in Malden and Everett furnished the basis for the latest experiment seems a reasonable conclusion.

Is it too much to expect that the public trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts will yield to public opinion and seek to find out, by actual demonstration, whether it will not be profitable to the company, to attempt to get some of the revenue that might be derived from carrying short-haul passengers for a five-cent fare.

That there is an insistent demand for a five-cent fare in this city cannot be denied. In the opinion of citizens who have given careful thought to the subject such a fare would make the road much more useful to the public and at the same time add to rather than diminish the cash receipts from operation.

There is but one way of finding out whether a nickel fare would accomplish all that is claimed for it by its advocates, and that is to put it into effect on one or more lines as an experiment. If it fails to bring about the desired ends, no great loss should ensue to the company, and the public would be placed in a much more friendly attitude toward the road as a result of its being demonstrated that a five-cent fare is not workable in this district. It ought to be worth something to the road to have it made clear that the public trustees are responsive to public sentiment and not blindly opposing a course that might be beneficial to themselves as well as to the public.

SENATOR NEWBERRY AGAIN

Reluctantly the republicans of the United States senate are to review the case of Senator Newberry; but one of the conditions to be insisted upon is, that the senator, his brother and sister shall not be called to the stand. Henry Ford has not dropped the case by any means and his lawyer, one Mr. Lucking, charges that not $175,000, as alleged, but twice that amount was spent in the Michigan senatorial contest and he claims he can show that nearly all of the money came from the Newberry estate.

A committee has been appointed, with the unthought purpose of letting Newberry out, as he cannot possibly be whitewashed. The job would be repulsive to the nation that knows his guilt; but the effort will be made to save him to the party for what he did in providing one of a majority, when during a political crisis without him the senate would have been a tie as between the political parties.

PICTURE CENSORSHIP

This talk about a referendum on the picture censorship bill signed by Governor Cox is all nonsense. The arguments against censoring deal with the freedom of the press and the alleged right of picture producers to exhibit whatever they please, provided no law is violated. In all this there is involved the most ingenious inconsistency. In the first place, newspapers are free to publish what they please, subject to the very definite and sweeping laws of libel. But the libel laws do not affect the picture business. Moreover, there is no law under which the film theatre can be called to account for publishing salacious films that under all standards are demoralizing to children and even to adults.

The censorship will provide the necessary restraint and the resulting expense and inconvenience will constitute the penalty that the decent men in the business must pay because of the cheap fakers and sensationalists who want to overstep the bounds of common decency.

WON'T IT BE FINE?

There is a "bible" alarmist in New York, the "Judge" J. F. Rutherford, who is putting forth some of the silliest nonsense that has been given to the public for a great many years. He is predicting that after 1925, the Lord will reveal the perfect food which he sets down as "grapefruit and oatmeal," and that thereafter nobody will be sick, nobody will die; the bald heads will have a new growth of hair, new teeth will grow in the place of those that have rotted away.

We suppose that one of the afflictions mankind will always have to endure will be to listen to such frothy blatherings as this. Yet, strange to say, this man always finds people to listen to him and to go off "wondering whether there is anything in it." Usually the average man has enough to bother him without heeding any such buncombe as that being given out by Judge Rutherford.

The opponents of the proposed new charter are fearful of the impossible; and that is of a worse condition of municipal affairs than has developed under the present charter.

Delvers after odd facts tell us that 4,000,000 pins are lost every day, and it would seem probable that most of them disappear in Lowell in this time of graduation dressmaking.

The Fall River News may be right that "Faithful service is, in a large sense, its own reward." Anyhow, it is very frequently the only reward it gets.

Godspeed the trained nurses as they start upon their careers of helpfulness and healing.

Will someone start an initiative for a new system of streets for the place that is paved with good resolutions?

One way to escape the car ticket redemption nuisance is to pay a ten-cent fare and close the transaction.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Scarcely a day passes that does not offer some proof of the fact that one-half the world does not know how the other half lives. This was strikingly illustrated in the lecture delivered by Rev. Fr. O'Connor, C.S.P. of Cork in the school hall of St. Patrick's parish on Tuesday evening, dealing with the conditions of life in Nigeria, the most benighted part of Africa. He told of the vast population that swarms over the country and the primitive conditions under which they live. They use sea shells for money in whatever form of trading they enter into and are altogether among the most uncivilized races to be found anywhere on earth. The country is the most unhealthy on the globe for Europeans, although many of the missionaries of the order of the Holy Ghost to which Rev. Fr. O'Connor belongs have been working there for a great many years. Nevertheless, he says that there are untold millions of people in the interior who have never been reached by a missionary. He states, however, that the Nigerians respond readily to the missionary appeal and once converted are very devoted and ready to render any service in their power.

Fr. O'Connor told of their weird music, the "Jungle-Jazz" to which we are drifting in this country. Mothers there are just as much devoted to their children as are the mothers in any part of the world. One of his views showed a mother decorating two of her boys and another showed the boys after the process, their faces and parts of their bodies smeared over with red stripes and figures. Some tribes are marked by a peculiar scar on the face and this mark is made on the children at an early age. When a man so marked meets another who has no such distinction, the latter is regarded as an invader or an enemy and is usually roughly treated. Some other tribes have a distinguishing mark in the manner of wearing their hair. Where they have anything like scissors, the hair is cut close except on a triangular spot over the forehead. When any of the Nigerians people die of plague, such as leprosy or smallpox, the bodies are left unburied at a distance from the settlements. This is done in accordance with some belief that they were singled out for vengeance by the Great Spirit and to show them any respect might bring down a like punishment on the heads of those responsible.

On Wednesday evening, Rev. Fr. O'Connor delivered his lecture on Africa in Philadelphia and on Thursday evening he delivered his lecture on Ireland for the Irish Relief fund. It is expected that he will meet a large gathering at St. Patrick's school hall on Sunday evening. He lectures under the auspices of the Holy Name society whose members now regret they did not secure a larger hall.

In viewing the work of Miss Lola Fisher, soon to visit Lowell in Rol Cooper McGuire's play, "Honors Are Even," the residents of this city will enjoy a rare privilege, in my humble estimation. Full many a gushing actress receives the wild plaudits of the critics each season, and is acclaimed for her "charm" and "personality." In fact, the complimentary word is flung about with such abandon, that the casual reader is likely to consider the whole business a grand piece of buncombe. And indeed, the candid theatre-goer is obliged to admit that it usually is. But Miss Fisher's case is different. Selected to assume the title roles in more than one of Clara Kummer's extraordinary plays, Miss Fisher brought to these Alice-in-Wonderland comedies added charm. She was the very personification of the art of Miss Kummer, and even the honest critic turned his instruments of praise to sing her talents. In "Go Gracious, Anka," the best actress and Broadway her prisoner, I have had the good fortune to witness her performances both in Boston and New York. There was a fairy spell over the theatre while she interpreted the inimitable Kummerian art. All this is not free advertising for anyone; it is sincere appreciation for a marvelous artist.

The study of geography is one, my child, that you should be industriously wedded to; just think what it can do for you to learn that Spaniards love to dance, that Hollanders wear roomy pants, and Neapolitans will sing, at any time of anything! "No, we haven't time. Come along, do!"

"But, daddy, O, look at him crying now! Do come."

Daddy gave way at last, and they went up to the little boy.

"O, poor little boy, what is the matter?" asked little Betty anxiously.

"Why, you see, crying," answered the boy.

There was a surprised pause.

"I'm not crying at all," was the reply. "I've been helping mother peel the onions!"—London Ideas.

Right Second Time

Victor Murdoch has a younger brother called Marcellus, and the two, dress alike, talk in the same manner, and wear the same copper-bued hair. Even people who can tell young babies apart are baffled by the similarity in the physical get-up of the Murdoch boys. One time both Victor and Marcellus were at a hotel in New York. As Marcellus strolled through the lobby, another guest stopped him with the exclamation: "Well, Victor! Why, I haven't seen you for more than seven years. How's everything?" "Everything's all right, but I'm afraid that you're mistaken in your man."

"Why mistaken?" said the affable man. "What do you mean?" "But I'm not Victor," said Marcellus. "I'm only Victor's brother, Marcellus." "O, sure enough," admitted the other man. "Of course, you are not Victor. I can see that you're not, now that I have a good look at your jib. You're a ringer for him, though." They continued strolling their separate ways through the lobby, and five minutes later the stranger pronounced on Marcellus again: "I've got you this time, Victor!" he yelled. "A bit ago I mistook your brother for you, but there's no mistake this trip!"—Kansas City Star.

White Magic

(Copyright, 1921, The Lowell Sun.) All the things that call a man to the road's delight. All the magic, wonder things—shine forth white!

These are the glimmers
Thrilling to the rovers.
White gulls helling
And milk white combers;

A snow white glory
That is never ended
Where the sun's white light
And the dust are blended;

Mountains that shimmer
With their white peaks rearing,
And death deserts
With their hot sands searing;

But my love's round arms
That softly fold me
Make fair white magic
And so they hold me

To a quiet comfort
And a warm-abode
In a snug white cottage
By the long white road.

These are the things that hold a man—
The mightiest of charms
Thrill of woman's tenderness, two White arms!

"I realize that I have reached the age (65) when one often requires fixing up. My digestion was not right and trouble with my Liver and Bowels caused considerable distress.

I could not get rid of 'ho Constipation; and the insufficient action of my bowels resulted in my blood absorbing the poisons.

Last fall, I began taking 'Fruit-a-lives' or Fruit Liver Tablets, and after using them for a short time I could see they were just what my system required. My liver became active and improvement in every way was apparent.

SCHOOL FIRE ALARM SYSTEMS INSPECTED

An inspection of the recently installed fire alarm systems in the Moody, Butler and Colburn schools was held yesterday by officials of the school department and proved most successful. In each school every child left the building within one and a quarter minutes. In the Colburn school Memorial day exercises were being held in the school hall when the alarm was sounded, but that didn't cause any delay. Those who took part in the inspection were Chairman Thomas B. Delaney of the school committee, Supt. Hugh J. Melloy, Business Agent Henry L. Williams, Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department, and Mr. Merchant, representing the board of underwriters. Fire alarms similar to those now in vogue in the three schools mentioned are to be installed in the other schools of the city in the near future.

THE FAIRYMAN'S REWARD
BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE FAIRYMAN DROPPED INTO HIS BED, AT ONCE

"Now think what each of you should like best," said the Fairy Queen to Nancy and Nick and Flippety-Flap, the little faeries with the enormous shoes who had helped the kiddies for rather they had helped him to gather up the circus animals way off in the land-of-Ever-So-Far-Away. "I wish to give you a reward for helping me so nicely. Just think! If it hadn't been for you there wouldn't be any more circus this year than there is snow from last winter. And that's all gone, ages ago."

Flippety-Flap blinked his eyes and yawned. Then he stretched and yawned again. "If you please, your royal highness," said he, yawning a third time, "I'd like a nice, large, soft feather-bed, without any dreams in it. I'm as tired as poppy-juce and if you look in the books you'll find that's awfully tired. These shoes—they're so big, 'n' so full of things."

"What would you like?" the Fairy Queen asked the twins. (Copyright, 1921, by The Lowell Sun)

Two Tons of Food Buried in Canyon

SANTA ANA, Cal., May 26.—The discovery of two tons of food, securely cased and buried deep in a canyon near here, caused an investigation by Sheriff C. E. Jackson today. He said he found the cache had been made by a local preacher and two members of his congregation, who explained that they had acted on a Biblical passage which they believed foretold a time of famine. The sheriff declined to give their names.

The commission feels that it does not go far enough and that a direction of school hygiene will safeguard the health of school children much better than can the present methods. Who Says War's Over? Look at These "Front Line" Pictures Just Received From Near East!

Trench fighting—barbed wire entanglements—all the tricks they learned in the world war have been employed in the war between the Greek and Turkish armies in the Near East. These pictures, taken while the fighting was at its hottest, just before the Greek retreat, have just arrived in America. On the left a Greek raiding party is approaching the Greek lines with Turkish prisoners. Center, a closeup of Greek troops lurching in a front-line trench. Right, Turkish prisoners being brought back from the front lines by Greek guards. At the moment the fighting has died down but the two armies are reorganizing to go at it again. This, like the war in Upper Silesia, is one of the aftermaths of the big war that ended two and a half years ago.

"I'LL CLEAN UP IMMIGRATION EVILS" DECLARES SECRETARY DAVIS

Secretary of Labor Department Makes Thorough Study of Conditions at Ports and Makes Golden Rule Slogan of Department

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis has just completed a survey of Atlantic immigration ports investigating facilities, practices and personnel with a view to injecting more "humanity" into the reception of aliens and sifting the storm of complaints against men and methods.

The following article, written by Secretary Davis expressly for The Sun, embodies some of his observations, and states the policy on which he will build the program of reforms he says are imperative.

This policy stresses the golden rule, which he has made the slogan of the department of labor.

BY JAMES J. DAVIS, SECRETARY OF LABOR

In business life we are careful not to antagonize those with whom we expect to associate. Everyone appreciates the cash value of good will. Time, thought and money are wisely spent to create agreeable first impressions; and to cultivate friendships.

Nationally, however, in receiving the alien newcomer who will live and deal and eventually vote with us, for better or worse, we have been curiously indifferent whether first impressions shall make for good will or ill.

That is bad business, to say the least.

And, to the extent that we remedy this, we shall speed solution of many vital national problems closely hooked up with the important question of immigration.

Human consideration must be the watchword at our immigrant depots. A personal inspection of detention stations along the Atlantic has impressed this need most forcefully, and to the full extent of its power the department of labor will supplement the iron law with the golden rule in administrative practice.

Buffalo Officer Killed, 4 Negroes Wounded

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 28.—Edward A. Wilson, 35 years old, a sergeant of the police reserve, was killed and four negroes were wounded early today when a negro ran amuck with a pistol in a house occupied by negroes in Clinton street. The police are looking for Oscar Edwards, about 27 years old, an occupant of the house, who is said to have done the shooting and who escaped by the back door while the police were at the front. Wilson was shot in the heart and through the mouth while in pursuit of Edwards.

All the Young Women Shown in the Accompanying Photograph Will Study Music This Summer

Music, the arts and crafts, and other useful and artistic pursuits are prominent in the activities of the P.A.A. Greek Girls club, a subsidiary organization of the International Institute. A group of members of the body are here shown on a recent outing. Under the general direction of Miss Helen G. Sutton, the club has participated in many interesting entertainments during the past winter season. The native dances of Greece have been shown for the first time to Lowell audiences, while the P. A. A. Mandolin club has brought to this city a distinctive innovation in the playing of melodies 2000 years old, and which were performed on primitive instruments before the Delphic shrine of Apollo in the old world. The group shown in the photograph will all study music this summer, under the direction of Miss Esther Nicholson, on a new plan known as Boston Conservatory of Music method. This system, recently inaugurated at social service institutions in Boston, is a new discovery, and is now being studied by Miss Nicholson. The girls here shown will first be taught the rudiments of technical music in a body, and will then be allowed to select some instrument in which to specialize. Local teachers will then teach the individual girls at a nominal fee. The plan is considered by educators throughout the country as unique, and as marking an epoch in community service. Lowell is one of the first cities in the country to introduce the method, and the International Institute is the pioneer Lowell organization to bring it to this city. Within a few months, so extraordinary are said to be the fruits of the system, as already shown at the Boston music settlement, these young girls will be well advanced in the study of violin, piano, and other instrumental music, as well as vocal harmonies.

Californians Perfect Physical Specimens

PRINCETON, N. J., May 28.—Admirers of the University of California crew, in training here for the race with Princeton on June 4, have pronounced the men perfect physical specimens. Some who have watched them work declare the prophecy made some time ago by a college professor that all the country's athletes would in a few years be produced by the west is being fulfilled. They say no eastern college produces men possessing such physique. For the most part they are strapping blondes and each afternoon as their shell spurts through the water, they give an exhibition of shoulder and leg muscle work that calls for the expressions of admiration and wonder from the Princeton undergraduates.

Birds Sing and Peasants Plow Where Once The Cannon Roared

THREE years ago today the German army, advancing toward Paris, capped a series of spectacular victories by reaching the Marne on a six-mile front between Chateau Thierry and Dormans.

A week later American troops plunged into the conflict and turned the tide.

History will recognize that from then on the German cause was lost, that it reached its zenith about Memorial Day, 1918.

More than two and a half years have elapsed since the signing of the armistice.

BIRDS sing and the peasant plows where once the cannon roared.

But the world's wounds are not yet healed. The scars they leave will persist for generations.

As was the case following the Civil war, years must pass before democracy's victory in the World war bears its full fruits.

There were those who, when our Civil war ended, believed that reconstruction could never restore the ruins and purge the opposing factions of their hatreds.

Time has shown that was a fallacy.

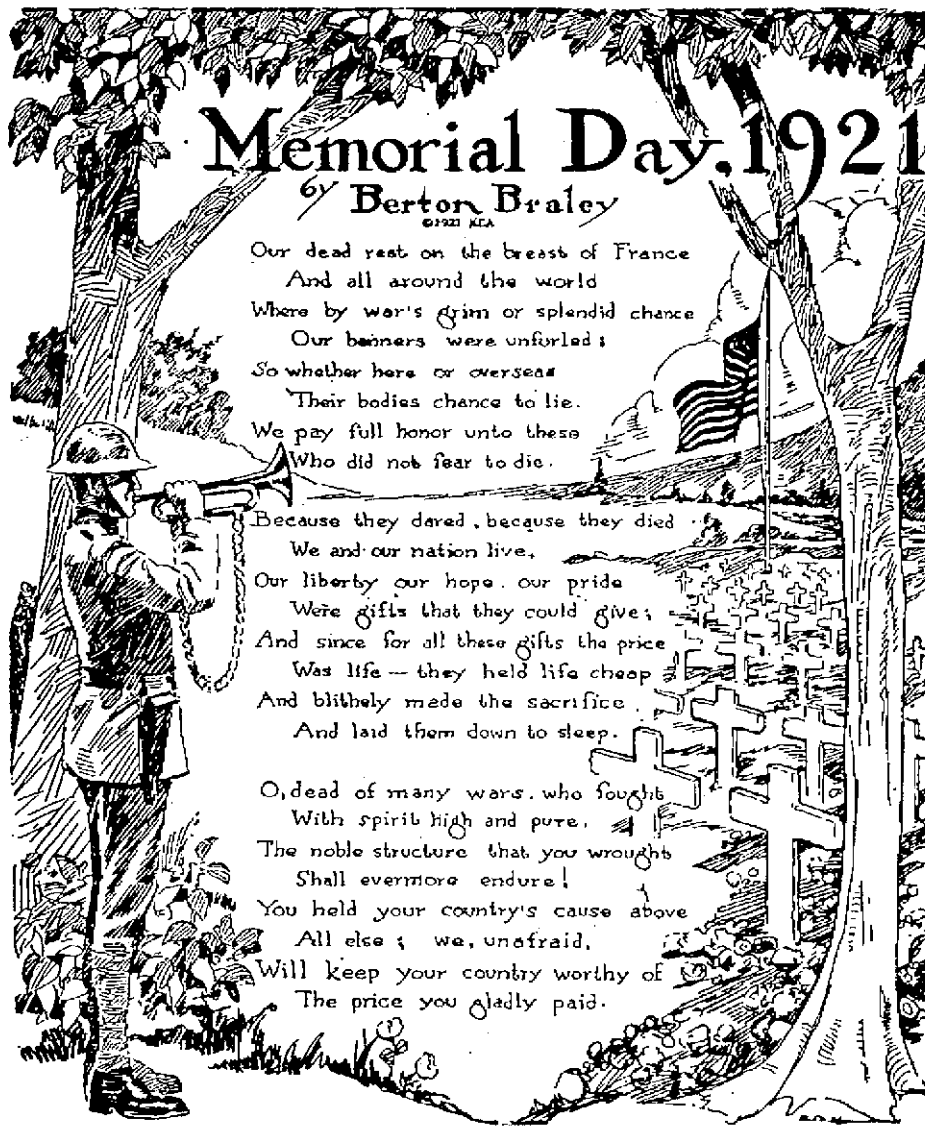

TIME again will restore order and peace, normal conditions and happiness in the world.

Hatreds will run their course.

And future generations, because of the perspective of time, will honor America's dead in the World war as the saviors of democracy, even with a greater reverence than we on this Memorial Day.

Words are futile in paying tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The nation honors them and their Gold Star Mothers, as it honors their soldier predecessors of Abraham Lincoln's day who also died so that "government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Memorial Day, 1921 by Bertin Braley

Our dead rest on the breast of France
And all around the world
Where by war's grim or splendid chance
Our banners were unfurled;
So whether here or overseas
Their bodies chance to lie.
We pay full honor unto these
Who did not fear to die.

Because they dared, because they died
We and our nation live.
Our liberty our hope, our pride
Were gifts that they could give;
And since for all these gifts the price
Was life—they held life cheap
And blithely made the sacrifice
And laid them down to sleep.

O, dead of many wars, who fought
With spirit high and pure,
The noble structure that you wrought
Shall evermore endure!
You held your country's cause above
All else; we, unafraid,
Will keep your country worthy of
The price you gladly paid.

No Other Nation Has Such a Glorious Memorial Day

BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

SO far as I know, no other nation has, or ever has had, just such a day as this which every spring we celebrate. It is a sacred day to holy memories that recede farther and farther into the mist of our yesterdays, yet live again with the blooming of the flowers.

No nation ever did quite what ours did a half century ago. The negro slaves did not rise up in insurrection and free themselves; not even Old John Brown was able to incite them to rise for their own freedom. The black men were freed by white men of their own land.

Nor would it be true to say that the men of the north conquered the men of the south and thus made the nation free. Southern men in great numbers fought for the Union—180,000 of them from the mountains of Kentucky, Tennessee and adjacent states.

North and south had sinned together in the establishment of slavery; and the south had a share far from negligible in its eradication. We are one nation. We were not sure about it in 1861, but we have been sure of it since 1865.

It is a blessed thing to be able to put some sorrows where we can lay flowers upon them. The memories of strife two generations ago should lie deep beneath the sod, and on the sod should bloom not thorns but flowers.

The men who fought in the World war were not the sons but the grandsons of the men who fought at Vicksburg and Gettysburg and Richmond.

Let us remember the courage and forget the bitterness. Let us remember the principles for which we fought, and never forget that those principles are established.

Two facts the Civil war settled permanently: we are one nation, and that nation is and forever is to be a free nation. Let us remember that.

"GRAND OLD LADY" TELLS HISTORY OF MEMORIAL DAY

Widow of General John A. Logan Recalls Her Part in Founding National Holiday

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The mausoleum where lies the body of Gen. John A. Logan, hero of the Civil war, will not be visited Memorial Day by his widow. It has been her custom to decorate his grave each Memorial Day.

Instead, she is to address G. A. R. veterans at Arlington National Cemetery. She will tell how Memorial Day became a permanent holiday in America.

Mrs. Logan, called "the Grand Old Lady of Washington," is 83. She married Logan, a country attorney in Illinois, when she was 17.

His dash and bravery as a Union general earned for him the sobriquet of "the Black Eagle" and the hero worship of school boys of today.

"General Logan issued the proclamation setting aside Decoration Day as a day of tribute after I returned from a trip through the historic battlegrounds of Virginia," says Mrs. Logan.

"That was in 1868. He was commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

"I told him how the grave of each Confederate soldier at Petersburg was decorated with a wreath and a Confederate flag.

"Now, that's a capital idea!" he exclaimed. "We have been neglecting our dead, while they have honored theirs.

"We have to see to it that the grave of every Union soldier is properly cared for and decorated. The Greeks and the Romans always decorated the graves of their heroes.

"I'm commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. and I'm going to issue an order setting aside a special day for that purpose and calling upon all comrades to observe it."

The eyes of the Grand Old Lady beamed as she recalled her husband's words.

MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN

"That order was issued from headquarters of the G. A. R. May 5, 1868," she said. "It was signed by General Logan as commander-in-chief and by N. P. Chipman as adjutant general.

"Chipman, as adjutant general, probably did the physical work of getting out the order. But the idea was General Logan's and the order was General Logan's. That I know."

In some posts of the G. A. R. a report has been circulated to the effect that Chipman, not Logan, was the author of the order that makes May 30 a great national holiday.

That's why the Grand Old Lady will put on the little bonnet that makes her a distinctive figure on Washington streets and go to Arlington to tell her story Memorial Day.

Plant Trees In Honor Of Fallen Heroes

BY MRS. M. A. TOY

National President, Service Star Legion

THE Service Star Legion, a nation-wide organization of grandmothers, mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of men who served in the World war, pays tribute today to the soldier dead.

We, the women of the Legion, think that no more fitting tribute to the nation's dead can be offered on Memorial Day than the planting of trees in memory of the fallen heroes.

Thus children of coming generations may know, as they walk beneath their shade, that they grew and put forth leaves in memory of those who died in the days of their own blooming, planted by the loving hands of the mothers of men.

Services this year are held in the Grove of Remembrance on Druid Hill in Baltimore. There 48 white oaks were planted in 1919, one tree for the dead of each state.

WILSON BREAKS SILENCE AND ISSUES MEMORIAL DAY LETTER

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Woodrow Wilson broke yesterday the silence he has maintained since he retired from the White House on March 4.

In a memorial day letter to the editor of "The Stars and Stripes," which was published yesterday in that soldier periodical, he declared that the American people "shall not be able to enjoy the full pride of the day's recollections until we have made sure that the duties that grew out of the war have been fulfilled to the utmost."

"Are we sure?" he asked. "If we are not, shall we not soon take steps to do whatever has been omitted?"

The full text of the former president's letter follows: "Memorial day has always been one of our most solemn and thoughtful anniversaries when we recalled great memories and dedicated ourselves again to the maintenance and purification of the nation, but this year it has an added and tremendous significance because the memories and sacrifices of the great world war are now among the most stimulating of the recollections of the day.

"We celebrate the immortal achievements of the men who died in France on the field and in the trenches, far away from home. In order that both our own people and the peoples across the seas might be delivered from the vilest peril of all history. It is our privilege not only to induce a high and solemn pride and grief for the heroes of that great struggle, but also to rededicate ourselves to the achievement of the great objects for which that war was fought. We shall not be happy, we shall not be able to enjoy the full pride of the day's recollections until we have made sure that the duties that grew out of the war have been fulfilled to the utmost.

Cordially yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

Permission of the New York Times

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe.
To you from failing hands we throw
The Torch—the yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

COLLIE REFUSES TO BE LEFT BEHIND

Dogdom is not to be outdone by catdom—and so "Collie," a wonder dog, has made his appearance to challenge the record set by Thomas Cadillac.

Thomas Cadillac is the alley cat that was nailed in an automobile crate, travelled to Australia and went for 45 days without food. "Collie" is a big, different but every bit as remarkable, for "Collie" is the only "stowaway dog" on record. He refused to be left behind by his owners, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Hopkirk, who live in South Winchester street, Chicago.

"Collie" was the pet of eight-year-old Corinne Hopkirk. When the family started for San Francisco, to connect with a Korean-bound liner, they left "Collie" in charge of the baggage. He disappeared at Omaha. Every effort was made to locate him, but without success. The Hopkirks reached San Francisco, boarded the liner Nanking and prepared to put to sea.

A few minutes before sailing time a beautiful collie dog appeared on the waterfront, trotted to the China Mail company pier, brushing past customs officers who tried to stop him, ran up the gangplank and attempted to stow away.

It was "Collie." Just how he made the trip his owners are at a loss to figure out.

"If he could only talk," "Collie" would have a great story to relate," was the comment of Dr. Hopkirk. "The last we saw of him was when we were spending over the fields of Illinois. He probably was picked up by some baggage man and brought to San Francisco—but how the device he trailed us to the pier—well I guess it was chiefly luck."

OPENS SUMMER CAMP AT BAPTIST POND

Miss Hilda Pearson of the Girls' City club, has thrown open her summer camp at Baptist pond, South Chelmsford, to her fellow members, and on Monday a picnic will be held there.

Lunches will be taken by those who attend, some of whom will leave by the 7 a. m. train at the Union depot, and others of whom will take the 10 o'clock street car to Chelmsford Centre. Many sports and contests have been planned for the affair, which marks one of the first outdoor events of the year for the organization.

A week from today another open-air event will take place in a tennis tournament among the club members. It will be held at the grounds of the Lowell Normal school. The indoor gymnasium classes close for the season on Tuesday. On Saturday afternoon there will be a scrub baseball contest by the girls at the Normal school, while the usual Saturday night dance will be given up for the remainder of the warm weather, according to present plans.

Ex-Swimming Champ Raises Real "Water Baby"—Gives First Lesson at Six Weeks

A real "water baby" is Rhoda Cavill, aged 3, of San Francisco. Her father, Dick Cavill, former world's champion who has held every record from 40 yards to the mile, free style, believes in starting 'em young. So when Rhoda was six weeks old she was made acquainted with a swimming pool. Her schooling at swimming has been kept up ever since and now she is able to negotiate 400 yards in amazingly good time for a mere baby. She is now ready to meet all comers of her own age, or near it, in a 300 or 400 yard meet. She can dive from a 10-foot board, can swim under water, on her back and do stunts achieved only by experts. The Cavill family is world famous as swimmers. Dick is one of seven brothers, every one of whom has held world's swimming records. Their father before them was the first man to swim the English channel.

Clean Up Immigration Evils

based on the humanities, certain physical barriers must be removed, chiefly inadequate quarters with dangerous congestion, as at Ellis Island.

The present total inadequacy of admission equipment will be somewhat remedied by the temporary alien restriction act, but that is only a stop-gap to permit folks generally to think seriously and straight on immigration.

The one crying need at detention stations, borne in on me during my trip of inspection, is for room—room to live like human beings; room for women and children especially to play and relax during the days and often weeks they are kept in detention. Now they sit huddled indoors or pace a limited area under conditions far from wholesome. The children make pathetic shift at play, while the elders, disillusionment on many faces, brood and harbor thoughts which a little sunshine and a plot of grass, clean air and more friendly attention would dissipate.

Must Guard Against Infection

America can't afford to forget that these people are human beings—becoming part of the national life blood. It must exercise every care that there is no moral and political infection at the points where this alien blood is injected.

For this reason, if for no other, it is imperative to relieve congestion and its inevitable evils. And with this in view the department has been making a survey of ports of entry to find additional housing facilities.

Aside from this need, the immigration problems confronting the department are largely those of administration. It will be the primary concern and program in this respect to eliminate so far as lies within my power both men and practices falling to conform to the slogan, "humanely first."

With Love For America

Even the alien who arrives only to find himself undesirable should leave our shores with respect and love for America. No nation is to great and sound that it can afford to make need humble enemies, while international relations of the right sort consist merely in being human and friendly.

Only two per cent. of immigrants have thus far proven undesirable, and even this troubling-making proportion could be further reduced, certainly in their influence upon fellow arrivals, if America more cordially extended that welcome which our alien laws imply.

Legal welcome and actual repulsion is like asking a new acquaintance to your home and then meeting him with suspicion when he rings the door bell.

The Statue of Liberty holds a beacon in one hand. We must put a friendly clasp in the other hand—as long as we say we want the properly qualified alien to become a fellow citizen.

Kilbane "Dissects" Wallops, He Says Jersey Will Observe

The Goose That Laid the Golden Egg

So long as boxing lives, the first international battle for the world's heavyweight championship will occupy a prominent place in the record books.

John C. Heenan, known as the "Benicia Boy," represented America, and Tom Sayers, who was really little more than a welterweight, carried the British colors.

The men met at Farnborough, England, April 17, 1860, on the turf under London prize ring rules. The fight went 42 rounds lasting two hours and 27 minutes and the referee called it a draw.

For 35 rounds each contestant took a terrific beating, with Sayers far the worse off, while Heenan was almost completely blind, but much the stronger.

When the men came up for the 37th round Sayers was pitifully weak and held his feet with difficulty. Heenan rushed him, and grabbing him around the neck, attempted to toss him. Immediately a mob of Sayers' friends, who had bet heavily on the Englishman, rushed the ring, cut the ropes, and surged within, crowding the referee out and beyond view of the fighters.

The "interned" official immediately ordered hostilities to cease, but Sayers' backers, hoping to save their money, insisted that the battle proceed, and as they were in control of the situation, the fight went on.

From the 37th round until the finish Heenan, unable to see, struck out blindly with both fists, frequently striking spectators, while Sayers was so badly spent that it was necessary at times for his henchmen to hold him on his feet.

The referee finally worked his way into the ring and once more ordered the fight stopped. As all hands were weary, the struggle ended.

In recognition of the wonderful gameness displayed by both men, English sportsmen unanimously voted to declare them joint holders of the world's title and presented each with a belt emblematic of the championship. Soon after the battle Sayers, announced his permanent retirement from the ring and the undisputed championship was awarded to Heenan. He also retired later without defending his title.

JERSEY CITY, May 28.—They've been calling the Dempsey-Carpentier affair a "million dollar fight."

"Raise the ante! It's a two million dollar scrap."

For Robert Hoos, president of the Jersey City chamber of commerce, says a second million is going into the sock of J. City. And he smiles way up over his expansive bald head when he says it.

That makes the fight divvy stand something like this:

Jersey City (in business).....$1,000,000
Fight receipts (estimated).....1,000,000
Dempsey's share, around.....300,000
Carpentier's share, around.....200,000
Promoter Tex Rickard gets the balance, less expenses.

Hoos says: "Solid business men of the chamber worked to get this fight because they know it would make Jersey City. It's worth at least a million in cash to us and, think of the fame—that's bigger yet."

INTENSIVE TRAINING FOR MANAGER OF CHAMP DEMPSEY NEXT WEEK DESCHAMPS' AMBITION

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 27.—With Jack Dempsey rounding into fighting condition almost too rapidly, Manager Jack Kearns decided today to give the world's champion four days of complete rest beginning next Tuesday. After boxing tomorrow and Monday, Dempsey will lay aside his gloves, suspend his roadwork and loaf until called upon to begin his intensive training program a week from today. This plan is in line with the training conditioning Dempsey followed while with Jess Willard in Toledo two years ago.

"Dempsey could get himself ready to defend his title within six days," Kearns said. "A layoff next week will put him on edge for the final three weeks of training. He will not do any work at all next week, with the possible exception of playing a little baseball, taking some setting up exercises and short walks."

"I want to add a little weight to him so he'll be ready for the serious business of training. He will scale about the 195 mark now and I hope he'll weigh around 200 a week from today."

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion
Jack Dempsey, bigger and heavier than Carpentier, undoubtedly will open his fight against the Frenchman July 2nd by driving for the body. He will try to inflict sufficient punishment there to loosen Carpentier's guard so that he can break through with the stowaway left to the chin. Georges, on the other hand, speedier and shifter than Dempsey, will lay for Jack's chin.

What will the effect be?

There are really only three vulnerable spots on a man's body where a blow has telling effect. These are: the jaw, the pit of the stomach and the heart.

To Reach the Jaw
Either a right cross or a left hook can be used in reaching the jaw. Properly landed the blow paralyzes the nerve centers that lead to the brain and the victim is rendered unconscious immediately. It's the best kind of a knockout punch because a man who gets it can't come back before the 10 seconds have expired.

A straight right or either a right or left uppercut are the blows used in reaching the pit of an adversary's stomach. A punch here takes the wind, and while it floors an opponent as quickly as a punch to the jaw, it is not as effective. The victim's brain is as clear as ever and the chances are that he will recover his wind in time to regain his feet before he is counted out.

The Heart Blow
A straight right, which is the only blow that gets to the heart, has the same wind-taking effect that the punch to the stomach has. In addition it shakes the entire nervous system and shakes the best blows for shaking a batter's courage. It literally "takes the heart out of him" if it is landed with clean behind it.

Probably the most essential punch of all among the four or five that comprise the complete list of boxing blows is the straight left jab. It inflicts little punishment, but the boxer relies on it as a "set-up punch." By that I mean that he jabs to make his opponent block and to jockey him around into position for a try for a knockout. For it is only after a man has been "set up" for a knockout that the blow, nine times out of ten, can be delivered.

Center on Few Blows
Few fighters, even the best known in the ring, really know how to use more than three or four blows. For example, has an excellent Dempsey, for a good left hook, but he has no jab. Benny Leonard carries a fine one-two punch, but he's not a one-punch fighter like Dempsey. His jabber don't lay a man low, yet they are fearful enough to keep an opponent's brain in the fight. Jack Britton has a good left, but little else. Carpentier relies principally on a one-two punch, although he may have some additions to his repertoire now. Speed, of course, will be a big help to Georges in the Dempsey go.

With Jack hammering at Carpentier's stomach and Georges aiming at Jack's chin the outcome of the fight is going to depend largely on which is the first to land a blow.

Society Day at Races in Detroit Pilot Batting .411
Erie, Pa., Attracts Notable Throng
Right Behind Heilman—Speaker Third With .408

CHICAGO, May 28.—Managing a ball club seems to be conducive, to heavy hitting, for Ty Cobb, pilot of the Detroit Tigers, and Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, are giving Harry Heilman of Detroit a terrific fight for the batting leadership of the American league.

Cobb boosted his mark from .375 last week to .411 for this week, according to averages released today which includes games of last Wednesday, while Speaker raised his last week's average of .375 to .408. Heilman, although he suffered a batting slump, is 14 points ahead of Cobb with .425, as compared with .454 a week ago.

Severald of St. Louis also has come to the front in grand style. The slugging catcher of the Browns has attained a mark of .381 and is in fourth place.

Babe Ruth ran into a slump when he knocked hit the western trail of the circuit. His batting averages dropped from .375 to .345. He failed to get any 4-baggers while in Chicago Wednesday in the final game at St. Louis. Cobb, who brought his total string of homers to 13, Shocker was pitching to him.

Harris of Washington stole two bases while the senators were losing the west and is showing the way to the base stealers with 10 markers.

Other leading batters for 20 or more games are: Brower, Pittsburgh, .375; Slater, St. Louis, .375; Folsom, St. Louis, .375; Stephenson, Cleveland, .363; Williams, St. Louis, .333; Ruth, New York, .315.

Times of the Chicago Cubs, who are filling McKee's shoes at first base, struck his batting stride during his first invasion of the east and climbed from 15th place to fifth, in the National league, called to add to his total of eight and is now five behind his American league rival, Babe Ruth.

Bohore, of Cincinnati, failed to increase his stolen base record. He leads, however, with eight.

Other leading batters: Johnston, Brooklyn, .355; Tierney, Pittsburgh, .352; Kelly, New York, .342; Barker, Chicago, .342; Harcourt, Cincinnati, .345; Cuthshaw, Pittsburgh, .340.

Now when I wrestled Johnson before, the dope was that I didn't have a chance of defeating him. Well, I admit that Johnson is a good boy, but he failed to throw me "even" once in an hour, as he agreed to in our two falls in an hour match, and with a no-time limit match, I believe I can turn the trick on him, because I do know and have demonstrated that he can't beat me and when I get this match with Johnson and beat him, which I surely do, I shall invite any and all wrestlers in this vicinity to a match.

TEXILE LEAGUE
The Boott mills won from the Merrimacks Thursday night by the score of 14 to 4 on the Lakewood avenue grounds. Cox of the Boott had the upper mill boys to five hits, while the Boott boys lunched three pitchers for 14 hits. The work of Creggan, Greenhage, Cox, Fratus at the bat and the catching of Doherty for the Boott, Whitley and the fielding of Heald for the Merrimacks were the features of the game.

The Boott mills play the Waterheads this afternoon on the Fair grounds, and Monday afternoon the Merrimacks on the First street oval. Both games called at 8 o'clock.

Jack Johnson In 12-Round Bout

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., May 28.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight pugilist champion of the world, who is serving time in the federal prison here, will box 12-rounds with two negro fighters today, as the main event of a program arranged for the prisoners by A. V. Anderson, the retiring warden.

Hal Chase Granted Liberty After Arrest

SAN JOSE, Cal., May 28.—Hal Chase, former big league first baseman, was at liberty today on a writ of habeas corpus after his arrest yesterday on a Chicago indictment, charging complicity in the 1919 world series baseball scandal. His bail of $3000 was cancelled. He was granted his liberty on the ground that the proper warrant had not been sent for his arrest and no effort had been made to return him to Chicago.

The Fighting Guy
Berton Braley

Jack Dempsey said, in an interview: A fact which nobody can deny. So far as the ring's concerned, it's true. The boy is there with an awful punch. With speed and science, and that's no lie. He spilled a mouthful, beyond a doubt. I guess I'm only a fightin' guy!

Please say I'm only a fightin' guy. Well, Jack is surely a first-class pug. He spilled a mouthful, beyond a doubt. For when it comes to the game of slug, he's the great and his head is stout. He'll fight like mad for the winners' share. With a nasty gleam in his wary eye. Oh, he's a tiger, a wolf, a bear. A hard-billed scrapper, "a fightin' guy."

But, wait a minute before you bet. Your last lone cent on the husky Jack. Carpentier is no "Mama's pet." They say he's there with a mean attack. It looks so me like a first-class fight. And this, I think, is the reason why: Young Jack is a fightin' guy! all right. But Georges, too, is a "fightin' guy!"

TUFTS' DEFENSE TO BE "POLITICAL ENMITY"

BOSTON, May 26.—District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts intends to fight Allen Gen. Allen to the bitter end and will base his defense, not only upon an absolute denial of the allegations made in the information filed in the supreme court asking for his removal from office of district attorney, but will contend that the proceeding is merely another incident in the political feud that has existed between them since the attorney general ran for his present office.

Melvin M. Johnson, who attained prominence in the famous case of Hattie Leblanc, who was charged with the murder of Clarence Glover, Waltham laundryman, will represent District Attorney Tufts.

The political aspect of the case will furnish much material for the defense. The district attorney will offer evidence to support the charge, that he will make that the attorney general is inspired by personal enmity and vengeance.

Mr. Tufts received the official copy of the charges made against him in the supreme court at 6:30 last evening. The charges furnish the ground

NATHAN A. TUFTS,

on which Mr. Allen asks for the removal of Mr. Tufts from the office of district attorney of Middlesex county. Within 10 minutes after his receipt of the official copy of the charges, Mr. Tufts made a statement to a reporter:

"Yes, I received the copy of the attorney general's charges against me about 10 minutes ago," said Mr. Tufts. "The status of the case is different now from what it has been at any time during the past two years. It is now in the hands of the supreme court. In referring to the attorney general, I will have to say there and I will have mine. The matter will be decided there. The whole thing is a tissue of lies. I don't think I care to say anything more than that for the present."

Later Mr. Tufts made an additional statement through his attorney, Melvin M. Johnson.

Tufts Makes Statement

Dist. Atty. Nathan A. Tufts last night issued the following statement: "I have just read the charges. Naturally, when a man has such utterly unfounded allegations made against him it is difficult for him to restrain the indignation which he feels. So far as these charges allege any misconduct or impropriety on my part, official or personal, they are absolutely false from beginning to end. Owing to the fact that the charges must be tried in court, I am advised that it is improper

MELVIN M. JOHNSON,
Counsel for Tufts

for me to discuss the facts of the separate charges in detail. The day will come in court when I shall have an opportunity to deny the specific charges and let the truth be known. So far as they are concerned, all I can do now is to ask the public to wait until they have heard my story as it will be told in court.

"It seems to me that I do not violate my duty to the court, however, if I do call the public's attention to the fact that these charges against me were filed by the attorney general on the very day that the measures which he sought, and which I opposed, were overwhelmingly defeated in the legislature. The public ought to remember, too, that when Mr. Allen was a candidate for attorney general he demanded my support, but as a matter of fact, I supported another candidate. Since that time he has openly stated that he would pursue me to my destruction."

CARNIVAL RECRUITS
The carnival held on the Lakeview avenue grounds during the past week, netted the sum of $400 for the Pawtucketville Memorial association. This amount will be added to the $250 already raised for the erection of a memorial marble tablet near the Pawtucket bridge.

BIGGER OUT OF RAGE
PITTSBURGH, May 25.—Carson Bigber, Pittsburgh outfielder, will be out of the game several days due to an injury to his right arm. His physician said a ligament had been displaced.

HERMAN AGAIN DEFEATED BY MONTREAL

BOSTON, May 26.—Young Montreal, the Providence hantam, won the decision over ex-Champion Pete Herman of New Orleans in their 10-round bout at the Faneuil A.C. open air show at Braves Field last night.

This is the second verdict Montreal has secured over Herman. The one last night was won by a greater margin than that at the Arena some weeks ago, over which the better of the boxing only in the fourth, fifth and ninth rounds. Two men at the ringside who kept tabs on the blows, said Montreal landed 55 and Herman only 194.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a boxing show outdoors in New England was present. The attendance being estimated at 15,000. The weather was ideal for such a show. Seven wing flood lights were used over the ring. Fans in all parts of the grand stand could see the fighters in action.

THE OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX

Many an Oakland owner tells us that he is getting regularly from 15 to 25 miles on a gallon of gasoline, and from 8000 to 12,000 miles from a set of tires. This excellent service on the mileage is due to the fact that Oakland open models could weigh nearly 500 pounds more than they do and still be within the tire maker's guarantee. The standard equipment of tires is 32x.

The line is complete. There are four models: the five-passenger open car—the three-passenger roadster—the five-passenger, four-door sedan—and the four-passenger coupe.

A great number of possible Oakland buyers are in your territory and the possibility of converting them into actual owners presents to you a business opportunity which is not only sound from every standpoint but which is unusual.

THE PEERLESS CAR
Every day Alger Johnson is selling a new Peerless to a Peerless owner who wishes to get a later model and it seems that once a Peerless owner, always a Peerless user. This condition is brought about by the first selling of a Peerless or unaltered for statement regarding the merits of the car, being always sure that the purchaser knows just what the Peerless is capable of doing and how much service it can give for the owner to get the most of its value. This action on the part of the salesman makes for application and confidence in dealer and car so that when a later model is desired they call for a Peerless.

One of the principal reasons why the Dodge Bros. motor car sells so well in Lowell and surrounding towns, in addition to its value as a car, is the fact that the Lowell Motor Mart insists that its salesmen know their car so well as to insure the confidence necessary to have when talking with a prospective Dodge owner. Mr. Ben O'Dea, president of the Motor Mart, makes it a point to get his salesmen together once a week for a talk in which anything that has come up in the course of the week can be talked over by all interested and a solution found. Another feature of their service is the aid they give in securing licenses for new drivers under the supervision of Ted Burns, who is one of the most successful instructors in driving in Lowell.

GAELIC FIELD DAY AT SPALDING PARK

The Irish National Foresters have prepared an elaborate program of sports for their Gaelic field day at Spalding park Monday afternoon. The Irish volunteer band will lead the parade to the park soon after the noon hour. The program of sports is as follows:

Irish step dancing, Mrs. Conway and pupils of Lowell, accompanied by the Irish Piper band, Professors Daly, O'Garra and others. Competitive drill by three companies of the Irish Volunteers. Track events in which James Mullin will meet all comers on high jump, broad jump, hop, step and jump and other events. 100-yard dash, open to all; 50-yard dash open only to members. Fat ladies' race, open to all who qualify in weight. Peanut race, open to all. Three-legged race, open to all. Tire carting and other sports open to all entrants. Music furnished by Volunteer Fife and Drum Corps.

TRY-A-DOUGHNUT TEAM WINS
Last night the "Try a Doughnut Boys" defeated Brad's Bakers in a closely contested game by the score of 9 to 7. Although the pitchers were hit hard, the holding of both teams was excellent. Shinkwin started on the mound for the Doughnut Boys, but became wild after two innings, then being relieved by Tommie Murphy of Gillespie fame. Turcotte pitched for the bakers. One of the many features of the game was a fast double play from Murphy to J. O'Connor and back again. Another added feature of the game was the batting of McNabb for the bakers. He hammered out a homer, a triple and a single. Sunday the "Try a Doughnut" team will play the Bakers on the North Common. Those wishing games will kindly write through this sporting page, Lowell Sun.

Batteries: Fry-a-Doughnuts, Shinkwin, Murphy and Connolly; Brad's Bakers, Turcotte and Roussin.

The Hummobile agency has secured the services of "Eddie" Mahoney as a salesman for Hummobiles and Stan-ards. It took Mr. Mahoney some time to decide on selling cars as he had been approached by several agents and he wanted to be sure that he picked the car that he thought embodied the best and one that he could safely go to his friends and tell without losing their confidence. After thinking it over the Hummobile was the one that came up to his expectations as a value in economy, service and pleasure. UNITED RUSSIA FAR OFF

Dream Impossible of Realization for Decades to Come, Say Officials

RIGA, Latvia, May 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Even were the Russian Bolshevik regime to collapse immediately, the dream of a new, united Russia is impossible of realization for decades to come, in the opinion of political students, government officials and business men in the three Baltic states, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, having diplomatic missions at Moscow. These men disagree on the number of years essential to build up a new Russia. Some say it will take 150 and some make it only 50. All agree, however, that the fall of the regime headed by Nikolai Lenin would be followed by a long period of anarchy, during which time ethnographic units after ethnographic units of the myriad-tongued millions who made up the old Russian empire would break away and form separate states.

This opinion was expressed to the correspondent by Prof. Pilp, Estonian minister of foreign affairs, and a lecturer at Dorpat university on political and historical subjects. M. Schumann, under secretary for foreign affairs of the Latvian government, Dr. Kasmir Grinlis, minister president of Lithuania, and a dozens of other students who are in a position to view the Russian situation at close range take a similar view.

TRACK MEET ON THE SOUTH COMMON

The track meet to be held on the South common Monday afternoon, under the auspices of the C.Y.M.U. of this city, promises to be one of the big attractions in connection with the summer of sports. The meet will be held in the early part of the afternoon so as not to interfere with the G.A.R. parade, and those in charge stated today that the first event will be held at 1:30 o'clock and the last one will be finished before 4 o'clock.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has accepted the invitation to act as referee at the meet and he will also make the award of prizes, which by the way, are among the best ever offered in an event of this kind in this city. The prizes which include silver cups, large and small, traveling bags, shaving outfits, and others too numerous to mention, are now on exhibition in one of the show windows of the Merrimack Clothing Co. in Merrimack street, and are attracting considerable attention.

The entries up to date for the various events number 55 and each contest, which has been sanctioned by the N.E.A.A.U., will be conducted under the rules of that organization. There will be fourteen events and the clubs that will participate are the following: C.Y.M.U. of C.Y.M.U., C.Y.O.M., Cadets, Father Mathew's Temperance society of North Billerica, Sacred Heart Athletic association, and the Greek Athletic association.

About 12 individuals unattached have signed their intention of participating in the meet. The Greek club has entered 11 men, their biggest competitor will be Mike Reen, the well known athlete, who is expected to make a big showing in the weight event, which is one of the favorite events of the Sons of Athens. Sherburn, the fast marathon runner, has been entered in the mile and five-mile events. The meet will be brought to a close with a one-mile club relay race which will be participated in by the C.Y.M.U., Sacred Heart Athletic association, K. of C. and Father Mathew's Temperance society of North Billerica. There will also be a special 100-yard dash for the boys of the parochial schools. The meet will be one of the most elaborate ever staged in this city and should prove a big drawing card.

VICTIMS OF DROWNING ACCIDENT BURIED

The remains of the two last victims of last Tuesday's drowning accident in Tewksbury Centre were buried yesterday in the Centre cemetery. The funeral of Walter Penny took place yesterday morning from the home of his parents and a high mass of requiem was celebrated at the O.M.I. Novitiate chapel at 10 o'clock, the celebrant being Rev. Fr. McCoy, O.M.I. The choir rendered the Gregorian chant.

The funeral of Marshal Louis Smith took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, services being held at the home of the parents, the officiating clergyman being Rev. H. Mason of the Centre Congregational church. Both funerals were under the direction of Undertaker H. Louis Farmer of Tewksbury Centre.

Your Parents and Grandparents as a rule, believed in doctoring with nature's remedy, the life giving extracts of leaves, roots and herbs, and you must admit that a very large majority of them lived to a ripe old age; the same treatment that kept them so well and vigorous will keep you the same.

SEVEN BARKS is made from the extracts of several different kinds of leaves, roots and herbs, and has for nearly 50 years been recognized as the most reliable remedy for correcting and preventing disturbances of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Get the stomach and bowels working right and most other ailments will vanish. SEVEN BARKS restores a healthy, natural bowel action, in most cases, it promotes appetite, and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It also acts on the liver and kidneys, failure of these to act properly allows the whole body to be poisoned and brings about other complications.

The principal cause of backaches is the kidneys when they don't perform their duty, and if not flushed and the poisons thrown off, serious trouble will happen. SEVEN BARKS will not only relieve kidney troubles, but keeps your stomach in good condition and your liver active.

Ask your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. If he does not have it he will get it for you.—Adv.

MEMBER OF THE PANHELLENIC UNION

Mayor Perry D. Thompson will next Sunday afternoon become inducted as a member into the Lowell branch of the Panhellenic Union. The mayor was elected an honorary member of the organization in New York a year ago, but he will formally receive his certificates testifying to his membership at the Greek church here next Sunday. The Panhellenic union is a nation-wide organization composed chiefly of Greek residents of this country. Its purpose is to cultivate among its members and through them all Greeks in this country a spirit of friendly relations between Americans and Greeks. Dr. Demosthenes Generalis is president of the local branch.

GREEK COMMUNITY

All is in readiness for the annual election of the officers and directors of the local Greek community which will take place next Monday. The election will be held in the basement of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street. The polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 6 p. m.

The 105 candidates for the various offices, particularly the five aspirants for the position of president, are very active and it was stated yesterday that all intend to go all over the district today and Sunday, in an endeavor to hood their respective candidacy. The services of six police officers have been secured for the election and these men will serve in the polling place and immediate vicinity. The result of the election may not be made public until the following day, as the task of tabulating the votes will be a very difficult one.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—All of the property in this city of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, convicted draft evader and army deserter now in Germany valued at about $850,000, was seized today by Col. Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian. It consists of real estate and money on deposit in four local banks. The property was held by Mrs. Emma C. It is the first seizure since June, 1919.

New Weapon Developed By U. S. Army

ROCK ISLAND, ILL., May 27.—The United States army has developed a .50 calibre machine gun capable of firing a bullet which at 200 yards will penetrate the one-inch armor plate of battle trucks, Major Lee O. Wright, army ordnance department, announced today at the annual convention of the ordnance section of the American society of mechanical engineers at Rock Island arsenal. The new weapon is an outgrowth of the war when fighting tanks were armored to resist the .30 calibre bullet of the rifles and machine guns then in use. The .50 calibre machine gun fires a bullet weighing 600 grains, as compared to the 150 grains of the standard .30 calibre ammunition. The gun is modeled along the plan of the Browning machine gun developed during the war and weighs 65 pounds. The gun has a muzzle velocity of 2500 feet a second and an effective range of from 6000 to 7000 yards.

Prompted to do all in our power to encourage a universal observance of Memorial Day we are glad to extend WELCOMES to all people of Lowell and surrounding towns, who may have a desire to visit our Cemetery on Sunday next or on Monday, the 29th. No family among us is there, but that has ITS DEAD. Their presence in many cases may seem to be a burden, but the fact is that the Memorial Day is a day of our people's honor and the wish to COME and to see the dead.

NOTICE A number of our people are with us, and can be seen at a public reception.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Defendant Pays $100 Fine for

Illegally Keeping Liquor— Other Cases

Martin Sopel, recently fined $100 for illegally keeping liquor and granted a continuance to allow him time to pay, produced the money in court this morning and was freed.

Odette Rochette was found guilty of assaulting his wife. It was testified in his defense that the woman has kept late hours, declaring that she "would do as she pleased." The case was continued one month, in hope that the pair may become reconciled, and the family of six children be kept together.

The case of Benjamin Cohen, charged with assault and battery on Saul Schulman, youthful son of Morris Schulman, a local merchant, was filed today, after counsel for the defendant agreed to have his client pay the costs of the case and contribute $5 towards the medical treatment of Young Schulman. Cohen is a student of the Massachusetts College of Optometry, and in defending his action in striking the Schulman boy, alleged that his young brother had previously been assaulted by the boy.

Antoni Pypce, charged with drunkenness, had his case continued for a week to pay costs. His wife told the court of having left him, and being content with my disposition of the case, as long as he does not annoy her. The case will be filed when costs are paid.

The case of Louis Pafak, charged with non-support, was put over for three months to see whether he will faithfully continue the financial aid which he is now giving his wife.
